BIANH attempts to maintain current and accurate information and disclaims any implied warranty or representation of accuracy or completeness. Further, it is the discretion of the user to make decisions about appropriateness of services. BIANH neither endorses nor implies a recommendation; BIANH is not liable or responsible for any claim, losses, or damages resulting from its use of the agencies or services listed within this directory.

BIANH does not claim that this Resource Directory encompasses all organizations in New Hampshire servicing individuals living with a brain injury.

- All information specified under the Providers section is self-reported by the provider.
- Organizations, individuals and services listed herein are subject to change without prior notice.
- Organizations listed in this directory may have closed, reorganized, or discontinued programs/services for people living with brain injuries.
- To obtain the most recent information on listings in this book, contact the establishment directly and ask questions about the programs and services offered and the type of payment accepted.

We are pleased to present this Brain Injury & Stroke Resource Directory for individuals and their families who have had a brain injury or stroke. We hope the information contained herein will be helpful and informative to you and your family.

The process of recovery has no time limit. No one can predict precise outcomes for any individual. We can understand and appreciate the many questions and frustrations you face in dealing with the unknown. There are many suggestions about where to turn and who can assist during these trying times.

For family members, the questions may be equally challenging. How do we locate the resources that the survivor needs to enable recovery? How can we offer the best supports? How can we pay for it all? Who is going to sustain and support us as we travel down this road?

For professionals, there are questions about where to find resources, what to look for, how to be most helpful to brain injury survivors and their families, and other unanswered questions.

This directory is our 14th coordinated effort to answer many of these questions. Co-sponsored with the Bureau of Developmental Services, and supported by a variety of local providers, this directory has endeavored to include as many possible supports to people with acquired brain disorders as we are aware. It is intended to be used as a tool to better acquaint you with both the programs and the professionals who are knowledgeable in the field of brain injury.

Please note that this is not a comprehensive list of all available New Hampshire resources. We will have overlooked people, organizations, and agencies; it is our intention to keep updating this directory. We recommend that you consult with your physician for further recommendations.

The Brain Injury Association of New Hampshire maintains updated information and resources in the State of New Hampshire. BIANH is the leading comprehensive source of support, sharing, education, and advocacy for people with acquired brain disorders, their families, and professionals in New Hampshire. We urge you to be in touch with our Family Helpline – 1-800-773-8400.

UNDERSTANDING BRAIN INJURY

If you are reading this, most likely you, or someone you know, is now living with a brain injury or stroke either as a survivor who has experienced brain injury first hand, as a friend, loved one, or professional working in the field of brain injury.

You are not alone. Each year an estimated 1.7 million people in America sustain a brain injury, and in New Hampshire there are currently over 15,000 individuals living with brain injury or stroke. Nationwide, traumatic brain injury is a contributing factor to 30% of all injury-related deaths in the United States. Every day, 153 people in the United States die from injuries that include TBI.¹ Although estimates across analyses vary, it is generally thought that 75% - 90% of these injuries would be classified as mild traumatic brain injury.²

Not all outcomes of brain injury are immediately obvious, earning brain injury the status of “The Silent Epidemic.” In the hopes of preventing brain injury, education and awareness are ongoing across the United States through the Brain Injury Association of America (BIAA) www.biaa.org, and among individual state associations, like the Brain Injury Association of New Hampshire: www.bianh.org.

Brain injuries can vary from mild to severe with outcomes of short-term symptoms to life altering effects -- and for some individuals, brain injury leads to death. Survivors of brain injury may experience the impact of not being able to fully participate in their normal life's activities. Difficulties in concentration, memory, organization, managing multiple tasks, and relationships may become daily challenges. Cognitive deficits can lead to decreased abilities to live the pre-injury life they once had. In addition, individuals may now have changed personalities and behaviors that alter relationships with family, friends, and business acquaintances.

Causes of brain injury include, but are not limited to, motor vehicle crashes, sports injuries or concussions, falls, stroke, blast injuries from war, shaken baby syndrome, violence, brain tumors, anoxia (loss of oxygen), encephalitis, meningitis, poisoning, seizures, and alcohol and/or drug abuse.

