"Dear children! I am with you for so long because God is great in His love and in my presence. I am calling you, little children: return to God and to prayer. May the measure of your [way of] living be love and do not forget, little children, that prayer and fasting work miracles in you and around you. May everything you do be for the glory of God, and then Heaven will fill your heart with joy and you will feel that God loves you and is sending me to save you and the earth on which you live.

Thank you for having responded to my call."

"Dear children, At this time, I am calling you to return to God and to prayer. Invoke the help of all the saints, for them to be an example and a help to you. Satan is strong and is fighting to draw all the more hearts to himself. He wants war and hatred. That is why I am with you for this long, to lead you to the way of salvation, to Him who is the Way, the Truth and the Life. Little children, return to the love for God and He will be your strength and refuge.

"Prayer and Fasting work Miracles"

We are so loved by Mary and the Father's sustaining love. God in Mary's presence is a great gift and proof of the reality of this message. Our way of living is to be loved. Mary calls us to prove that prayer and fasting work miracles in us and around us. Mary tells us that miracles come about when we live for the glory of God. YES!

Let everything we do be for the glory of God! Imagine what Mary is saying: Living for the glory of God allows us to experience heaven, as we fill our hearts with joy. Then we will find that our lives and minds ARE filled with joy and Mary promises even more. We will feel that God is around us and sending you and I to save each other and the earth on which we live.

Think what that means. We can no longer live the pessimism of today. People think negative about other people and the environment. How to solve these issues, escapes people today. With God, fasting and prayer, we can find solutions to these earthly problems.

Living for the glory of God; for God's transforming love IS THE POWER!

Mary's call to prayer for fasting with our brother and sisters is the formula for transforming our lives and our world and in reaching the glory of God, and then heaven will fill up your hearts with joy. With Mary's help, we can live more dedicated lives.

Thank you Mary!

Amen and God Bless
Love, Father AL

OCTOBER 25, 2020 Message
by Fr. Al Bermudez, OSSM

"Pray to the Saints for help"

Mary has been emphasizing God's message and why she has been so persistent with her call to prayer and fasting.

1) We are to listen to God and to pray fervently.

2) Mary is emphasizing to us to ask for the help of all the Saints to pray for us and lead us by their life examples.

Mary tells us about the purpose of her length of stay with her many years of messages to mankind.

Satan is strong and is fishing to draw all hearts to himself through war and hatred and everything evil.

Mary is with us to lead us to the way of salvation. Mary calls us to identify Satan's purpose and to remember the saying, "Know your enemy."

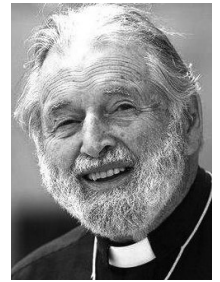

The answer to this is JESUS CHRIST because he is the way of truth and the light of salvation.

God says, "If we listen to Mary, she will steer us away from what is wrong and evil."

God tells us to reach to Mary for strength and refuge. Just like when you were a child and called out to your earthly mother for help and protection.

Amen and God Bless
Love, Father AL

THIS THANKSGIVING DAY

From the Reflections of Wayne White 9/27/15

Let's give thanks to the Good Lord for what He gave us here on the beautiful paradise He created for us here on Earth. And if I could give a gift to the people of this world "this Holiday Season" I would give them love for their God, and their love for each other here on this planet the Good Lord created for them here on Earth. I would give them Christ back in their Christmas, [and give them all] peace all over this world and good will to all who live here on Earth. Especially this Christmas Eve, [I will look at the stars] "that shine above me that night" I will pray to the Good Lord to bring all the service men and women in this world back to their love ones. "to spend this Holiday Season" this year, and all the years to follow. That there would be peace all over this world because of them and thank them for the sacrifice they gave to us and the freedom they gave us on this beautiful planet the Good Lord created for all of us here on Earth. I will pray, this Christmas Eve and all through the year for peace and harmony, with liberty for all on this beautiful paradise the Good Lord created for all of us here on Earth. But, most of all, I would put love - back in their hearts Love for God, and their love for each other, here on Earth. Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to all at Mary's Helpers, and to all your families I hope you accept this Christmas gift I give to you, I will pray that you spend the Holiday Season, In the Name of the Good Lord, and in the Name of Our Lord Jesus Christ. Amen.

