

Mystic Monastery of St. John the Baptist of Monastic and Indigenous Healing

Monasterio Místico de San Juan el Bautista del Saneamiento Indígena y Monástica

The Mystic Monastery's purpose is: "To mentor, prepare, and equip future generations of Light Healers and Saints.

Welcome to the Mystic Monastery of St. John the Baptist of Monastic and Indigenous Healing (MM). This site is home, unquestionably, to a profound quality of nature, which pulses ancient spiritual energy dating as far back as 1200 AD. The traditions of that time regarded the Tanama River as the most sacred river in the Caribbean. Today, you'll find the Indigenous Ceremony Grounds museum at the river's head, flowing through the coastal plains 19.2 km until reaching the ocean. We embrace the gift to protect this land across 10,000+ acres, of which 6000+ is under our protection, the rest we lovingly tend to the Sacred Tanama River, and 990 acres is home to our building efforts.

It is located in tropical Puerto Rico Tanama River in the Caribbean.

Let us observe space. Not far from the Mystic Monastery lies the Arecibo Observatory, the world's largest radio telescope. Built to observe the expanding limits of deep outer space, the telescope is our neighbor, a beacon, and an ally. Our Mystic Monastery marks the building of a similar endeavor; however, our focus is toward the inward odyssey of the space within.

Mystic Monastery of St. John the Baptist of Monastic and Indigenous Healing

Photo caption Brown Area left of center is the Mystic Monastery protected area.

Another caption This the area chosen for a "medicine gardens" One from each continent.

Another caption This gorgeous Boa was one of the first spirit animal to welcome the pioneering monks.

I. Mystic

The significance of the word mystic is essential to acknowledge as we begin our work here. Mystic means empty. Empty of dogmatic theologies, ideologies and inclusive of all spiritual frameworks, MM encourages all to follow their intuitive path along with two crucial principles:

1. Know thyself
2. Be aware of energetic balance by doing onto others as you want to be done to you. (The Golden Rule)

In light of how we define Mystic, we enthusiastically claim copyright to the word, Mystix.

II. Monastery

This Monastery stands as a cloistered community of spiritually-minded people from across the planet dedicated to studying & fostering a passion for the inner life, healing, and aiding others in their journey for purpose.

III. St. John the Baptist

St. John the Baptist was a powerful, wise mystic who helped mentor Jesus and laid the groundwork for our hybrid healing practice. Like a cross between Monastic Healing (Light-work healing of gentle hand touch) and Indigenous/Traditional Healing (use of medicinal & herbal healing from nature), St. John was regarded as a wilderness doctor focused on empowering the patient with the knowledge to heal oneself.

Our name's anatomy holds the foundation for the teaching of the University and the healing practice of the Monastery. Another way to describe our practice is called the Law of One. It is the belief that we are all connected as part of a greater whole vertically and horizontally. Call it God, Consciousness, Creator, the Law of One, urges us to transcend dualities such as good/bad, heaven/hell, yin/yang, etc.

The Monks

Those who choose to participate in studying at the Monastery will be known as Healer Monks. Tucked between the hills along Puerto Rico's most sacred river, these individuals will embark on a journey to enrich their healing abilities, expand inner awareness, and build upon a sacred convergence of thousands of spiritual ideologies.

This exciting endeavor of listening, building, and collaborating knowledge from all major religions as well as traditional/indigenous healing practices will empower monks with critical tools to assist others in searching for purpose, clearing unprocessed emotions, and healing traumatic emotional and psychological wounds. One of our teachers, originating out of France, offers her time and knowledge at the Monastery, contributing her innovative teaching to mapping emotions and their effects on human glands, organs, and physiological systems.

In addition to hosting spiritual and healing teachers from around the world, we will also be providing grounds as a working "lab" or Sanitarium (a place in the country where one can recover from health/emotional challenges) and for those looking to continually refine their practice and expand their reach in the healing arts.

