CORE COMPETENCIES

ATC Motion provides personally tailored healthcare services through highly trained and experienced professionals for federal government and military members.

By providing individually designed healthcare and wellness services based on the government needs, the federal employees and military members can concentrate on their respective mission while maintaining their performance, resilience and overall well-being at highest levels.

DIFFERENTIATORS SECTION

Experience: Healthcare professionals that become part of our team are specifically recruited based on their qualifications and prior experience in order to provide high quality holistic care to federal government employees.

Adaptability: All our services are specifically tailored to meet the evolving physical and mental requirements of military training and operations with room to expand and transform based on new needs.

Compliance: As a certified veteran-owned small business, we adhere to all relevant regulations and standards and ensure that all members of our team maintain their certifications and licenses as required by state and national agencies.

PAST PERFORMANCES

ATC Motion was established in 2023 by Certified Athletic Trainer who brings wealth of diverse experience gained through various roles in collegiate sports, professional sports, industrial settings, and direct engagement with US military units. The expertise skills developed in these environments uniquely position us to provide innovative and holistic healthcare solutions tailored to the specific needs of military units. The founder of ATC Motion has previously worked with US Airforce military members stationed overseas in creating and implementing new sports medicine program.

The services provided were designed based on the unit's needs and they encompassed general healthcare, well-being and injury prevention training for all military members to ensure mission completion without excessive interruptions from injuries or other physical ailments. In addition to the injury prevention training, assessment and rehabilitation of chronic and acute injuries was available daily for all members of the squadron thus ensuring faster care and recovery.

To further enhance the healthcare provided to the US government members, various local professional relationships were established between on- base and off- base medical clinics, sport massage therapists, strength trainers, chiropractors, mental coaches and nutritionists to ensure the medical care provided was holistic and all-encompassing in nature.

The final aspect of the healthcare plan created were educational workshops, classes and video channels with materials designed for self-care at home or while away from military bases. These instructional workshops and videos allowed for all military members to ensure further healthcare and well-being is achieved while traveling locally or abroad.
