Convention Table Displays

By Suzy Longberry

The recent National Fenton Glass Society (NFGS) Convention was a grand success, bringing together enthusiasts and collectors from all over the country. A highlight of the convention was the impressive displays of members' glass collections, each showcasing the beauty and craftsmanship of Fenton glass. Nancy and George Fenton, along with Anne and Max Blackmore, reviewed each table, offering their unique insights and knowledge about each collection.

Ed Tell Award

By Becki Ann Selby

This year, Ann and John Fenton were the recipients of our Ed Tell Award. This honor is awarded to people that go above and beyond in educating collectors about Fenton Art Glass.

Convention Seminars

By Becki Ann Selby

We had several interesting and very educational seminars during our 2024 Convention!

During their seminar Anne and Max Blackmore presented about Exploring and Expanding Fenton Rarities they showed several rare or hard to find pieces. Both spoke about where they discovered the items and included humorous stories about the discovery of some pieces.

Decorators Seminar

By Becki Ann Selby

One of the most popular seminars during our Convention is the Decorators Seminar. Convention attendees get to watch Fenton artists paint a special piece that is later sold during our Banquet auction. The artists talked about their styles, what they like (or don't like) to paint and share humorous anecdotes about working at the Fenton Factory.

And the Winners Are...

By Becki Ann Selby

As people entered the room for the annual meeting, everyone received a ticket for a drawing. Each year, we have two separate drawings, one for our First -Timers and the other for all other Conventioneers. The winner of the First -Timers drawing was William Often, the other winner was Stephen Embry.

Both prizes were Fenton rock paperweights with beautiful birds painted on them.
Congratulations to you both!!
