BAI CONSULTANT PACKAGE

CONSULTANT BENEFITS

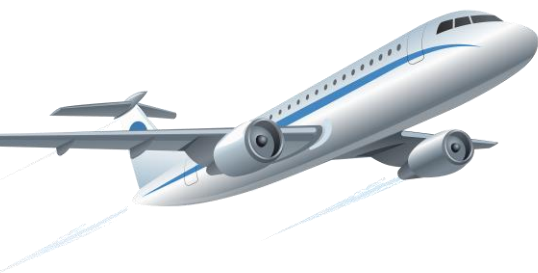

We are excited to bring you another great conference this year. We are committed to our mission to provide exceptional value to YOU!

Join us for 4 Days of Business and FUN in Orlando, Florida for our national conference where Consultants will have the opportunity to network face to face with up to 120 unique Franchise Brands telling their stories for you to learn and share, all in-person at one Orlando's most premier resorts.

Our event is All-Inclusive (other than hotel and travel) - every session and all meals included to maximize time to strengthen relationships with our franchise brands, resource partners and other BAI consultants during the event.

Our multiple networking events provide ample time to meet with all of our franchise brands. Participate in roundtables, take part in various learning experiences and breakout sessions and network during power hours, lunches, dinners and everything in between. We are committed to providing the maximum experience for consultants and franchise partners and therefore will limit total attendance and available tickets. This event is expected to sell out once again!

This event is another example of BAI's commitment to strengthen relationships with full participation of our consultants and franchise partners.

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

We are excited to announce this year's Keynote Speaker, Athlete and Businessman, Joe Theisman.

Joe Theismann is an entrepreneur and the former star quarterback for the Washington Redskins. Most recently, he spent the last 2 decades working for ESPN and the NFL Network as an NFL analyst.

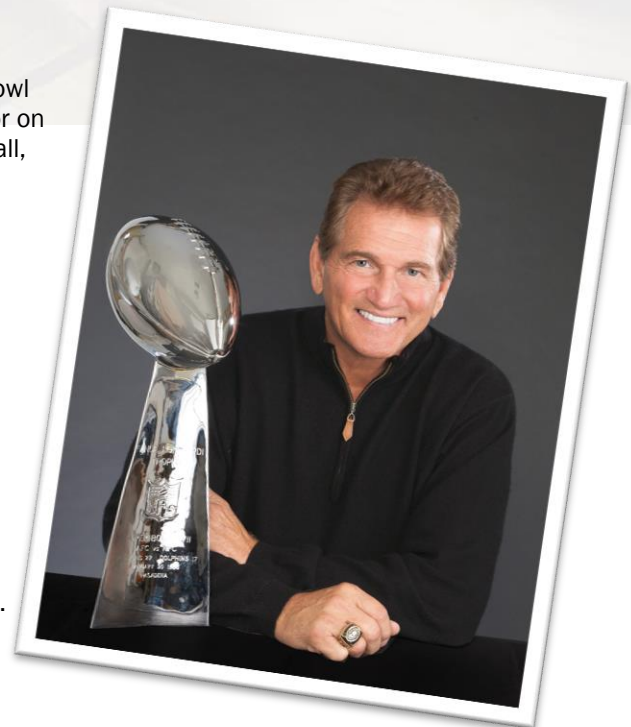

Joe graduated in 1971 from the University of Notre Dame, where he received All-American honors in both Football and Academics. That same year, he was runner up to Jim Plunket for the Heisman Trophy balloting. A 12-year NFL veteran, Joe played in 163 consecutive games from 1974-1985 for the Washington Redskins and holds Redskin records for passing yardage (25,206), completions (2,044) and attempts (3,602). He was a two-time Pro Bowl selection and Pro Bowl MVP leading the Washington Redskins to a 27-17 victory over the Miami Dolphins in Super Bowl 17. Joe was selected as the NFL's Man of the Year in 1982 for his community service and dedication to the health and welfare of children. Joe Theismann's career ended abruptly in 1985 after sustaining a badly broken leg during a Monday Night Football game against the New York Giants on national television. In 2003, he was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame and in 2013 received the Walter Camp Football Foundation "Distinguished American" Award.

With every chapter of his life, Mr. Theismann evolved from athlete to the ultimate businessman. An Emmy award winning analyst, businessman and athlete, he utilizes his gifts, talent and high energy to share his strategies for handling unforeseen change. Joe released his book "How to Be A Champion Everyday" in June of 2020.

In 1985, Joe broadcasted Super Bowl XIX, alongside Frank Gifford and Don Meredith, becoming only the second player to do commentary on a Super Bowl telecast while still an active player. Since then, Joe has been a commentator on a number of nationally televised NFL telecasts. In addition to covering football, Joe hosted the first half of the first season of American Gladiators in 1989.

Joe has done several TV and movie appearance, including B.J. and the Bear (1981), Cannonball Run II (1984), and The Man from Left Field (1993). He appeared as himself as part of a buyer group for the fictional "New York Hawks" football team on the TV series Necessary Roughness (2013) and on the post-Super Bowl episode "Operation: Broken Feather" of Brooklyn Nine-Nine (2014). His most recent acting appearances were in movies for the Hallmark Channel. In 2016, "Love on the Sidelines" he appeared as the father of an injured professional football player. In 2019, "Snow Coming", he played an agent for professional athletes (in particular, a professional football player).

Joe has acted as a national spokesperson for several companies including Colonial Penn Life Insurance Company, Super Beta Prostate and Medliminal.
