The Formation of the Southern Appalachians & Its Influence on the Botanicals We Now Enjoy in the Mountains of Western North Carolina

The southern Appalachians were formed some 300 million years ago when the ancestral African continent collided with the ancestral North American continent. For tens of millions of years the African continent pushed under and upward on the North American continent forming what we now know as the southern Appalachians. Experts estimate that these mountains originally exceeded 20,000 feet in elevation, perhaps some peaks higher than the very highest we know on earth at present. Over time the mountains have eroded. Today in western North Carolina there are 43 peaks over 6000 feet and 82 peaks between 5000 & 6000 feet in elevation.

Specific to the botanicals of this area today. At elevations ranging from 1500 feet to elevations in excess of 5500 feet you will encounter at least 5 different natural plant communities. Some plants live in only one of the communities while others are common to several of them. There is about 3 degrees of temperature change per 1000 feet of elevation change which greatly influences the uniqueness of each plant community. The 5 plant communities are as follows:

- Cove Hardwood Forest Community (ranges from 1500 - 4500 feet elevation)
- Oak-Hickory Forest Community (below 3500 feet elevation)
- Mountain Bald Community (ranges from 3500 - 5500 feet elevation)
- Northern Hardwood Forest Community (ranges from 3500 - 5500 feet elevation)
- Spruce Fir Forest Community (above 5500 feet elevation)

The Spruce Fir Forest Community Makes it Christmas in July

The Spruce Fir Forest Communities of western North Carolina are actually very similar to the Spruce Fir Forests of southeastern Canada. Fossil evidence suggests the plants here are relics of the last ice age. Gradually, the growth of various species of plants advanced southward from Canada ahead of the glaciers. When the glaciers retreated about 15,000 years ago, some of the cold adapted plants were left isolated on the cool mountain summits of the southern Appalachians, forming biological islands.

I love being outdoors and I so much enjoy the beauty of western North Carolina. It has truly been an inspiration for my natural & gentle pet bathing recipes. One of my favorite outdoor activities is road cycling. I have a lot of riding experience, including some racing in Europe when I was younger. Now I just enjoy riding the incredibly challenging topography here for fun & fitness. I have also come to love day hiking in the mountains that are now my home. Along the way I'm able to see & distinguish the various botanical communities. And although I'm able to recognize & appreciate the uniqueness of each of the botanical communities, for me personally, the Spruce Fir Forest Community is "King".

A very favorite day for me would be to bicycle on the Blue Ridge Parkway from about the north side of Asheville, through the Craggy Gardens area, to the entrance to Mt. Mitchell State Park and then finish the ride with the ascent to the summit at Mt. Mitchell (Mt. Mitchell is the highest point in the eastern United States at 6684 feet of elevation, its parking area at 6,578 feet). At approximately 3-4 miles from the turn off to Mt. Mitchell State Park, as you complete the climb out of Balsam Gap, there is an absolutely fabulous and breathtaking alpine venue where, even if it's July, you're able to smell Christmas Trees. Once at Mt. Mitchell's summit, a hike through the Spruce Fir Forest over to Mt. Craig (the second highest point in the eastern United States at 6643 feet in elevation). It's nothing short of incredible and it always reminds me to keep my focus on the natural & gentle style pet bathing products.

On a clear day the view from Mt. Mitchell's summit is quite spectacular. However at more than 1-1/4 miles in altitude even summertime bad weather can be quite dramatic & forboding and these conditions mild by comparison to those of winter. How specialized the botanicals of this community must be in order to sustain & flourish.

Smoky Mountains Naturals Pet Bathing Collection

Made with Gentle Chemistry, Not Harsh Chemicals

In the last catalog I introduced “Jake” the cat in a new Smoky Mountains Naturals logo, he joined “Otto” the dog. Gradually the labels that pictured only Otto are being depleted and the new logo with both Otto & Jake are being printed. You will notice that many of the Smoky Mountains Naturals recipes already have the new logo. It made so much sense to do this because ten of the eleven Smoky Mountains Naturals formulas are both dog & cat compatible. The High Meadow Eucalyptus label will remain with Otto only as this recipe contains authentic Eucalyptus Oil & Tea Tree Oil. These ingredients are more likely to cause problems with cats and therefore we recommend High Meadow Eucalyptus for dogs only.

Smoky Mountains Naturals are specialty pet skin & fur recipes made from people grade ingredients. The shampoos produce soft, creamy lathers that rinse quickly. They cut grease without drying pet’s skin or bather’s hands, eliminating itching and scratching after bathing. Finished coats will be shiny, healthy & luxurious with a fresh, clean scent. Smoky Mountains Naturals are specifically pH balanced for pets and are non-toxic, biodegradable & cruelty free.

Top Quality Professional Pet Shampoos Including Two 30:1 Concentrates & One 64:1 Concentrate

Deep Forest Almond 30:1 Concentrate

Our most popular shampoo. It's a very gentle chemistry recipe general purpose, deep cleansing shampoo that is not at all stripping. You will find that it is quite conditioning to pet's skin and to bather's hands, even in severe winter environments. Deep Forest Almond has a fabulous lasting toasted almond aroma. It may even be used safely on kittens & puppies.