From The Desk of FATHER PAUL BERGERON

Now that we are all enjoying much better weather with a little touch of fall in the air, there is I find, people are getting around more. After being stuck at home due to the pandemic, we are tired of feeling caged up like animals. Although not entirely free, we seem to now have a little breathing room. The freedom that Almighty God gives us spiritually is one that Mother Nature can't touch due to a hurricane, nor can any pandemic, no matter how bad, penetrate what is inside the soul. For you see God sees what man cannot. His ways are not our ways nor are our ways His ways. What God ask of us then is trust. Knowing that He is with us gives us the assurance of hope. To loose hope means that we are like the loose sheep going our own way only to find that as the good shepherd He finds and rescues us. Yes He left the ninety-nine to go after the one sheep that had strayed from the flock. We need to trust God because after all He holds all the cards. We need to be making our peace with Him because He will eventually be the ultimate judge of our souls. We cannot live our lives as though there is no tomorrow for if we do we have caved in to the temptations of this world, it will all catch up with us in the end. The big question is do we want all what the world has to offer for just a life-time? Or do we want what God has to offer us for eternity? It is our choice. It is the freedom He gives. This is called Free Will. As for me, I choose the latter because my trust in Him will lead to true freedom. Let us all be mindful of how a loving and good God He is and to always remember that we are all His children.
Amen - God bless you all - Fr. Paul.

CHAPTER THREE
 THE PROCLAMATION OF THE GOSPEL

189. Solidarity is a spontaneous reaction by those who recognize that the social function of property and the universal destination of goods are realities which come before private property. The private ownership of goods is justified by the need to protect and increase them, so that they can better serve the common good; for this reason, solidarity must be lived as the decision to restore to the poor what belongs to them. These convictions and habits of solidarity, when they are put into practice, open the way to other structural transformations and make them possible. Changing structures without generating new convictions and attitudes will only ensure that those same structures will become, sooner or later, corrupt, oppressive and ineffectual.

190. Sometimes it is a matter of hearing the cry of entire peoples, the poorest peoples of the earth, since “peace is founded not only on respect for human rights, but also on respect for the rights of peoples”.[154] Sadly, even human rights can be used as a justification for an inordinate defense of individual rights or the rights of the richer peoples. With due respect for the autonomy and culture of every nation, we must never forget that the planet belongs to all mankind and is meant for all mankind; the mere fact that some people are born in places with fewer resources or less development does not justify the fact that they are living with less dignity. It must be reiterated that “the more fortunate should renounce some of their rights so as to place their goods more generously at the service of others”.[155] To speak properly of our own rights, we need to broaden our perspective and to hear the plea of other peoples and other regions than those of our own country. We need to grow in a solidarity which “would allow all peoples to become the artisans of their destiny”.[156] since “every person is called to self-fulfilment”.[157]

191. In all places and circumstances, Christians, with the help of their pastors, are called to hear the cry of the poor. This has been eloquently stated by the bishops of Brazil: “We wish to take up daily the joys and hopes, the difficulties and sorrows of the Brazilian people, especially of those living in the barrios and the countryside – landless, homeless, lacking food and health care – to the detriment of their rights. Seeing their poverty, hearing their cries and knowing their sufferings, we are scandalized because we know that there is enough food for everyone and that hunger is the result of a poor distribution of goods and income. The problem is made worse by the generalized practice of wastefulness”.[158]

192. Yet we desire even more than this; our dream soars higher. We are not simply talking about ensuring nourishment or a “dignified sustenance” for all people, but also their “general temporal welfare and prosperity”.[159] This means education, access to health care, and above all employment, for it is through free, creative, participatory and mutually supportive labour that human beings express and enhance the dignity of their lives. A just wage enables them to have adequate access to all the other goods which are destined for our common use.

Fidelity to the Gospel, lest we run in vain

193. We incarnate the duty of hearing the cry of the poor when we are deeply moved by the suffering of others. Let us listen to what God’s word teaches us about mercy, and allow that word to resound in the life of the Church. The Gospel tells us: “Blessed are the merciful, because they shall obtain mercy” (Mt 5:7). The apostle James teaches that our mercy to others will vindicate us on the day of God’s judgment: “So speak and so act as those who are to be judged under the law of liberty. For judgment is without mercy to one who has shown no mercy, yet mercy triumphs over judgment” (Jas 2:12-13). Here James is faithful to the finest tradition of post-exilic Jewish spirituality, which attributed a particular salutary value to mercy: “Break off your sins by practising righteousness, and your iniquities by showing mercy to the oppressed, that there may perhaps be a lengthening of your tranquillity” (Dan 4:27). The wisdom literature sees almsgiving as a concrete exercise of mercy towards those in need: “Almsgiving delivers from death, and it will purge away every sin” (Tob 12:9). The idea is expressed even more graphically by Sirach: “Water extinguishes blazing fire: so almsgiving atones for sin” (Sir 3:30). The same synthesis appears in the New Testament: “Maintain constant love for one another, for love covers a multitude of sins” (1 Pet 4:8). This truth greatly influenced the thinking of the Fathers of the Church and helped create a prophetic, counter-cultural resistance to the self-centred hedonism of paganism. We can recall a single example: “If we were in peril from fire, we would certainly run to water in order to extinguish the fire... in the same way, if a spark of sin flares up from our straw, and we are troubled on that account, whenever we have an opportunity to perform a work of mercy, we should rejoice, as if a fountain opened before so that the fire might be extinguished”.[160]

