

Jeep Picture: I was jeeping along a dirt road in Vinh Binh Province on some sort of make-work mission for the provincial MACV headquarters and some local VC fellow trying to make a name for himself rose up out of a rice paddy and popped an AK-47 round through the windshield. Scared the Ba-Jesus outta me. Here's me pointing at the hole.

Water Buffalo: Met this guy on a rice paddy dike. One of us had to give way.

Mud Fort: A typical triangular mud fort in Vinh Binh Province down in the Delta. MAT 72 hunkered down at night with the local militia (PFs and PSDFs). If you're wondering, mud walls don't stop an RPG round.

Air Assault: Air assault up north in Two Corps. Photo sent to me by a frie

Second Looie: Second Looie (or a freshly minted First Looie) out on an operation with the village PF militia.

Airfield: Provincial airfield in the Delta. Can Tho, I believe. Note the PSP (perforated steel planking) runway and the C-130 rolling down the track.
