Cablevision Comes To Helotes

The City Council in a series of meetings in February chose UA-Columbia and passed an ordinance permitting this company to provide cablevision for residents of Helotes. A spokesman from the company said it will be about 18 months before cables can be put in here due to the need to finish other area contracts.

Henry Crouse was elected to fill the vacancy on the Planning and Zoning Committee as a commissioner replacing Rev. Ed Jach, who resigned.

At a public hearing Feb. 9, Tom Powell, president of the Planning and Zoning Committee, reported that the request for a zoning variance at Circle A Trail and Bandera Road was denied. At present, the ordinance has all property not in use zoned as residential, including former business establishments.

Mayor Tom Beatty at the meeting Thursday reported on the meeting of the Council of Mayors. He said that the next City Council meeting will be Thursday, Feb. 25, at the PARC Bldg. at 7 p.m. although daily business is being conducted at the City Hall. Plans were discussed for absentee voting in the upcoming elections. Deadline for candidates to file is March 3.

Utilities To Pay Rebate

City Public Service electric customers in the Helotes area will share all the proceeds of a $7,281,558.50 check received this week from Mercantile National Bank of Dallas, trustee for the out-of-court settlement of lawsuits against the Coastal Corporation.

Under a formula approved by the CPS Board of Trustees, the proceeds from 1981 operations of the trust will appear as credits on bills of utility customers during the next 12 months. Allocated on the basis of use per month by customers and divided among nearly 355,000 electric and 269,000 gas customers, the credits will not reduce the average bill by a large amount each month. A residential customer having a bill of $76 per month will receive a total credit of $12.24 for the year.

"While initial information on the details of the distribution to Lo Vaca's customers is sketchy, it appears the money was derived from sale of some Valero preferred stock, dividends on Valero common stock, preferred stock and Coastal common stock and proceeds from the gas search program trust," said Howard Freeman, assistant general manager for finance and administration for CPS.

"All proceeds from the out-of-court settlement with Coastal are held by the corporate trustee, reviewed by the 200th District Court of Travis County and the 400 or more customers affected by defaults by the gas supplier on long-term contracts," he said. The check CPS received represents 17.5 per cent of the total proceeds for the past year, the proportionate share CPS is entitled to based on gas use in 1975.

Since January, 1980, when the settlement with Coastal became effective, CPS has returned $12,969,650 to its customers.

Grey Forest Utilities this week received $15,409 as its share of the settlement with Coastal. This will be rebated to those who were customers in the year 1975. The first check from Coastal was for $10,130, said Grey Forest Utilities manager Bill Muir.

Adoption Applications Now Open

Lutheran Social Service of Texas, a licensed, child placing agency, announces its semi-annual intake for couples interested in adopting infants. In March and September of each year, Lutheran Social Service of Texas opens intake for couples interested in adopting Anglo and Mexican American infants. Interested couples should telephone the agency during March at 227-8142.

Intake is open throughout the year for couples interested in adopting Black or bi-racial infants and school age children of any racial background. Information about these "special needs" children can also be obtained by calling 227-8142.

Hermann Sons Goal Is 80,000 Members

Growing with Texas, the San Antonio-based Order of the Sons of Hermann in Texas will launch its traditional spring membership campaign March 1 in 161 Hermann Sons lodges in 140 cities and towns across the state.

Louis B. Engleke of San Antonio, grand president, has named the special drive the "Big State" Membership Campaign and has appointed First Grand Vice President Hardy A. Mosel of Fredericksburg chairman of the statewide effort which will run through April 10.

Noting that the organization went over the 79,000-member mark at the end of 1981, Engleke and Mosel in a joint statement said:

"We hope all our members will join in this special campaign by taking early recruitment steps with their friends, relatives and associates. This would add to our present momentum and move us toward the 80,000-member mark within the year."

Hermann Sons lodges are well known for their many fraternal activities in their local communities. The Grand Lodge also sponsors 22 schools of dancing for its boys and girls across the state, maintains a home for aged members in the Hill Country near Comfort, operates a youth summer camp, also near Comfort, for 11 weeks each summer, and, as required by law, provides fraternal life insurance for its members.

