about ABA

Did you know that Applied Behavior Analysis is not exclusive for those diagnosed with autism?

While ABA is the Gold Standard for autism intervention, ABA is an effective therapy for a variety of needs. This includes those with a diagnosis such as ADHD, anxiety, OCD, and those without a diagnosis: trouble staying organized, completing tasks, tantrum behavior, sleep issues, toileting, and more.

now this,

SHS is rolling out our new Parent Collaboration program for parents looking for support for their child utilizing ABA principles. An existing behavioral diagnosis is NOT required.

Parent Collaboration is designed to work with parents so that parents can work with their child. Our Board Certified Behavior Analysts will work with parents to develop individualized goals and interventions utilizing ABA principles. BCBAs will then teach parents how to implement programs with their child.
