NEW MUSIC IN 2021!

First, we want to give a huge shout-out to you, all of our parents!

Throughout this past year, you have made amazing adjustments, prioritizing between work & school schedules for your family. On behalf of all of the teachers, managers, and staff, I want to sincerely thank you for allowing us to partner with you and serve your family with your child's music education. Over the past year we have learned a lot as well and have developed targeted solutions for our students. We have partnered with an amazing team of industry leaders, including award winning educators throughout the country as well as the prestigious, internationally recognized Trinity College London, to serve you and your family in the studio and at home.

M.A.P. - MUSICAL ACTION PLAN

Every student has unique musical goals. Performing on stage, preparing for the next audition, writing music, looking ahead towards college... to help meet these goals, we will map out a pathway together to see any and every vision come to life! Your students will be meeting with teachers this month to begin a full evaluation of their skill sets, define their goals, and create a plan with some specific steps over the next few months. Then, we will schedule a conference time for parents, students, and teachers to meet together, review the plans, and introduce our strategies and tools for partnering together in the studio and @home.

The T4-Music Mentor is a step-by-step video guide for beginner students to understand a specific instrument. Parents can now see EXACTLY what their child is working to achieve and can help with their success at home. We currently have over 3,000 professionally created videos that walk students and parents through all of the beginner steps with their instrument. We are adding content to our library and will soon have an even more extensive library on every major instrument!

RC THEORY I ❤️ MUSIC

RC Theory is now available exclusively through our partnership with award winning band director, Rob Chilton. Mr. Chilton has a fun and engaging video series to crack the music theory code! Current modules are designed for 1st year music students; however, all of our students have exclaimed how much RC Theory has impacted them at a foundational level. More advanced modules are currently in production and will be online soon. In the meantime, your teacher will be introducing RC Theory in your music lesson this month and helping all of our students read music faster, perform music better, and even learn to write their own music!

The Music Academy is now following the Trinity College London syllabus. This allows our students the opportunity to work towards PRE-AP and AP credit, which is the Advanced Placement credit in both music theory and the instrument of their choice. We are excited to offer a program granting AP accreditation for middle school and high school students that can be applied to their academic transcripts! Free evaluations will be available for all of our students. Your teacher can review the program details with you as part of your child's map options!

All of our new @Home products will be made available for FREE for our current students to explore with their teachers and parents. Starting in May we will be expanding our services to include these platforms for only $5 per month.
