Update from the CTK Call Committee

The CTK Call Committee has met twice and 3 more meetings are scheduled into January.

The first meeting was mostly organizational with significant time invested in process and the how it all works presented by our Synod Representative, Jennifer Arnold. Our protocols, rules and functional assignments were made and communications processes were ironed out. We are a diverse group in age, careers, length of CTK membership and personal interests in the selection of our next pastoral leader, yet we are charged with a unanimous selection process.

Our second meeting was spent discussing the creation of interview questions guided by the MET report which is now called the MSP or Ministry Site Profile as the Synod now titles it. We agreed that with a group of eleven we could not all ask all the questions but we would distribute specific interview subjects to groups of 1 to 3 persons based on the interest of the committee member(s). We also planned best meeting times and days when most if not all members could be present. For those traveling electronic or call in processes would be used to maximize attendance.
