The Harbor Institute Guide to Culturally-Based Fraternal Organizations is the only comprehensive guide that showcases over 200 CBFO organizations, listed by Race/Ethnicity, Religion, and Sexual and Gender Identity. Additionally, this resource includes the councils that serve them. Each organization listing is complete with founding date and location, mission, history, purpose and contact information.

This centralized resource is invaluable for campus-based professionals in student affairs, fraternity and sorority life, fraternal organization regional and national leadership as well as chapter advisors. For those who are unaffiliated, and interested in joining, we hope this comprehensive resource serves as a starting point in your research for you to make an educated decision about which organization is best for you.

Written by the experts at The Harbor Institute, an educational consulting firm based out of Washington, DC that offers services and products in the areas of leadership development, risk management, diversity, equity & inclusion, and cultural empowerment/competency.
