The population is becoming more health-conscious and looking for alternative options as well as organic. This is what attracts a whole new emerging segment of buyers to cannabis-infused beverages. This approach differentiates competitive pricing attached to traditional products and saturated options. This strategy also supports new employment opportunities and services comparable to what lounges, restaurants, bars, and night club would provide, like bottle service and mixed drinks. TC will also focus on consumption lounges, event, concerts, and "Cannabis Friendly Wine Country Tours," specializing in alcohol removed/cannabis infused wines from Napa Valley and California.

Napa Valley is the second most visited destination other than Disneyland, and it just so happens to reside in the heart of the The Emerald Cannabis Triangle.

Collectively, These counties produce more cannabis than any other place in the United States. The region also boasts some of the highest-quality cannabis in the world. Comparable to the credibility and capability of the world-renowned wine regions and terror of Napa Valley. Sacramento may be the capital of California, but the Emerald Triangle is the capital of cannabis, and Napa Valley is the most prestigious wine growing region in the world

The Trending Cannabis team is a conglomerate of mature business professionals and trusted leaders with a combined 40+ years in farming, viticulture, cultivation, production, distribution, and compliance, specializing in producing trending brands, produces, services, and experiences.

Trending Cannabis is an integrated company formed by CEO's who obtain every license, skillset, and required real-estate surrounding the cannabis, technology/entertainment, beverage, and farming/viticulture space. everything from the planning stages of crafting a cannabis-infused drink brand to formulation, regulations and compliance, branding, marketing, and the distribution of a cannabis drink product.

We have outstanding experts in their field to clarify and explain the whole process. No stone will be left unturned. Cannabis-infused drinks are not just the 'newest trending cannabis craze'. Studies show that in the US, consumers are steadily moving away from alcoholic choices.

Largescale Controlled Markets + fulfillment

Long-term opportunities and expansions will consist of digital content distribution, and content production, via Trending Cannabis Network. The Trending Cannabis Network is powered by Trending Entertainment

Some of the pilot projects will be streaming concerts and festivals focusing on all that's trending in this lifestyle industry. Custom packaged products will be produced that complement the event and/or festival itself. Trending Cannabis Network, will obtain wallets with compliant pay walls for purchase, acquisition, redemption, gambling/bets, etc. Outside of direct to consumer/controlled markets, we can leverage digital wallets attached to compliant paywalls with integrated entertainment to increase sales and awareness. We are not just distributing digital content globally; we are distributing the redemption & buy buttons to the masses.
