In 1965, Jessie and Virgie Handsborough decided to open Virgie's Place. This quickly became the neighborhood teenager's spot for a good burger, music and fun. In 1975, the building was converted into a community grocery store, Handsborough's Grocery, until 1998.

In February 2005, the Handsborough's son, Adrian took a leap of faith and opened Virgie's Bar-B-Que. For over 20 years Adrian has been cooking "barbecue" for family, friends and especially his mother, Virgie, who taught him how to cook barbecue.

Virgie's Bar-B-Que is based on the belief that our customers' satisfaction is of the utmost importance. Our entire team is committed to serve you. As a result, a high percentage of our business is from repeat customer and referrals.

We look forward to serving you.
