To whom it may concern::

Mike and his team began their presentation to the entire school with this statement, “this will be the 40 most important minutes of your entire school year”, and by golly they were right. Their message was so motivating, informative, relevant, genuine, and powerful. Not only did they share the raw emotion of the pain they experienced through the dangers of fentanyl, but they taught the students what to do in an emergency.

Anyone who brings the Fentanyl Fathers into their school will not regret it. However, they may regret it if they don't. There is no doubt that their presentation saved the lives of my students. I give them the highest recommendation one man can give.

Sincerely,
