

International Collaboration

IdeasAmerica is one of the founding members of a global collaboration group that supports and enables ideas management within organizations and society. By collaborating internationally, we hope to increase the “value” placed on ideas management world wide.

Benefits

The benefits of international collaboration begin with an open exchange of ideas that generates new ways of thinking. By doing this, we learn to understand and embrace different cultures and mentalities leading to honest conversations and objectivity. These communications will help each of our ideas organizations stay up-to-date and fit for the future enabling a “joined-up” approach and philosophy to exist.

As we grow, we hope to create a “learning environment” that encourages sharing of experiences, feeling energized with new possibilities to explore, and overall support for ideas management on a global scale.
