To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to offer my highest recommendation for the Fentanyl Fathers, who recently visited Brandon High School to present to our students on the dangers of fentanyl poisoning and overdose. Their presentation was exceptional—both deeply informative and profoundly impactful.

The Fentanyl Fathers delivered real-life stories with honesty and compassion, providing our students with a powerful and personal understanding of the devastating effects fentanyl can have on individuals, families, and communities. Their use of factual statistics, paired with their lived experiences, grounded the presentation in both credibility and emotional resonance. It was evident throughout their visit that they are deeply committed to educating young people and preventing future tragedies.

Our students were fully engaged from start to finish. The speakers' authenticity and clarity allowed the message to truly sink in, prompting meaningful reflection and important conversations among students and staff alike. It is rare to see such a strong level of student attentiveness during an assembly, and it speaks volumes about the quality and relevance of the Fentanyl Fathers' program.

I would highly recommend the Fentanyl Fathers to any school, youth organization, or community group seeking an educational and eye-opening presentation on fentanyl awareness and drug safety. Their message is vital, timely, and delivered in a way that students genuinely connect with.

Please feel free to contact me if you have any questions or would like further information.

Sincerely,
