 Noted days when black streamers will be hung. *The United States Flag can be used to express sadness at the death of an important person or group of people. This is when the flag is flown at half-mast or half-staff. In some situations, it is not possible to half-staff a flag -- for example, when it is permanently fixed to a staff or mounted to a wall. In that case displaying black ribbon streamer above a full-staffed flag is an appropriate alternative form of mourning.
