

BARSB&BEYOND

(TV show)

Preview here

Bars & Beyond is the new pulse of the culture. Bringing a fresh new take on all things hip-hop, while interviewing and critiquing the hottest artist in the game. This will sometimes entail the artists giving us a “Hot 16”, to see if they really have the “Bars”. The show is limitless and goes Beyond the. Bars when it tackles culture sports, relationships, and impactful events around the world. Hosts @DeMarco275 and @CourtneyLavette_ bring a much needed energy to the screen, with DeMarco’s cool laid back vibe and Courtney’s energetic and fun persona you’ll never get. enough and will be waiting for more. Join us as we kick off season 4 of “Bars & Beyond” with a new attitude, new look and all new distribution with “TPN The Producers Network” powered by the Roku streaming platform.

SPORTS • RELATIONSHIPS • RAP and much more

TPN Roku -streaming-

follow us @BarsandBeyond

BARSG&BEYOND

Meet the Host

Born Jason Duane Woodfork in Dayton, Ohio, DeMarco joined forces with childhood friend, "Snipes" to form the rap group "275" where they would later become Hit Squad members and record songs with major artist such as Scarface and Styles P from the LOX. The dual had a video on BET called "Move Sumthin" in the BET Uncut era and has been in the Source, XXL, Right On and other magazines. DeMarco also wrote the theme song for the Arena Football team "The Colorado Crush" as John Elway authorized it for their playoff run in 2006. Now he's the owner/host of the "Bars & Beyond" brand, the host & co-owner of Fly 93.5 Radio as well as the owner of NBL semi-pro basketball team "The Marietta Rockets". From rap artist to black entrepreneur, DeMarco brings the wisdom and charisma to Bars & Beyond with a true Midwest swag.

Courtney Lavette began her journey at Albany State University's WASU-92.7, a radio station that showcased new and old Jazz hits. Later she would go on to develop a 3 hour long show with 2 fellow students. To further her ambition, Courtney would then take part in the start-up of the popular online radio station "Highly Unique radio", there she would develop her own show "The Courtney Lavette Show" that ran from 2013-2014. Miss Lavette has worked countless red carpet events as well as filmed numerous celebrity interviews with media personality, Prince Carter, On my Hip Hop Ish and Live Hip Hop Daily just to name a few. With a passion for the culture of Pop and Hip Hop, you can catch her energetic and fun spirit as she is currently working with Fly 93.5 as co-host alongside creator and co-host DeMarco of the podcast Bars & Beyond.

Season 4! New look, new set!

Bars & Beyond

