Men's Bible Study

The men's Bible study, commonly known as the BBB, is alive and active after a brief hiatus for Covid Virus. If you, a friend, a neighbor or someone you know that lives far away has an interest we'd love to include you in our study on the first and third Saturdays at 0800. No Bible experience is necessary. All you need is a PC, an iPad, a smart phone and an Internet connection. We use Zoom for a virtual setting and it does not require any prior experience or software manipulation, though it helps to be familiar with emailing. There is usually no homework. I send out the study in advance. The study is most often from the lectionary and covers the three lessons that you would hear on the Sunday after. This is an informal group presently of 9-12 men from as far away as Texas. Boys are absolutely welcome, too.

If interested in trying it give me a call or an email. Please spread the word so we can spread the Word. We guaranty a welcome!
