Independent guidance, not a guarantee

The articles, tools, templates and other information published on this website are intended for general information and strategic marketing education. They do not constitute advice tailored to any particular business and should not be relied on as the sole basis for material business decisions.

Business and marketing outcomes depend on many factors, including market conditions, implementation, resources and decisions beyond Stodafin's control. We do not promise specific revenue, growth, search rankings, leads or financial returns. Examples and case studies, where published, are illustrative of the circumstances described and are not guarantees of similar results.

Accuracy and external links

We take reasonable care when preparing our content but cannot warrant that every item is current, complete or suitable for every circumstance. External website links are provided for convenience and do not imply endorsement or control of third-party content.

Engagements and intellectual property

Viewing this website, downloading a resource or sending an enquiry does not create a consulting relationship. Services are governed by separately agreed written engagement terms. Unless otherwise stated, original website content and Stodafin branding are protected by applicable intellectual property rights.

Your statutory rights

Nothing in this disclaimer excludes any right or liability that cannot lawfully be excluded under South African law, including applicable consumer protection legislation. Refer also to our Website Terms & Conditions and Privacy Notice.