First Elders, Teachers, Deacons, Monks, and Father Adao was representing 4 countries.

The Mystix Experience

Remember, Mystic means empty. The Monastery's goal is not to drill a script or a single ideology or structure, but rather empower all to take a step back and embrace all religious, spiritual, and esoteric frameworks as cultural or historical lenses on the divine. Love is our way, and love makes no demand for control, categorization, or exclusion understanding the Law of One.

By immersing our study in nature, we're encouraging and continually reminding each other that we are all interdependently connected. It is essential that each individual takes ownership of "connecting the dots" for their own life in understanding the unique architecture of the creation we live in and how each person plays a specific role in this cosmic dance of life. It is up to each person to embody the lessons of two questions: What do you want to be more like? What do you want to be less like? Every person is responsible for finding and living their own truth.

We're confident in the outcome of participating and embarking on your Mystix Experience. Here is what you can expect from the Mystix Experience.

- An improved clarity of one's Self and your life
- A sense of greater command and excitement for your direction & future
- A renewed passion and energy for your goals and mission
- A more profound connection with your higher purpose and ability to see and appreciate meaning from the day-to-day to macro endeavors in life
- A restored, profound sense of hope

Due to the abundance of bamboo, we intend to use it in our architecture.

History of Graduation

Our students, also known as Monks, will embark on a life-long curriculum anchored on self-awareness and community. Graduation will be marked by the student's knowledge and understanding of the Law of One. Only a handful of mystics have graduated to the title of Ascended Master. One of the mystics, St. Germain, was one of the early spiritual souls to graduate who chose to remain on Earth to benefit humanity in aiding others on their journey toward spiritual ascension. It is said that St. Germain's spirit influenced the clandestine organization of the 13 colonies, translation of the King James Bible, and even the Constitution of the United States.

He continues to guide the global awakening we're witnessing as old models of education, government, religion, and the sciences undergo visible rebirth cycles. Our community will function as a beacon of light, education, and empowerment to help in St. Germain's vision of an awakened, aware, and loving world of Oneness.

Four Branches of Monastery Outreach

1. We will launch and maintain an online social network focused on providing a platform for lightworkers worldwide to share, learn, and grow their spiritual practice. The Mystic Monastery has the domain of OneTribe.Cafe for this use.
2. We will maintain a suicide hotline offering spiritually sensitive counseling and support for both practitioners and the general public.
3. We will extend select invitations to musical groups worldwide to perform at the majestic caves found on the property. Our concerts will use the power of music & community to help reconnect with nature.
4. On-campus Mystix playshops of guidance and training.

The Significance of our Work

It's impossible to ignore the global epidemic of suicide. One of our pillars will be to empower our Monks with profound tools to help lower suicide rates in our respective communities. Statistics now show that people are more likely to be a danger to themselves than all crime and wars combined. Additionally, some states in the US report the leading cause of death for teenagers to be suicide. Spiritually speaking, when a person considers suicide, it reflects their soul frustrated in its search for purpose. Our monks will be empowered with powerful, ancient healing technology tailored to helping others find their own way, reclaiming their agency and power from harmful pharmaceutical solutions.

Our practice is rooted in return to nature for life, healing, and connection. We will grow our own food, living sustainably and encouraging all to follow their own path by listening to the guidance found in the trees, flowers, rivers, herbs, and the pulsing information that surrounds us. The mystic road is not paved by books, strict frameworks, but rather intuitive teaching of nature. The natural route is an old way, providing a fresh approach to modern medicine.

Monks will help individuals reconnect with themselves and make sense of their own histories, traumas, and life experiences to reclaim authority over their own health, well-being, and life.

Closing

In closing, let us reflect on two compelling accounts of the profound light within us all:

"I began to experience feelings I didn't believe were compatible with a physical body, an immense expansion of my being, and a light, something like a star, came to me and allowed me to fuse with it. I felt love absolute and infinite peace, plentitude, an interminable orgasm that came not from my genitals but my heart and soul..."