Take stock

Preparing an inventory of valuable household items can save you time and trouble in the event of a loss.

• Make a list, room by room. Don't overlook the contents of drawers and closets.

• Take pictures. They make an excellent supplement to your written inventory.

• Save receipts for major purchases.

• Put the inventory and photos in a safe deposit box or another safe place. Give a copy to your insurance agent or representative.

• Update your inventory periodically.

Social Security Changes Reduce Some Benefits

Several important changes have been made in Social Security benefits by a recently enacted law, William M. Archuleta, Social Security district manager in San Antonio, stated. These changes include:

• Mothers' and fathers' benefits. Benefits to mothers and fathers who receive benefits because they care for an entitled child will end when the youngest child reaches 16. Under the old law, benefits ended when the youngest child reached 18. For parents entitled to benefits in August 1981 or before, the change will become effective September 1983. The change is effective immediately for those becoming entitled after August.

• Lump sum death payment. Effective for deaths after August 1981, the lump-sum death payment can be made only where an eligible husband or wife survive or there is a child entitled to benefits. Under the old law, the lump sum could be paid to the funeral home or the person who paid the funeral expenses if there were no eligible surviving husband or wife.

• Annual earnings test. The new law delays the reduction in the annual earnings test exempt age from 72 to 70 until January 1983, instead of 1982 under the old law.

• Month benefits begin. The new law allows payment of Social Security benefits to workers at 62 and for dependents of retired and disabled workers only for months in which conditions of eligibility are met for the entire month. Generally, this means that benefits would be first paid for the month after the month a person reaches 62. Under the old law, a benefit could be paid for the month a person reached 62, even if he reached 62 near the end of the month.

• Disability benefits. The change in the law concerns total income available to a disabled worker. Under the old law, a disabled worker under 62 who also received worker's compensation payments totaling more than 80 percent of his pre-disability earnings.

The new law makes 3 changes in this provision. First, the offset will also apply to disabled workers through age 64.

Second, the offset will apply to certain other disability benefits provided under Federal, State, and local programs and not covered by Social Security.

Third, the offset will apply the first month the worker receives both Social Security and the other public disability benefit.

This change in the law is effective for people who become disabled after February 1981 and who become entitled to disability benefits after August 1981.

More information about these and the other changes made in Social Security is available at the San Antonio Social Security offices. A free leaflet can be obtained which explains the changes in detail. The offices are located at 727 E. Durango, 1107 S. Gen. McMullen and 670 S.W. Military Drive and the telephone number is 1-800-392-1603.

Blood Donations Bring Honor For Residents

Betty Emerick, of Helotes, receives a plaque and congratulations from Dr. Norman Jacob, chairman of the South Texas Regional Blood Bank's board of directors. Emerick represented the community of Helotes at a luncheon honoring outstanding donor groups during National Blood Donor Month in January. More than 100 Helotes residents donated blood during 1981, far above the national average for the population.

One hundred and one Helotes residents donated blood in 1981. To show appreciation on behalf of all the patient's lives Helotes blood donors have saved, the South Texas Regional Blood Bank honored the community at a luncheon held in conjunction with National Blood Donor Month in January.

Betty Emerick represented Helotes at the luncheon held in San Antonio.

Groups sponsoring blood drives were the Helotes United Methodist Church and Our Lady of Guadalupe Catholic Church.

Nationally, less than five percent of the population donated blood, the reason blood always seems to be in short supply. "Communities like Helotes are an example of people sharing life through blood donations," said Thomas Williams, executive director of the South Texas Regional Blood Bank.

Helotes residents were awarded a plaque in recognition of their outstanding concern for patients suffering from cancer and leukemia, for people needing open heart surgery, and for victims of accidents and violent crimes.

The South Texas Regional Blood Bank supplies blood to 58 hospitals in 35 counties.

Hospital Foundation Names Chairman

Kurt A.J. Monier, prominent San Antonio mechanical contractor, has been elected chairman of the board of directors of Methodist Hospital Foundation.

