"Do not neglect to do good and to share what you have, for such sacrifices are pleasing to God."

Hebrews 13:16, ESV

"Do not neglect to do good..."

This is a direct call to action. Faith is not just believing; it's about living it out. Doing good includes kindness, serving others, helping those in need, encouraging, motivating...the possibilities are endless. In fact, we can all find something good to do every single day, no matter how big or small.

"...and to share what you have..."

God gives generously so that we can give generously and freely. Knowing that all we have is from Him for a purpose, it changes how we look at "our" stuff. We are stewards, but not all are faithful stewards. Sharing goes beyond money, we can give our time, resources, life giving words, abilities.

Our generosity should be our lifestyle, not a once in a while.

"...for such sacrifices are pleasing to God."

In the Old Testament, people offered animal sacrifices.

I'm glad we don't do that anymore.

Today

Our acts of love and generosity are the sacrifices that please Him.

It may cost you something—time, comfort, money—but that's exactly why it's called a sacrifice.

Let us help others with more than mere talk, let's put our talk to action.

Simple life applications:

Help someone without expecting anything back

Be generous even when it's inconvenient

Look for opportunities to serve daily

I know, I know, nobody likes homework, but this is the good kind.
