MY JOURNEY

Home

Ré Slusher is a Catholic speaker, Marian consecration facilitator, and Director of the Catholic Center at the University of West Georgia.

Her journey has been anything but ordinary.

After surviving cancer and building a successful career in the personal development and leadership industry, Ré spent years searching for deeper meaning, truth, and belonging. She traveled internationally facilitating transformational experiences, leading trainings, and working with thousands of individuals in the areas of leadership, healing, and personal growth.

But beneath the success was a spiritual ache that the world could not satisfy.

In 2024, through a profound encounter with the Blessed Virgin Mary, Ré began her journey into the Catholic Church. What started as curiosity became conversion. What began as searching became surrender.

Today, Ré dedicates her life to helping others encounter the love of Jesus Christ through Marian devotion, discipleship, authentic community, and the beauty of Catholicism.

She now serves young adults, parish communities, women's ministries, and Catholic organizations through speaking, ministry leadership, retreats, and storytelling centered on hope, healing, and spiritual transformation.

Ré is a student of Mariology and is passionate about deepening her understanding of Mary's role in salvation history and in the life of the Church.
