Rotem Raz

Finance Consultant

Rotem Raz is a finance consultant at Ross Consulting, presenting a unique background in stakeholder relations, event management, and campaign finance. She has been active in the Florida political orbit through her time working with Governor Ron DeSantis's re-election team in the 2022 cycle, as well as statewide Israel advocacy through several non-profits and political action committees.

Rotem received her bachelor's degree from Florida State University in international affairs with a minor in law and philosophy. During her time in undergrad, she re-established NolePac, the premier pro-Israel organization at FSU, and interned at Capital City Consulting as well as the Office of the First Lady, Casey DeSantis.

Rotem is originally from Tel-Aviv and grew up in South Florida. She currently resides in Tallahassee, FL. In her free time, she loves Formula One, Pure Barre, and trying new restaurants.
