

To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to wholeheartedly recommend Jack Swan for their outstanding presentation on the dangers of fentanyl and counterfeit drugs, delivered to our students at SLAM! on the morning of October 27, 2025. As a Guidance Counselor, I had the privilege of observing this impactful session, which left a lasting impression on our student body.

The presentation was exceptionally engaging, capturing the attention of our students through its clear, compelling, and age-appropriate delivery. Jack Swan demonstrated a deep understanding of the subject matter, providing insightful information about the effects of fentanyl, the deceptive nature of counterfeit drugs, and the critical signs of both drug use and overdose. Their inclusion of practical guidance on how to help someone experiencing an overdose was particularly impactful, equipping our students with life-saving knowledge in a clear and accessible way.

A standout feature of the presentation was the thoughtfully produced video, which included short anecdotes from individuals of diverse backgrounds. This approach resonated strongly with our students, reflecting a variety of races and cultures and ensuring broad relatability. The stories of individuals closer to the students' age were especially powerful, making the dangers of fentanyl feel immediate and real. This connection was instrumental in driving home the presentation's message and fostering meaningful discussions among our students.

Jack Swan's ability to connect with a young audience, combined with their expertise and thoughtful inclusion of diverse perspectives, made this presentation not only educational but also profoundly moving. Fentanyl Fathers work has undoubtedly heightened our students' awareness of the risks associated with fentanyl and counterfeit drugs, and we are grateful for their impactful contribution to our school community.

I wholeheartedly recommend Jack Swan for any future speaking engagements or educational programs. Their professionalism, knowledge, and ability to engage diverse audiences make them an exceptional presenter.