194. This message is so clear and direct, so simple and eloquent, that no ecclesial interpretation has the right to relativize it. The Church’s reflection on these texts ought not to obscure or weaken their force, but urge us to accept their exhortations with courage and zeal. Why complicate something so simple? Conceptual tools exist to heighten contact with the realities they seek to explain, not to distance us from them. This is especially the case with those biblical exhortations which summon us so forcefully to brotherly love, to humble and generous service, to justice and mercy towards the poor. Jesus taught us this way of looking at others by his words and his actions. So why cloud something so clear? We should not be concerned simply about falling into doctrinal error, but about remaining faithful to this light-filled path of life and wisdom. For “defenders of orthodoxy are sometimes accused of passivity, indulgence, or culpable complicity regarding the intolerable situations of injustice and the political regimes which prolong them”.[161]

SAINT Charbel

The Wonder Worker of Lebanon

St Sharbel Oil now available at Mary's Helpers

By Ben Broussard Source: Crusade
The righteous shall flourish like a palm tree. He shall grow like a cedar of Lebanon. (Ps. 91:13)

FROM HIDDEN HERMIT TO FAMED MIRACLE WORKER

On July 24, 1927, two doctors with the French Medical Institute examined Father Charbel's body in detail. They drew up various documents which were submitted to the proper Church authority. Their testimony was signed in the presence of ecclesiastical judges and other witnesses. The body of Father Charbel was clothed in new priestly vestments and placed in a new coffin of wood covered with zinc. A zinc tube containing all the documents pertaining to his case was sealed with the remains in a new tomb. The monks built an oratory especially for prayer before Father Charbel's remains. His body lay undisturbed here for 23 years.

In 1950, Pope Pius XII declared a jubilee year. Pilgrims to Father Charbel's tomb noticed a liquid seeping from the tomb and flowing onto the floor. The superior ordered the tomb opened at once, fearing damage to the precious remains. The tomb was dry, except for the liquid that flowed from a crack in the casket. Permission was granted to open the casket. In the presence of Church authorities and physicians the seal on the casket was broken on April 22, 1950. The liquid composed of sweat and blood continued to flow from Father Charbel's body, which remained flexible and lifelike.

While the body was being examined, no less than 5,000 pilgrims each day were arriving at the monastery. On feasts and Sundays, the numbers exceeded 15,000. Many traveled from distant countries in anticipation of a cure or favor. In just two years after exhuming the body of Father Charbel, the monastery had collected 1,200 reports of miracles.

A SAINT FOR LEBANON Two of these miracles reported were accepted by the Sacred Congregation for Father Charbel's beatification. Sister Maria Kamary suffered from gastric ulcers for 14 years and was completely bedridden. Neither surgery nor medication brought relief. She could not eat and received the last sacraments on three occasions. Brought to the tomb of Father Charbel for fervent prayer, she was completely and spontaneously healed. Her doctor testified: "This was a supernatural happening which is beyond man's power to explain."

Mr. Alessandro Obeid was blinded in an accident when the retinas of his eyes were torn when struck by a tree branch. Brought to the tomb of Father Charbel, his sight was miraculously restored. After a thorough examination, his doctor concluded: "This can only be from an Almighty Will which operated only by divine grace. There is no other explanation and it is certain that we have seriously sought an explanation without finding one."

A third time Father Charbel's remains were exhumed in 1965, and once again they were found intact and secreting the same liquid. On December 5, 1965, Pope Paul VI presided at the beatification of Father Charbel in Saint Peter's Square.

For reasons known only to God, when Father Charbel's remains were exhumed in 1976 it was found that the body had succumbed to the effects of nature. Only the skeleton remained. This did not, however, stop the flow of miracles even for an instant. On October 9, 1977, Pope Paul VI canonized Saint Charbel. Bishop Francis Zayek, head of the U. S. Diocese of Saint Maron, said: "Saint Charbel is like a Cedar of Lebanon, standing in eternal prayer on top of a mountain."

