

Tucker Goebbels-Carlson

Telling The Truth Is Worth It, Even If It Comes At A Price. You Either Have The Courage To Say What's True, Regardless Of Consequences, Or You Don't

One Thing Is Certain, Tucker Carlson Speaks What He Truly Believes. And That's Exactly What We Need More Of In Media. Courage Is The Currency That Matters In The Current Age. Tucker Has That Courage, And It's Why So Many People Are Loyal To Him.

Tucker Is Not Just A Media Star, He Is Someone Who Truly Loves His Country. His Actions Clearly Are Not Animated By Power Or A Desire For Influence. He Is Motivated By His Patriotism, Compassion For The Cancelled Victims Of The Orwellian Thought Police, And His Desire For Our Nation To Return To Greatness.

Tucker Has The Unique Ability To Bridge A Seemingly Unbridgeable Generational Divide. Whether He Was Exploring More Complicated Topics Via Long-Form Documentaries, Interviewing The World's Wealthiest Man, Or Simply Telling The Republican Party To Get It's Act Together, People Of All Ages Tuned In.

He May Not Have His Same Primetime Slot Anymore, But It's Unlikely He'll Be Without Influence. He Hinted At His Future Plans In A Video Statement Earlier This Week That Amassed Over 17 Million Views In Less Than 24 Hours.

What's Becoming Clear Is That Media Landscape Is Changing, And The Federalist Needs To Train And Hire More Journalists Committed To The Truth. To Do That, We Need Your Support. While Big Tech Promotes Leftist Publications, The Federalist Is Shadowbanned And Demonetized On Nearly Every Major Platform.

Thanks To Our Supporters Like You, We Can Continue Delivering Needed Common Sense Conservative Viewpoints Into The National Discussion. If You Value Our Work, Join The Federalist Community For Only $4 A Month.

Sincerely,
Jeremy Crane (jeremy@thefederalist.com)

Business Development Associate

(Email Dated 28 April 2023 @ 4:29 PM)

[Ed. Note: I Trust That Someone In Tuck's Orbit Thought To Gift You a Voucher For A Complimentary Blow Job As You've Certainly Earned It!]