Instructor's Profile (partial summary)

5150 HEAT LLC - Firearms Training Academy has been training students in CCW and firearms in California since 1980. We are probably one of the longest running CCW and firearms training organizations in the State of California. Our company trains thousands of students each year.

The company was started by Ken 'KC' Clements, a retired Brea PD officer with more than 30 years of honorable and dedicated law enforcement service to the citizens of California and the nation.

I offer basic firearms fundamentals through advanced defensive shooting training on the operation of your personal self-defense handgun, shotgun & AR-15 carbine. I have been training armed civilians for over 43 years.

Most people come to my classes to learn basic firearms fundamentals then go on to learn Home Defense and Concealed Carry. I will certainly provide students with training that will be practical, relevant, necessary and simple to learn. The instruction is structured for husbands, wives, mothers, fathers, grandmothers, grandfathers, students, and scouts. We have taught students from 11 years old through 93 years young. Everyone deserves the opportunity to learn how to protect not only themselves, but also their family, friends and the innocent.

I strongly recommend novice shooters and advanced shooters take training from someone who has carried a gun for a living, has been involved in high-risk situations, and has been teaching for many years. When you choose a training company choose wisely, I have 43 years of experience in teaching, and I have been involved in numerous USE OF DEADLY FORCE incidents.
