

OUR FARM

Located in Byron, IL, Bear Grains, a division of Gustafson Farms, is a local, environmentally-friendly source of grain for distilling. Our farm is four generations strong and committed to our family, our customers, and the land we care for.

We grow our grain in a regenerative farming system. This means that every year we farm the land, we leave it better than we found it.

Our commitment to the land has rejuvenated the soils. Because of this, the grain we grow is of the highest quality.

PRICING

Our loyalty pricing structure provides discounts at several different levels.

The farther in advance you forecast, the more money you save. There are significant discounts for forecasted bushels as compared to open bushels. Advance notice allows us to grow the exact amount your business needs. Open bushels are what we have in stock and includes storage cost and variability in the pricing.

All grain orders can be custom mixed to you specific needs. Blended and unblended are available, with discounts for unblended mixes.

GRAIN FOR DISTILLING

GOOD ALWAYS WINS.

FUN FACT

Grain from different areas of the world take on the flavor profile of that soil. The flavor of the grain that Gustafson Farms grows is exclusive to our farm, and very unique when compared to grains around the world.

OUR GRAIN

Since we farm regeneratively, our farm already produces a very high quality grain. On top of that, all of our grain is Non-GMO, sustainably sourced, and locally grown.

Our farm grows wheat, corn, rye, oats, and barley. Along with our traditional grains for distilling, we also offer specialty items such as ancient wheat and Indian corn. We even take orders for specific varieties of grain.

All grain orders are custom mixed to your specific needs and we are only a phone call away for any last minute needs.
