Ages: 6-11

$100 per month for Mooresville Arts Family Members

Art is Visual Communication...the ability to show the world what we see, feel, and imagine in our own style! Artists are continuously practicing skills and mastering materials to develop our visual voice, so it is just as important to learn from the process of making something as it is from critiquing the finished product. I aim to help students find ideas that excite them, then plan and create in a way that brings out their voice and endless potential!

Throughout these 4-week sessions, students will learn and explore a combination of techniques in Printmaking, Painting, Photography, Drawing, and Sculpture. Each project will be personal, meaningful, and something to be proud to display!

Class Schedule:

- Session 1 – Tuesdays – January 5, 12, 19, 26
- Session 2 – Tuesdays - February 2, 9, 16, 23

Students will learn how to make proper edges, sewing techniques, painting techniques, and sealing requirements to make these special cloths last for many years to come. This is a technique that is as varied as it is functional.

This hands on workshop includes each student crating their own "small" cloths that can be finished in a day. Students will also learn tips and techniques, how's and why's to make floorcloths of any size.

Come, join the fun and leave with a beautiful addition for any room. The instructor will provide canvas, backing and sewing supplies, paints, stencils, stamps, sealer, and pictures. What Makes a Fine Art Photograph with Dick Handshaw – FREE Presentation

Photographed by
Jennifer Hastings

This presentation is FREE, but you must register to attend.

Sunday, June 13 from 2:00 – 3:30 PM

Last day to register 2 PM, Friday, June 11

Perfect for ages 13-100

There are at least as many definitions for what constitutes a "fine art" photograph as there are photographers. Let me offer this definition I found in an article, "first and foremost [fine art photography is] about the artist. It is not about capturing what the camera sees; it is about capturing what the artist sees."

We will start from here as we explore the history of photography and the great photographers in an attempt to determine for ourselves what really makes a photograph transcend a mere picture and become fine art. Please do bring your opinions and be prepared to share them. It is sometimes easy to just listen during a presentation, but be prepared to speak up! Bring an open mind as well and I can promise you an interesting and perhaps enlightening presentation.

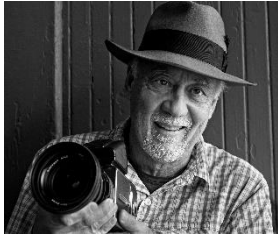

This free presentation is being held in conjunction with the Mooresville Arts Annual Photography Show. Be sure to walk the gallery before and after the presentation to experience the fine art photography in this show.

Strengthen Your Business Image Through Photography with Lisa Crates

Believe it or not, pictures really are worth a thousand words. And they stay in our memory a lot longer than words do. Photography for Business is designed to teach you how to take and use photographs as a marketing tool to make you shine above your competition. Learn how to make your business stand out visually and get people more engaged with your marketing message.

Bird and Wildlife Photography with Dick Handshaw

Wildlife and bird photography is a specialized form of photography that does require some special equipment and a few specialized skills. But it's not that hard to get good results if you know what to practice and have a little patience. It's not even that expensive to get started anymore! The class even includes an outing to the Carolina Raptor Center for you to practice your new skills.

Night Photography and Light Painting with Dick Handshaw

Night photography is not difficult, but is a little different from taking pictures with the aid of the sun. You have to find man made light or you have to provide your own light. Even more exciting is the art of Light Painting where you use flashlights and other tools to turn a dark scene into a work of art of your personal vision. The creative possibilities are endless.
