

Angel Wish Giving Tree

Hello, wonderful community! We are thrilled to share some heartwarming updates from our recent mission trip to Ghana this past September!

Thanks to your incredible support, Joan Sloan Ministries made a meaningful contribution of 500 to enhance educational resources at Susie Bray School. On top of that, we provided essential food supplies like rice and oil for their amazing feeding program, which currently nourishes 82 eager learners!

But wait, there's more! We have exciting expansion plans, and we need your help to make them a reality. One of the most pressing needs is a new bus, as the current one has sadly seen better days. Imagine the possibilities if we could provide reliable transportation for the additional 170 eager students in the area!

As the joyful Christmas season approaches, we are launching the Angel Wish Giving Tree, an opportunity to fulfill 82 special wishes for our students. With contributions of $20, you can bring smiles and joy during our Christmas program on December 18! Plus, we also sought support from our dedicated teachers looking for technology and educational resources to enhance their classrooms.

Every contribution is tax-deductible, so your generosity not only spreads joy but also has a meaningful impact. Let's come together this holiday season to make dreams come true for these wonderful students. Thank you for being a part of this journey!