Other officers are Richard M. Kleberg III, vice chairman, and Mrs. Leland L. Palmer, secretary.

In addition, five members of the board have been renominated to serve additional three-year terms: Monier, Dr. George Burkholder, Mrs. Palmer, Robert H. Seal and Dr. Leopoldo Zorrilla.

Monier assumes the chairmanship from oilman James C. Phelps, who headed the organization from the time it was founded in 1976.

Monier, president of A.J. Monier & Co., Inc., is a native of San Antonio and a graduate of Texas A&M with a mechanical engineering degree. His formal association with Methodist dates back to 1968, when he was first elected to the board of trustees. He served as chairman of the board from 1977-79 and is now a member of the honorary board. He is also a charter member of the Associates of Methodist Hospital Foundation, a group of major contributors, which was organized in 1978.

Monier also serves a number of civic organizations and belongs to many national, state and local professional groups.

Kleberg, a senior vice president of Frost National Bank, sits on a number of boards and belongs to many organizations in San Antonio and South Texas. He is a director of both the Kleberg First National Bank and King Ranch, Inc., chairman of the gift committee for the King Ranch Family Trust and president of the R.M. Kleberg Foundation.

Mrs. Palmer, born and reared in Oklahoma, has been a tireless worker at Methodist Hospital. She is on the board of trustees, belongs to the Associates, and is a life member of the Blue Bird Auxiliary which she served as president from 1963-65.

Other members serving on the 1982 foundation board are: John E. Banks, Mrs. Lloyd Denton, Wilber L. Fite, Dr. Robert Griffin, C.C. Gunn Sr., Charles Katz, James C. Phelps, Mrs. Reeves L. Smith, Edgar von Scheele and Mrs. Irene Wischer.

A $120,000 renovation of Methodist Hospital's lobby—a gift from the Blue Bird Auxiliary—has begun this month.

While the work is underway, the public entrance to the hospital has been temporarily relocated to the North Lobby which is near the maternity wing and closer to Medical Drive than the main lobby.

Blue Birds Aid Hospital

The Blue Birds' information desk, which supplies visitors with patients' room and phone numbers, has also been moved to the North Lobby.

The complete refurbishing of the main entry, including new ceilings, carpeting, furniture and a custom-designed, stained-glass mural, is expected to take from one-to-two months.

Congressman
21st District - Texas

Reports from Washington

Economic Program: On Target

During the recent congressional recess, I had the opportunity to travel and visit extensively with a broad range of people all across the 21st Congressional District. I found strong support for President Reagan and a sincere belief in the program for economic recovery. We have charted a course to correct our troubled economy and regain our prosperity. Given the time to work, it will.

A recent Sunday edition of The Washington Post confirmed what people at home have been telling me all along. A story by syndicated columnist David Broder on the continued popularity of the Reagan economic program in the Midwest said the President's bipartisan program "is still playing in Peoria." National polling data collected recently also confirms what we already know in the 21st District and throughout our region.

When asked to name the most important problem facing the country today, seven out of every 10 Americans gave a response relating to the economy. This result was nearly identical to a year ago when 67 percent cited some economic issues as the country's number one problem.

The poll was conducted at random among 1,500 people across America.

While concern about inflation and high interest rates are major issues, concern over unemployment has risen sharply. In January 1981, only 4 percent of the public listed unemployment as the number one problem; now, 17 percent consider dealing with this issue to be the national priority.

The findings also showed that while the public continues to be concerned about the economy, of more importance is the public perception of what the Reagan Administration is attempting to do about it.

Last January, prior to the inauguration of Ronald Reagan, only 26 percent of the people felt that things in this country were going in the right direction. Now, a year later that figure has nearly doubled. Generally speaking, 50 percent of the people said things were going in the right direction while 45 percent said the administration was on the wrong track. Just a year ago, 61 percent of those questioned were pessimistic about the country's economic direction.

On the issue of the economy in particular, nearly six out of every 10 Americans presently feel the program for economic recovery will help, not hurt, the national economy. This figure has remained high despite media reports of increased dissatisfaction with the program.

