SUFFOCATION HAZARD

Ensure that the infant's face is above the fabric, visible and free from obstructions at all times. Babies at the greatest risk of suffocation include those born prematurely, those with respiratory problems, and those under four months of age. Ensure that the baby does not curl into a "C" position with the chin resting on or near the chest. This position can interfere with breathing, even if nothing is covering the nose or mouth.

Baby should not be too low in carrier, hunched with chin touching chest, or have his/her face covered or pressed tightly against the wearer.

Your baby's safety is your responsibility.