MIRACLES AROUND THE WORLD

Since his death over a century ago, Saint Charbel has taken his place among the greatest miracle workers of the Church. Nearly every Catholic in Lebanon knows personally someone who has benefited from the healing power of this great saint.

In 1993, a 55-year-old woman from Lebanon named Nouad El Shami suffered paralysis on the left side of her body. After examinations, the doctors said there was no treatment for her condition. Returning home, Nouad later recounted a dream she had on the night of January 22, 1993. In the dream, two Maronite monks stood over her bed. One laid hands on her neck and operated on her, while the other assisted holding her pillow. When she awoke, she discovered two wounds on her neck. She was completely cured and could walk again without trouble. The next night, Saint Charbel appeared to her in her dream stating: "I did the surgery to let people see and return to faith. I ask you to visit the hermitage where I lived on the 22nd of each month, and to attend Mass regularly for the rest of your life." Since that day, the faithful fulfill this request and gather each month to pray at the hermitage.

Early in 2012, a 17-year-old boy from Venezuela named Hanna Jabbour went to the hospital to have the doctors examine large red welts on his legs. After running tests and consulting a specialist, Hanna was diagnosed with blood cancer. Young Hanna was given just six months to live. His condition prompted an extended stay in intensive care.

Hanna was in the hospital for 20 days when his uncle came to visit him. His uncle had returned from Saint Charbel's monastery and brought a photograph of the saint for his nephew. Hanna thanked his uncle and placed the photo of Saint Charbel under his pillow. When his visitors left that evening Hanna prayed the rosary and asked Saint Charbel for healing.

That same week Hanna's father was staying with him in the hospital room. He was awakened when Hanna complained of feeling something cold on his back. Hanna's father lifted him up and found the photo of Saint Charbel on his back, covered in fresh blood. Pulling the photo off, he was stunned to find that his son was not bleeding, having no cuts or bruises.

Immediately Hanna's father called for the priest. Within the hour the priest arrived, and on seeing the astounding event told them not to reveal the photo to anyone, but simply have the doctors examine Hanna. In the morning, the doctors ran new tests, and were astonished to find no trace of the cancer.

On leaving the hospital in perfect health, Hanna Jabbour showed the blood-stained photo to everyone and recounted how Saint Charbel had healed him. Even greater than this healing was the fact that Hanna's family members, away from the sacraments, began to lead devout lives once again and spread devotion to Saint Charbel.

PRAY FOR OUR COUNTRY

Mary, Queen of Heaven and Earth, Intercede for us, your children in America, as we pray for our nation, our military, and our families.

We pray for our government leaders, that they will make just decisions and govern us in accordance with truth and the principles upon which our nation was founded.

We ask protection for our military and our first responders. Bless them and their families as they sacrifice themselves to keep us safe.

We pray for our families. In a culture that seeks to destroy the values upon which the our country was founded, may our families be united in faith and charity.

Reclaim the U.S.A. for your Son's glory, that under His protection and guidance, we may stand together in faith and trust in Him for the changes we seek.

Saint of Miracles - Part 22 Recent Documented

Miracle No 45

The testimony in the following miracle involves miracle after St. Sharbel Feast Day

Miss Sally Abdo Chaaya was born in Deir ElQamar 1993 and worked as a lawyer. As she tells about her health condition attached to the medical reports: "In February 2020, I had a pain in my stomach for one week. I visited Dr. Rosette Daaboul in the Hospital, and after having done the necessary tests, she found an inflammation of the stomach and intestine. So she referred me to Dr. Geagea, who performed endoscopy for my stomach and intestine which found an ulcer in the intestine telling me that I suffer from Crohn's disease. He offered me a medicine that would accompany me for the rest of my life. To get a second opinion, I visited Dr. Philip Senior in the hospital at Mar Youssef Hospital, and after renewing the tests, he let my treatment continue and asked me to repeat the tests every two months. My inflammation had been increasing every month.

So I started praying to the Lord asking for the intercession of St Charbel to heal me from my chronic illness, and as well my mother and my family were asking for his intercession. On June 17, Saint Charbel appeared in my dream in this way: "I saw that I was in front of the monastery gate at night and I was screaming with a loud voice, so St Charbel opened the door and said Literally to me: why are you screaming? I am with you, but you are not! You: you don't go to Mass" and then the dream ended. The next day, June the 11th, I had the last examination, and I was waiting for the result. Finally, but on June 22, 2020 I took the result from the doctor who showed his amazement as the result came that the inflammation had disappeared. The doctor praised God for my recovery. "I went to the Monastery of St Sharbel and thanked him for healing me and the medical report and recorded the miracle on June 27, 2020.

