WHAT PRINTING TYPE IS RIGHT FOR ME?

SCREEN PRINTING OR DTG?

Screen printing offers a great value on 1-3 simple solid color graphics on run sizes greater than 48 pieces.

Digital printing truly excels in cost and print quality on full color detailed images on short run orders 1 to 288 pieces.

IDEAL FOR SCREEN

1-3 COLORS
LOW DETAIL

IDEAL FOR DTG

FULL COLOR HIGHLY DETAILED

WHAT IS SCREEN PRINTING?

Screen printing uses a plastisol ink pushed through a synthetic mesh screen by a squeegee to print your image. A unique screen must be made for each color element of your design. The individual screens are then registered and printed layer by layer onto the garment. The final step is to cure the ink in a textile dryer, which bonds it to the shirt.

WHAT IS DIGITAL PRINTING?

Direct to Garment Digital Printing or DTG for short, is a printing technology that jets an eco-friendly water based ink onto the garment to print your image. The ink is bonded onto the garment by a pretreatment layer that is then cured in a textile dryer.

WHY CHOOSE GARMENT GEAR?

We've been designing & printing garments for 25 great years. During that time we've produced millions of shirts for thousands of clients and have continued to expand to offer you the best possible designs and printing.

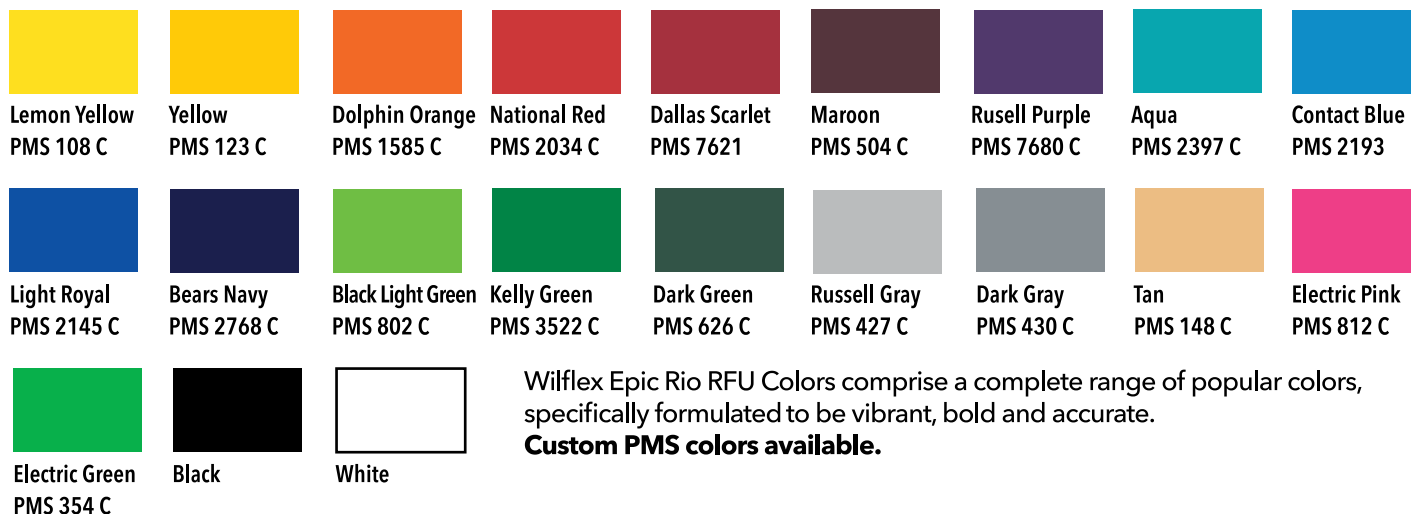

EXAMPLES OF DTG OR SCREEN DESIGNS

The images above are examples of what types of designs are the best use case for each printing method.