Doc's Medicated Remoisturizing Rinse 14:1 Concentrate

Doc's Medicated Remoisturizing Rinse will provide soothing relief to bacterial & fungal infections of the skin and offers appreciable residual time for added relief & healing. The special formulation also helps to re-moisturize existing dry skin conditions as well as dryness inherently caused by medicated shampoo ingredients used to remove oily scaling or dry scaling. Clean, non-medicinal aroma. May be used safely on cats or dogs.

Doc's Medicated Shampoo 14:1 Concentrate

Doc's Medicated Shampoo addresses three of the four primary external sources of itchiness. It removes oily scaling & dry scaling and it also soothes & helps heal itchy, irritated skin due to bacterial & fungal infections. Unlike tar shampoo, Doc's Medicated Shampoo may be used safely on cats as well as dogs and it has a very clean, non-medicinal aroma. The fourth external cause of itchiness is fleas & insects. This condition is addressed by using the Smoky Mountains Naturals non-pesticidal flea products, either the Especial Greene Solution or the Especial Greene Shampoo.

Especial Greene Solution 64:1 Concentrate and Especial Greene Shampoo 3:1 Concentrate

Extremely fast and effective formulations that will help to relieve and eliminate scratching, itching and further trauma due to insect bites, especially fleas, ticks & lice as well as other skin irritations. They are completely pesticide free and 100% non-toxic. May be used safely on kittens, puppies, nursing animals, in the presence of flea control products, during animal worming and as often as desired. Especial Greene Shampoo has a mild cleansing base that leaves the fur soft & shiny and is very gentle on both the pet's skin and the bather's hands. Especial Greene Solution is a highly concentrated version of the Especial Greene Shampoo however it contains very, very little shampoo base. Both products are clover green in color and have a spearmint fragrance.

High Meadow Eucalyptus 10:1 Concentrate

A deep cleansing, degreasing shampoo that exhibits excellent deodorizing qualities helping to naturally alleviate “doggie” odor and the stench of urine. It even helps quite well with skunk odor. Naturally occurring eucalyptus aroma, no added fragrance. The recipe is 100% pesticide free and even contains a small quantity of the main ingredient used in the Especial Greene Solution & the Especial Greene Shampoo. Authentic Eucalyptus Oil, which is naturally acidic & therefore beneficial to fungal conditions, combined with authentic Tea Tree Oil that provides soothing relief to bitten, irritated skin. Not recommended for cats or kittens.

New Antler Velvet Tearless 10:1 Concentrate

New Antler Velvet Tearless is a gentle tearless & hypoallergenic recipe. It was formulated especially for use on kittens, puppies or any pet with sensitive skin or allergies. Itching & scratching may be eliminated or soothing relief & improvement provided to conditions systemic in origin. It has a gentle, pleasant aroma and contains special ingredients that neutralize fragrance irritability.

Orchard Oatmeal 10:1 Concentrate

Contains a very fine grind of premium grade Emulsified Colloidal Oatmeal that remains in solution longer. The traditional & time tested therapeutic qualities of Colloidal Oatmeal will help to heal and soothe dry, itchy, flaky conditions. Non astringent conditioning peach fragrance. Orchard Oatmeal is also safe for use on kittens & puppies.

Vanilla Oatmeal Rinse 16:1 Concentrate

Smoky Mountains Naturals Vanilla Oatmeal Rinse will help to re-moisturize pet's skin & coat, therefore reducing itching and scratching. It's really nice on bather's hands too. Vanilla Oatmeal Rinse will also help to eliminate tangles, loosen shedding and reduce static. Finished coat will be light, soft and shiny. Lasting vanilla aroma. May be used on kittens, puppies, cats or dogs.

White Apple Blossom 30:1 Concentrate

A gentle whitening and brightening shampoo. It removes stains from white or light coated animals and even enhances coat color of dark coated animals with the addition of optical brighteners, yet contains no harsh bleaches, dyes or caustic whiteners. Like Deep Forest Almond, White Apple Blossom is a very soft not stripping shampoo that is very easy on pet's skin and bather's hands. Fragranced like a sweet red apple in summertime. May even be used safely on kittens & puppies.

White Tea Toilet Water

You know they love toilet water! Smoky Mountains Naturals White Tea Toilet Water is the perfect compliment for after bath, grooming or just as a freshen up. It has quick, sharp citrus notes in its front profile and subtle sweet floral tones as a pleasant background. White Tea Toilet Water is neither too masculine nor too feminine. May be used on cats or dogs but is not recommended for kittens or puppies.

Like Smoky Mountains Naturals, Conundrum Pet Products are made with a "gentle chemistry, not harsh chemicals" philosophy.

A brief statement about the product name. Ever since I introduced Conundrum Pet Products numerous clients have asked me about the product name. Why Conundrum? The answer, I did it just for fun. Conundrum (co-nun-drum), that which puzzles. You'll notice that the label design depicts interlocking jigsaw puzzle pieces.
