

FROM CHAOS TO CLARITY FROM SURVIVAL TO GROWTH

Chris Buckingham

Vision to Action Leader

From the Garage to the Boardroom

When his employer shut down overnight, Chris started a business in the garage; not because he had a master plan, but because he had to survive. Like most entrepreneurs, he poured in endless hours and energy, only to be trapped in the business instead of building the business.

What changed everything wasn't luck or a new product — it was leadership maturity. He created calm in the chaos — and built a company that scaled sustainably, leading to a successful acquisition.

Today, through SolveCXO, he helps founders and business leaders do the same: turning vision into action through disciplined leadership systems, values alignment, and momentum-driven execution. He shares that transformation — from garage to boardroom — and the leadership tools that turn chaos into clarity.

Why Leaders Book Chris

- “Chris is a CIO, CTO, CEO, CFO, and CSO all rolled into one.” — Anthony Molzahn, CEO, Devii
- “Chris is one of the ascending consultants in the IT channel.”
– Jonathan Browning, The ChannelPro Network
- “Chris is a visionary operator who consistently delivers strategic impact and operational excellence.” — Erick Simpson, CEO, MSP Mastered

Regardless of the audience, participants gain value to:

- Replace reactive chaos with scalable system
- Make values-based decisions that accelerate growth
- Implement KPI's and rhythms that increase predictability
- Create clarity and accountability across teams
- Shift from working IN the business to working ON the business

These are leadership skills that apply across IT, construction, non-profit, services, education, trades, and more.