Although brain injury can happen to anyone, at any age, social or economic background, there are certain groups of individuals that are more prone to acquiring them. The Center for Disease Control (CDC) reports as follows:³

Among TBI-related deaths in 2019:

- Rates were highest for persons 75 years of age and older.
- The leading cause of TBI-related death varied by age.
 - Falls were the leading cause of death for persons 65 years of age or older.

¹ For more information, please visit <https://www.cdc.gov/TraumaticBrainInjury/data/index.html>

² <https://www.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/pmc/articles/PMC4694720/>

UNDERSTANDING BRAIN INJURY

- Intentional self-harm was the leading cause of death for persons 25-64 years of age.
- Motor vehicle crashes were the leading cause of death for persons 5-24 years of age.
- Assaults were the leading cause of death for children ages 0-4 years.

Among non-fatal TBI-related injuries in 2019:

- Hospitalization rates were highest among persons 75 years of age and older.
- Rates of ED visits were highest for persons 75 years of age and older and children 0-4 years of age.
- Falls were the leading cause of TBI-related ED visits for all but one age group.
 - Being struck by or against an object was the leading cause of TBI-related ED visits for persons 15-24 years of age.
- The leading cause of TBI-related hospitalizations varied by age:
 - Falls were the leading cause among children 0-14 years of age and adults 45 years of age and older.
 - Motor vehicle crashes were the leading cause of hospitalizations for adolescents and persons 15-44 years of age.

Once a brain injury is identified, family and friends become an integral part in the life-long journey of supporting the survivor. Medical and rehabilitation terms are the new language that is spoken. Digesting information on the outcome of the brain injury, making the right decisions for accurate treatment for a successful recovery, acquiring benefits, planning for the future, and accepting this new situation can be very stressful on the survivors, their family, and friends. This directory lists resources which are available to New Hampshire families and survivors to use, as they navigate through the maze of services needed.

WHO WILL HELP AFTER BRAIN INJURY?

Members of the health care team will work together with the patient, family, and friends during the hospital stay. Care will be centered on the individual needs of the patient. Family and friends are important members of the team.

Patient: The patient is the most important member of the team. Care will be planned based on how the patient responds to treatment.

Family and Friends: You provide emotional support to the patient. Family and friends also provide the health care team with important facts about the patient's past history and can help watch for changes. Other team members will show you what you can do to help with the recovery process.

Doctors: Neurosurgery doctors are specialists who help determine the type of brain injury and its treatment. They may perform surgery on the brain. They will work with other doctors if the patient is in intensive care or has injuries to other parts of the body.

Nurses: Nurses check patient's vitals (temperature, blood pressure, heart and breathing rate) and watch for changes in strength and thinking. They help with daily care such as eating and bathing. Nurses also coordinate care among the members of the health care team.

Social Workers: Social workers provide emotional support to help the patient and family adjust to being in the hospital. They coordinate discharge planning, referral to community resources, and answer questions about insurance or disability.

Physical Therapists (PT): Physical therapists evaluate and treat weaknesses in the patient's strength, flexibility, balance, rolling, sitting, standing, and walking. Treatment may include exercise or instruction in use of equipment such as walkers, canes, or wheelchairs.

Occupational Therapists (OT): Occupational therapists evaluate the patient's ability to perform dressing, bathing, homemaking, and activities that require memory and organization. They provide treatment and/or equipment needed for safe, independent living.

Speech Therapists: Speech therapists test and treat speech, language, thinking, and swallowing problems.

Neuropsychologists: Neuropsychologists test thinking, memory, judgment, emotions, behavior, and personality. This information can be used to help guide treatment. It will also help determine the amount of supervision that the patient needs when they leave the hospital.

Dieticians: Dieticians assess nutritional needs. They work with the patient and other team members to help the patient meet their nutritional goals.

Other staff members may work with the patient and family. These include:

- Respiratory Therapists
- Activity Therapists
- Clergy
- Child Life Therapists
- Patient Representatives
- Vocational Counselors
- Music Therapists
- Recreation Therapists

WHAT IS THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN A TRAUMATIC BRAIN INJURY AND AN ACQUIRED BRAIN INJURY?

A Traumatic Brain Injury (TBI) is defined as an alteration in brain function or other evidence of brain pathology caused by an external force. A TBI is an injury to the brain caused by an external force after birth. Common causes of a traumatic brain injury include gunshot wounds, motor vehicle crashes, assaults/violence, Shaken Baby Syndrome, falling and striking your head, or explosive blasts (e.g., Improvised Explosive Devices).

