To whom it may concern,

Mark Schaufler has my highest recommendation as a presenter. Mark has been speaking to my health classes at Komachin Middle School for the last ten years. His presentations on Anger Management and Suicide Prevention have become the most important and valuable part of the mental health unit. Mark is an excellent speaker who can adapt and relate to any audience in front of him. He is extremely knowledgeable and experienced in the subject matter that he presents. Even with such serious topics as anger and suicide, Mark has a way of infusing humor and real-life stories to keep middle school students engaged and interested. I have students coming back years later who remember his presentations and the content. He most definitely has a positive impact on all of his audiences, presenting information in way that is easy to remember and internalize. Any group, class, organization would be fortunate to listen and learn from such a knowledgeable and inspiring speaker as Mark Schaufler.

Sincerely,
