

May the 4th be with you!

By Judith Cook

“May day, May day”
I hear you say, full of hope,
so let's all pray,
as the light nights continue to stay.

May you be happy
and a little less snappy.
Light up your life
to bring you less strife.

Live Laugh Love
n give yerself a shove
as we know he watches us from heaven above.

May the 4th be with you and your dreams come true, do not despair do not be blue this isn't the time for getting the flu.

Hay fever will play the diva in your eyes it stings n makes you cry looks as though you've got a sty.

Wipe your eyes n blow yer nose,
as we all say blimey stone the crows!!

May you blossom like the trees, walk and talk at your ease
but please,
Nay cast a clout till may is out!!!