An Acquired Brain Injury (ABI) is an injury to the brain, which is not hereditary, congenital, degenerative, or induced by birth trauma. An Acquired Brain Injury is an injury to the brain that has occurred after birth, and includes all types of traumatic brain injuries, and also brain injuries caused after birth by cerebral vascular accidents (commonly known as stroke), tumors, seizures, brain aneurysms, toxic exposures, encephalitis/meningitis, and loss of oxygen to the brain (near drowning, anoxia, hypoxic brain injury).

Injuries to the brain present at birth or progressive in nature, such as Alzheimer's or Parkinson's Disease, are not considered a traumatic or acquired brain injury.

NEW HAMPSHIRE MEDICAID

NH Medicaid is a federal and state funded health care program that serves a wide range of needy individuals and families who meet certain eligibility requirements. The program works to ensure that eligible adults and children have access to needed health care services by enrolling and paying providers to deliver covered services to eligible recipients.

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE SUPPORTS & SERVICES

COVERED MEDICAL SERVICES

Medicaid provides payment for health care services ranging from routine preventive medical care for children to institutional care for the elderly and disabled. The program also covers services for developmentally disabled individuals and persons with acquired brain disorders, as well as services at community mental health centers.

GENERAL REQUIREMENTS

Citizenship Status/Immigration & Identity: You must be either a US citizen or be a qualified alien and you must be who you say you are. There are some emergency medical services available for certain non-qualified aliens. Contact a DHHS District Office for more information.

Residency: You must live in New Hampshire, intend to remain in New Hampshire and not be getting medical assistance from another state. A student entering NH for educational purposes is not considered a resident of NH.

Age: You must be a certain age for some programs. If a program has an age limit, you must meet the age limit.

Social Security Number (SSN): Each individual requesting assistance must furnish an SSN or proof of an application for an SSN.

Financial Eligibility: Financial requirements are broken into two parts: income and resources. You must meet the program's resource requirements as well as the income requirements to be eligible for the program.

- Wages
- Self-employment income
- Rental income
- Social Security Benefits
- Veterans Benefits

We do not count all of your income because we subtract certain expenses from your total income. If, after subtracting your expenses, your total net income equals or falls below the monthly net income limits for the number of people in your household, you are considered income-eligible

Potential Income: You must explore and apply for all potential sources of income. For example, you must apply for the following benefits if you are potentially eligible for them:

- Social Security Benefits
- Retirement Benefits or Pensions
- Unemployment or Worker's Compensation
- Third-Part Medical Coverage
- VA Benefits (including Aid and Attendance)
- Disability Benefits or Pensions

Examples of resources are cash, bank accounts, stocks, bonds, some vehicles, permanently unoccupied real estate, and some trusts. We do not count certain resources such as the home you live in, your furniture, and some vehicles.

Family Support is cost effective in enabling disabled children and adults to continue to live with their families and reducing, postponing, or eliminating the need for more costly, long-term services. These services are those that are not covered by Medicaid and are effective in assisting parents and other family members to remain the primary caregivers for an individual living with an acquired brain disorder or developmental disability.

Respite, which is the provision of short-term care for an individual intended to provide temporary relief and support to the family, is also available. There are also contracted services for offering respite services to families of individuals with acquired brain disorders.

SERVICE DELIVERY SYSTEM

The Bureau of Mental Health Services provides statewide leadership of a high-quality mental health system that provides trauma-informed and evidence based practices for individuals and families affected by mental illness. The Bureau of Mental Health Services (BMHS) contracts with ten regional Community Mental Health Centers and Peer Support Agencies to provide comprehensive community-based mental health prevention, treatment, and recovery services. The BMHS also contracts with several Community Mental Health Providers for the provision of housing support services, NAMI NH for suicide prevention and peer and family support services, and four designated receiving facilities. This comprehensive system of care seeks to promote respect, recovery, and full community inclusion for adults, including older adults, who experience a mental illness and children with an emotional disturbance. New Hampshire's community mental health system is defined in NH laws and rules and valued by all New Hampshire citizens.
