PROFILE

High-energy and passionate baseball enthusiast with a strong background as a student-athlete, having competed and succeeded at the highest level. My lifelong dedication to baseball has shaped me into a hardworking, goal-oriented professional who thrives under pressure. I bring my love for the game to every aspect of my work, whether it's through pitching development, coaching, or player performance analysis. My athletic experience has instilled in me a deep understanding of the game, a strong work ethic, and the ability to perform in high pressure situations.
