

Letter: BLM movement isn't about black lives

News FOLLOW NEWS | July 30, 2020

Don't be fooled ... there is a difference between "black lives matter" and BLM. As decent, law-abiding Americans, we believe that black lives matter, we believe that all lives matter, but BLM is a Marxist political movement whose mission statement is to overthrow the government and destroy America.

BLM is choosing which lives really do matter, namely only black people killed by police officers. Why don't the black officers who have been hurt or killed matter to BLM? Why don't the black business owners whose properties were looted or destroyed matter to BLM? Why don't the black children gunned down and killed in the big cities matter to BLM?

Because the true purpose of BLM is not to end racism or police brutality, it is to burn down America, according to their leaders (three Marxists and a convicted terrorist, Susan Rosenberg). BLM is not a civil rights organization; it is a racist organization. BLM is not an organization that helps people; it is an organization that harbors a disregard for individuals' property and life.

People are afraid to confront BLM because it will make them look like racists, or worse, fear for their lives. In fact, BLM participants are the true racists and socialists who will stop at nothing to tear down our country. Support Black people, but denounce the evil BLM movement for what it is before the hate and destruction they cause is irreversible. Don't be fooled and don't be afraid!

Man, every day, it seems like the moderates and the people in the middle are getting fewer and fewer. I mean can people not agree with both sides with something, you can support the fight against racism and police brutality and the peaceful protesters but condemn the rioting, looting, defunding of the police, ACAB and left wing extremism. It seems like you can only be part of the extreme left or the extreme right and there's no in between. SMH. EDITED

Wow!! A hole lot of ignorance in these comments!! Just because somethings not an issue for you and you don't have the capacity to see things from their point of view because you don't have to deal with it, doesn't mean it's not real. If you find ways to justify systemic racism and prejudice you are in fact part of the problem!!

I dunno. I'm starting to like this Trump guy more and more with each passing day. Seems the Democrats have gone full potato head towards Marxism. Never go full potato head.

OMG 🤔

I'm from Russia and I'm learning political science. Therefore than I meet the phrase: "BLM is Marxist" I start to laugh. Good 🤔

By the way, I've thought that in my country people and children particularly don't figure out in political science. They think that Marxism is an ideology about overall equality (everyone must wear the same clothes, eat the same food and etc, support BLM and LGBTQ community). So sad agnise that this problem exists almost everywhere even in the USA. You should learn more about political science and above all figure out in principles of ideologies (for example again - Marxism). EDITED

Yeah the way people are protesting right now over a guy who pulled a knife and was wanted for sexual assault is just dumb, like I doubt the cop wouldn't of shot him if he were white, they make everything about race and racism when it's them that are racist and make every single thing about race. I remember that time they protested again a cop who shot a black dude who was pointing a gun at his partner like how is that something to protest? It's like cops at this point need to lay down their guns get on their knees and just let ppl kill them, because they cant defend themselves or else they're racists, BLM has become such a disgusting movement it's nearly as bad as feminism, in recent moment I think it may actually be worse.

Honestly many black lives wouldn't have died if they we taught not to resist arrest. The founders of blm are going to cause more black deaths with their ideas of scrapping the nuclear family unit. They pulled their Mission Statement when that and their Marxist ideology didn't get them rave reviews!

I think, I hope, more ppl are becoming aware of what BLM actually is. Last week they burned a Black business owner alive (and recorded and bragged about it) who was trying to protect his business from being destroyed. All of the Black on Black murders don't matter to them, or the Mayor of Chicago for that matter. They stated yesterday that they needed to, "take our message into the suburbs". That's most of us. Our town loves our Police Chief and officers. It's fortunate that almost everyone in my town is able to protect themselves and each other. We have had town meetings about being prepared if BLM thinks to terrorize our people and businesses. It's terribly unfortunate that we have to. I don't think I have ever been more grateful for our second amendment.

Glad to see that others see past the veil. Just sad that they have to use the Black Lives matter in their mission. All lives matter period. WWG1WGA