It is logical to ask, "If there is faith in the current economic program, why does the public continue to worry about the economic issues?" The figures show that two major reasons account for this.

First, the public does not feel that President Reagan's whole package has been enacted. Only 37 percent say the President has gotten "almost all" of his program passed, while nearly 60 percent feel only half or less of the program has been passed.

The second major factor is the amount of time the public was willing to let pass before making judgments about the effect of the program. Two-thirds of the public was willing to give the economic program a year or more before they anticipated seeing its effects.

In the meantime, the President remains highly popular. On specific characteristics — such as being effective, trustworthy and a strong leader — his ratings remain high. Over two-thirds of the public considers these to be "excellent" or "good" descriptions of the President.

In the 21st District we learned long ago that good things don't come easy. No one ever promised us we could reverse a half century of runaway government spending quickly. We have lived far too long with an artificial perception of good times and easy money that just wasn't there. We're having to pay for that now. But I firmly believe that given the time to work we will soon see the beginnings of a new period of economic health and prosperity.

Roadrunners To End First Season Feb. 27

The UTSA Roadrunners, who have won three of their last four games going into their tussle with Lamar in Beaumont on Feb. 17, will be wrapping up their first season of men's intercollegiate basketball this month. The Birds play four games in an eight-day span Feb. 20-27, to conclude the 1981-82 campaign.

UTSA's last two home games are set for Saturday, Feb. 20, against Louisiana Tech and Monday, Feb. 22, with Hardin-Simmons University. Tipoff time for both games is 7:30 p.m. at the Convocation Center on campus, where the Roadrunners have won six of their nine games played there.

Hardin-Simmons has two players very familiar to area basketball fans. The Vittatoe twins, Vern and Vincent, led John Marshall High to the state championship game last year. Now the Vittatoes play for the Cowboys, who will be meeting the Roadrunners for the first time.

UTSA's last two games of the season will be on the road against Louisiana teams. The Birds beat Southeastern Louisiana and Nicholls State in San Antonio earlier this month, but now they'll have to contend with those teams on their home courts. The game with Southeastern will be Thursday, Feb. 25, in Hammond. The Nicholls Colonels host UTSA two days later, Saturday, Feb. 27, in Thibodaux.

Trinity Sports Join NCAA Division III

Trinity University will withdraw from the Texas Intercollegiate Athletic Association (TIAA), effective August 15, 1982, University President Ronald Calgaard has announced.

The decision, under consideration for several months, will permit Trinity to diversify the nature of athletic competition by playing against schools from a wider geographical area.

"We value our participation in the TIAA for the last six seasons, and we wish the association continued success," said Calgaard.

The department of health, physical education and athletics made a thorough study of Trinity's athletic program last fall. Department Chairman and Athletic Director Dr. Robert V. Hockey recommended to the president and to the committee on intercollegiate athletics that the University withdraw from the TIAA.

"More interest will be created in our athletic program, and student participation will increase, if we broaden the scope of our competition," Hockey said. "In addition, we can now affiliate with NCAA Division III in the majority of our sports, which is more in line with the philosophy of Trinity's student-oriented athletic department."

Schools already scheduled to play the Trinity football team next fall are Colorado College, Colorado Springs; University of Chicago; Millsaps College, Jackson, Miss.; the University of Nuevo Leon, Monterrey, Mexico; and the University of Guadalajara, Mexico.

"The change in scheduling will be a plus in recruiting new student athletes," said Head Football Coach Gene Norris. "Cultural and travel opportunities for the players will increase."

University administrators are presently studying the formation of an NCAA Division III non-scholarship conference involving intercollegiate competition for both men and women. Trinity will continue to sponsor scholarship-supported NCAA Division I men's and women's tennis teams.

Before joining the TIAA in 1976, Trinity competed as an NCAA Division III independent. The other five members of TIAA are Austin College, Sherman; Lubbock Christian College, Lubbock; McMurry College, Abilene; Sul Ross State University, Alpine; and Tarleton State University, Stephenville.

