

Urinating On THE DONALD! arf! arf! arf!

"[Donald Trump Is A Consummate Narcissist And He Constantly Engages In Reckless Conduct That Puts His Political Followers At Risk And The Conservative And Republican Agenda At Risk.

"He Will Always Put His Own Interests And Gratifying His Own Ego Ahead Of Everything Else, Including The Country's Interests..."

"He's Like A 9-Year-Old — A Defiant 9-Year-Old Kid Who's Always Pushing The Glass Toward The Edge Of The Table, Defying His Parents To Stop Him From Doing It. It's A Means Of Self-Assertion And Exerting His Dominance Over Other People.

"And He's A Very Petty Individual Who Will Always Put His Interests Ahead Of The Country's, "His Personal Gratification Of His Ego."

"But Our Country Can't Be A Therapy Session For A Troubled Man Like This."

William Barr, Donald Trump's Attorney General

No, Argues Barr, Trump Is Not A Victim. The Charges Are Serious, The Case Is Strong. "All The Razzle-Dazzle About Trump's Supposed Rights Under The Presidential Records Act Is A Sideshow," Barr Writes. At It's Core, This Is An Obstruction Case."

Some Have Tried To Frame This Affair As A Simple Custody Dispute Over Documents. Trump's Apologists Have Conjured Up Bizarre Arguments That The Presidential Records Act, A Statute Meant To Prohibit Former Presidents From Removing Official Documents From The White House, Should Be Interpreted As Giving Trump Carte Blanche To Remove Whatever He Wants, Even It Is Unquestionably An Official Document.

These Justifications Are Not Only Farcical, They Are Beside The Point. They Ignore The Central Reason The Former President Was Indicted: His Calculated And Deceitful Obstruction Of A Grand Jury Subpoena.

“Former Trump Defense Secretary Brands Him A Security Threat.”

Esper, Who Served In Trump’s Cabinet, Said: “People Have Described Him As A Hoarder When It Comes To These Type Of Documents. But Clearly, It Was Unauthorized, Illegal And Dangerous.”... Tapper Asked Esper If He Thought That Trump, If Elected President in 2024 Could Ever Be Trusted With The Nation’s Secrets Again. “Based On His Actions, Again, If Proven True Under The Indictment By The Special Counsel, No,” Esper Said.

[Asa] “Ada” Hutchinson, The Former Governor Of Arkansas, Went Further, Calling The Allegations “Serious and Disqualifying.” “I Think That He Should Drop Out” Of The 2024 Race, Hutchinson Told ABC’s “This Week.”

Trump’s Former National [Security] Advisor John Bolton Calls The Indictment “Devastating.” “I Speak Here As An Alumnus Of The Justice Department Myself, Because Not Only Is It Powerful, It’s Very Narrowly Tailored. They Didn’t Throw Everything Up Against The Wall To See What Would Stick. This Really Is A Rifle Shot. And I Think It’s — It Should Be — The End Of Donald Trump’s Political Career.

Former Secretary Of State, Mike Pompeo. If The Allegations Are True, President Trump Had Classified Documents Where He Shouldn’t Have Had Them, And When Given The Opportunity To Return Them He Chose Not To Do That For Whatever Reason... That’s Not Inconsistent With Protecting America’s Soldiers, Sailors, Airmen And Marines. And If Allegations Are True, Some Of These Were Pretty Serious Important Documents.”

And Chris Christie, Who Briefly Headed Up Trump’s 2016 Transition Team Continues To Slam His Former Buddy: “Donald Trump, If You Believe What He Said When They Left, That Means He Didn’t Pick The Very People And Doesn’t Know How To Pick Personnel. If You Believe What — About Them What He Said At The Beginning, The Great Stuff, Then This Guy Is The Worst Manager In The History Of The American Presidency,” Christie Said Of Trump. “Either Way, Republicans Should Listen To What He Says. He’s A Petulant Child When Someone Disagrees With Him... If You Disagree With Donald Trump, The Petulant Child Comes Out And He Calls You Names,” Christie Added.

Per Charlie Sykes... Let’s Put This In Context, Shall We? As I Wrote Last Year, There’s No Precedent For A Twice Impeached, Defeated Former President Seeking To Regain Power. But This Is Also Unprecedented: No President Has Earned Open Contempt And Denunciation Of So Many Of His Inner Circle. And In Trump’s Case The List Of Those Who Have Broken With Him Now Include:

Vice President (Mike Pence); Attorney General (Bill Barr); Two Secretaries Of Defense (James Mattis, Mike Esper); Two Secretaries Of State (Rex Tillerson, Mike Pompeo); Two National Security Advisors (John Bolton, H.R. McMaster); Deputy National Security Advisor (Matt Pottinger); Two Chiefs Of Staff (John Kelly, Mick Mulvaney); Secretary Of The Navy (Richard Spencer); Communications Director (Alyssa Farah Griffin); Press Secretary (Stephanie Grisham); Cabinet Members (Elaine Chao, Etc.) And Personal Lawyers (Michael Cohen... And Counting)

Whatever They Might Have Thought About Trump's Election — Whatever Rationalizations, Wishcasting, Delusions, Personal Ambitions, Or Faustian Bargains That May Have Led Them To Serve Him — They Now Grasp The Consequences Of A Second Term.

And Right Now, The Binary Choice Is Not Trump Vs. Biden: It's Trump Or Never Again Trump.
