

Rev. Tatum Monique Osbourne

Rev. Tatum Monique Osbourne is an ordained minister of the Church of God Reformation Movement (Anderson, IN). A native of the beautiful island of Barbados, she was raised and educated in Brooklyn, New York.

Rev. Osbourne earned a Bachelor of Science in Psychology and a Master's in Applied Behavioral Science from Mid-America Christian University (Oklahoma City, OK).

Rev. Osbourne is a current Ph.D. student in the Counseling and Psychological Studies program with an emphasis in International Affairs at Regent University (Virginia Beach, VA), where her work focuses on the psychological effects of direct and indirect patriarchal bias and tools women clergy use to overcome these biases and excel in Church Leadership.

Rev. Osbourne is a sought-after itinerant preacher who travels the United States to share the gospel of Jesus Christ. She serves as the Executive Pastor of the Greater Jacksonville Community Church in Jacksonville, FL, under the leadership of her husband, Rev. Kevin Osbourne. Rev. Osbourne sits on the Presbytery Board of the Berean Fellowship of Churches (Columbus, OH) under the leadership of Bishop Timothy J. Clarke. She serves as the Church of God's representative on the Wesleyan Holiness Women Clergy Executive Board and the CWC Clergy representative. Rev. Osbourne is honored to be part of the James Earl Massey Center for Compelling Preaching's initial cohort of the Preaching Fellow.

In 2018, she became the first woman to preach at the national convention for the Church of God Reformation Movement Barbados in its 113-year history. She and her husband have been married for twenty-six years. They currently reside in Jacksonville, Florida.