Miracle No. 47 - - Ms. Claude Said Al-Khoury was born in Kafr Zabd 1973 and lives in Jbeil, a plastic surgeon. As she tells about her health condition attached to the medical reports: "I felt an external pain in the pelvis, so I visited Dr. Aboud. After laboratory tests, he scheduled a date, September 29th, 2019 for me to have a surgical operation to remove the cancerous disease from the ovary. Before surgery I dreamed, I saw a cup of yogurt in front of the picture of St Sharbel. In the cup I saw 3 Black points and a pinkish point. Ten days after the operation, I underwent a biopsy, and the result came back that I had cancer in the ovary, the bowel, and the urinary tract, and this is the interpretation of the three black points.

In this difficult stage, I prayed to St Sharbel asking for the grace of healing. The doctor decided to conduct 18 sessions of chemo before doing the surgery. After the ninth session, he asked me to have an MRI. The result showed the disappearance of the cancerous disease and the inflammation reduced. My Doctor, Marwan Ghosn, was totally amazed at the result and repeated the exams several times. During this time I never stopped praying and visiting the Monasteries of Saint Charbel and of Saint Rafqa asking them to heal me from my disease. Today I have come back to full health and I thank Saint Charbel for his intercession and healing. I went to the Monastery of St Sharbel with the entire medical report and recorded the miracle on July 14, 2020.

STRANGE LIGHTS IN THE SKY... THE SIGN?

By Mrs. Edna Corrigan

I was born in 1930, the seventh of ten children. We lived on a forty acre farm which supplied all our food. The winters in Michigan were sometimes brutal, but we were always prepared with everything ahead of time. We had a large garden and everyone helped planting and harvesting all the vegetables and canning fruit. My mother and dad were so patient, seeing that each one of us did our share of the work. There was always fun things to do if we had time after all the chores were done. Once in a while there would be a day that was not good, and I would feel bad. I would run crying, down into the woods. I had a quiet spot where I would sit and talk to the Blessed Mother. Although I never saw her, nor heard Her voice, I felt that She was there. In a short time, my problems were solved, and I would return to the house happy again.

In the summer time after dark, after our day's work was done, we liked sitting in the large front yard and hearing dad's Irish stories, and talking about our day's work and what we had to do the next day. We loved watching the "northern lights" and counting the falling stars. This one night we were watching and like an instant, the entire sky was covered with all colors of moving lights, with no set patterns, all bright and covering the entire sky! I jumped up and said, "LOOK AT THE LIGHTS!" Nobody else saw it! They all ignored what I said and remarked, "There isn't any colors up there!" I got scared and ran to our old Model T car and climbed into the back seat and hid! I peeked out every few minutes, and it was still there! Later, everyone would laugh and say I was crazy, and they didn't see any bright lights, which would make me feel sad. I was 8 or 9 years old at the time, and so many times I remembered how it looked and why my brothers and sisters didn't see it that night. I would think about it on and off for years later and felt afraid. A few years later WWII began! About sixty years later I happened to read "The True Story of Fatima," and that Blessed Mother had said, "When you see strange lights in the sky, that soon a world war will begin," I believe now, that this is what I saw. The Blessed Mother has always been a big important part of my life, and looking back, this event was a blessing for sure.

Ultimo Mensaje, 25. septiembre 2020

“¡Queridos hijos! Estoy con ustedes tanto tiempo porque Dios es grande en Su amor y en mi presencia. Los invito, hijitos: regresen a Dios y a la oración. Que el amor sea la medida de su vida y no olviden, hijitos, que la oración y el ayuno hacen milagros en ustedes y a su alrededor. Que todo lo que hagan sea para la gloria de Dios; entonces el cielo llenará su corazón de gozo y sentirán que Dios los ama y me envía a salvarlos y a salvar la tierra en la que viven.
Gracias por haber respondido a mi llamado.”

Ultimo Mensaje, 25 de octubre de 2020

“¡Queridos hijos! En este tiempo los llamo a regresar a Dios y a la oración. Invoquen la ayuda de todos los santos a fin de que sean para ustedes ejemplo y ayuda. Satanás es fuerte y lucha por atraer cuantos corazones sea posible. Quiere la guerra y el odio. Por eso llevo tanto tiempo con ustedes, para conducirlos por el camino de la salvación, hacia Aquel que es el Camino, la Verdad y la Vida. Hijitos, regresen al amor a Dios y Él será su fuerza y su refugio.

Gracias por haber respondido a mi llamado. ”
