It is with great sadness that I announce the closing of my San Antonio therapy practice, not to be reopened. This abrupt action is being taken in response to the Coronavirus pandemic and the prediction of resurgence in the fall. My husband is in an advanced stage of an autoimmune disorder and at great risk if exposed to the virus. This dictates my decision. I will be caring for my husband and doing some video and telephone therapy from my home in Lampasas County. I apologize for disrupting our therapeutic relationship, and I will sorely miss seeing you in person.

Barbara and I will be available to hear your questions and concerns. Also, we can discuss continuing therapy options including referral to others for your ongoing care or my limited availability through video or telephone therapy.

I will look forward to hearing from you. Stay safe and know that your well-being is very important to me.
