

What is LÉVYLEAN™ ?

LévyLean™ is a metabolic cocktail designed by Dr. Daniel Levy to facilitate weight loss by rebooting your body's natural metabolism. The key ingredients are a blend of B Vitamins and Semaglutide (SG). SG is a glucagon-like peptide (GLP-1) agonist approved by the FDA in 2021 as a treatment for weight loss. Studies show that SG reduces appetite and cravings in addition to improving blood sugar control

How much do I inject?

Start with an injection on your lateral abdomen of 0.25 mg (5 units) once weekly for two weeks, increase to 0.5mg (10 units) weekly for two weeks. Your syringes will be labeled #1-4 and you will start with syringe labeled #1. At the start of week #5 (month 2) this dose is increased to 20 units / 1mg weekly for four weeks, and then gradually escalated up to 48 units / 2.4 mg weekly, if needed, to reach max weight loss goals. It should be self-administered weekly on the same day, so we recommend setting a reminder in your phone to avoid missing a dose.

Side effects:

The most common side effects are mild nausea, mild heartburn and mild constipation. These are usually temporary and go away on their own.

If they persist, email us at hello@levyaesthetics.com