-Unknown Source

"The dogmas of the past are inadequate for the stormy present."

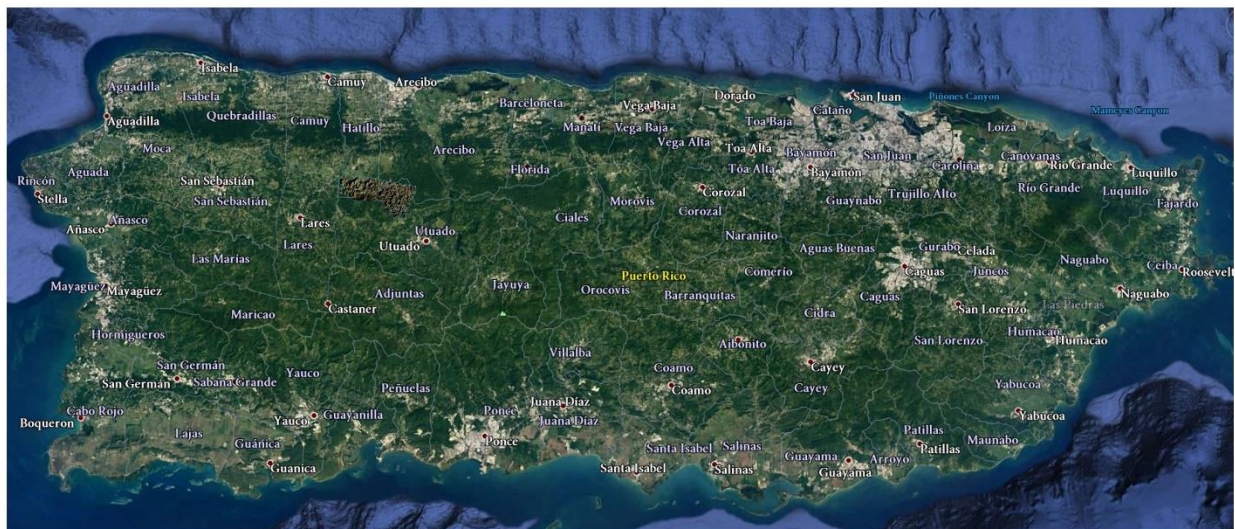

-Abraham Lincoln

In accord with one of our driving principles, "Know thyself," it is essential to take a moment to reflect on this outside of its traditional Socratic meaning of Self. Let's take our lens of interconnectedness with all life and ask ourselves, who really is Self? Can we build a university of thought, community, and practice to ripple across the planet, undoing separation ideas? Can we look deep within, past the noise, through the distractions, and beyond the mind's obsessions, fears, reservations? Can we see One? In observing space, beyond, and within, what is your mission here on Earth? What is the service you were created for?

Ways to participate in serving to make this ripple of consciousness forward in TIME.

As we clear damage from Hurricane Maria, we could use tools and equipment (tractor) contributions from $100-$10,000 can be made directly to a purchase. We could use volunteers in website management to account for volunteers on the grounds for mapping a food map of fruit trees, etc. Alternatively, maybe you would want to sponsor a young person to come and do labor. We are renovating an office for the Monastery 1500 sq ft in Lares, Puerto Rico, our local town, and new to purchase paint, lumber, and much labor. Soon we will need to purchase office equipment.

Thank you for your presence, energy, and participation here today. After all, we're all simply enrolled in the School of Life. We invite and are eager to partner with all who are interested in contributing to the Mystic Monastery. Whether you're interested in becoming a Healer Monk or can offer your talent, time thought, presence, or simply encouragement, we warmly thank you. Blessings to all!

To the left of the center of the island, you will see Utuado; this different land shades of green are the satellite photos' browner property.

All donations and contributions are tax-deductible donate with a receipt for your use.