

[REDACTED]

Financial Fraud Concern for [REDACTED] Individuals

1 message

[REDACTED]

Sun, Oct 22, 2023 at 7:56 AM

Peace and Blessings,

I write to you out of great concern for the church members and guests of [REDACTED] who could potentially be the victims of financial fraud related to a ponzi-like scheme Anthony Dewayne Curtis involved me in.

My concerns arose when Anthony mentioned to me on several occasions that there were individuals from [REDACTED] who had also invested with him into PAMM Forex Trading in a similar fashion as I did. Anthony confessed to me August 23, 2023 that I was strategically targeted and frauded out of a total of $40,000.00 where he was completely involved in two $20,000.00 transactions that took place, March 08, 2023, and April 26, 2023.

Being that I have an 18+ year friendship with him but was manipulated this way, I am concerned I am not the only victim. I do not aim to bring negativity to the [REDACTED]; however, I aim only to bring awareness and transparency so individuals are not impacted as I have been or worse.

I am your brother who renewed my faith at [REDACTED] many years ago and I am sure it should be in your records. I would be happy to discuss this matter and my concerns via phone call or whatever other means of correspondence as I am now living in the state of [REDACTED].

Thank you for your time and consideration in this matter.

[REDACTED]

Return of 20k Funds

Business Makeover <anthony@businessmakeoverllc.com>

Mon, Oct 23, 2023 at 2:42 PM

[Redacted]
Cc: Brendon Jackson <brendon@cre.credit>, [Redacted]
[Redacted]

To whom this concerns.

I received a call from my church and they have deleted the email that was sent and stated I am all good with them.

I now will be filing a police report for extortion and filing a lawsuit for defamation of character. This is not the way to handle this and you have now created an additional issue legally by how you chose to handle the situation.

See attached exhibits.