Lady Roadrunners Return to Houston

The University of Texas at San Antonio Lady Roadrunners will close out the regular portion of their first season of intercollegiate basketball with two road games in the coming weeks.

UTSA was in Dallas Tuesday, Feb. 16, for a contest against Southern Methodist University. The game was the first meeting between the two schools.

The Lady Roadrunners face the University of Houston at Hofeinz Pavilion in Houston the following Monday, Feb. 22. Tipoff time is set for 7 p.m. The Cougars spoiled UTSA's home opener in November, so the Lady Roadrunners are familiar with Houston's great team speed and wide-open attack. The 59-44 loss to Houston is UTSA's most lopsided defeat this season.

The Lady roadrunners, 15-6 when they entered the North Texas State University Tournament Friday, Feb. 5, won't end the season with the Houston game. UTSA will play in the TIAAW (Texas Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women) state tourney to be held late this month. The top teams from the TIAAW tournament will advance to the regional playoffs in Lubbock.

The makeup experts at Cover Girl - with their gleaming new collection of eye, cheek and lip products - will help you achieve the soft, radiant glow that is the beautiful face of fashion '82. Here's how:

Begin with a fresh, glowing complexion. Easier than it sounds with Cover Girl Liquid Make-Up to give skin a soft, velvety finish and provide the right "background" for the colors to come.

Next, "kiss" cheeks with a gentle glow of color. Try a whispery shade of blush such as Mauve Mist in new Cream-On Blush. It's as much glow as color, just enough to enhance your face with a soft halo of light. Don't stop with cheeks; use the sponge-on applicator to trace a flattering glow along the hairline, along the outer curve of the ears, just at the tip of your chin. It's a young, pretty way to glow.

Make-up news for eyes is the look of transparent layers, a misty shimmer of light and soft shadows in subtle tints. Cover Girl Moisturized Eye Shadow 4 color kits will dazzle your eyes with beautiful shadow colors touched with a subtle sparkle of frost. And what's more, Cover Girl has done the work of color coordination for you. You have the

But soft doesn't mean blurry—a clear, perfect line is what you want and it's what you get easily with the unique slant-tip that helps you draw the perfect line to define a clear, perfect mouth—blushing with natural color.

At an organizational meeting Wednesday, Feb. 17, the Helotes Hills American Association of Retired Persons elected a slate of officers, with Mrs. Lula (Lou) Spiller as president. State and County representatives were Mrs. Adell Adams, State director, and Albert R. Newton, assistant State director and Bexar County Cities organizer for AARP chapters, who were present for the meeting held at the PARC Bldg. of the Helotes Hills United Methodist Church.

About 60 persons from the Helotes area were present and signified their interest in joining the association.

Other officers elected were Marie Parrigin, vice president; Evelyn Eismann, secretary; and Nora Nelson, treasurer.

The next meeting will be

Wednesday, March 10, at PARC Bldg. at 1:30 p.m., with the regular date set as the second Wednesday of each month.

Any interested persons are invited, Mrs. Spiller said, and they may contact the officers for more details.

Medical Center Seeks Remedy

Oral herpes is rampant in the United States, but scientists still are powerless to prevent its initial onset, or to clear the body of the latent virus.

Researchers at The University of Texas Health Science Center at San Antonio, led by Bennett Harber, D.D.S., are completing work on an animal model that they hope eventually will allow them to fight the disease in humans.

"Oral herpes, or 'herpes I' as it's now called, is most commonly found at the junction of the skin on the lip and the mucous membrane on the inside of the mouth," said Harber, who is assistant professor of dental general practice.

The term "fever blister" is commonly used to describe oral herpes lesions. Indeed, a fever or other illness which weakens the body can trigger the outbreak of one of the burning sores. The blisters usually last for several days and are extremely infectious during that time. Their cause is a virus from a family which also includes herpes II (the so-called venereal herpes), as well as shingles and chicken pox viruses.

"The initial onset of oral herpes may be mistaken for mononucleosis," Harber said. "It is painfully debilitating, and the lymph nodes in the body are swollen as occurs in mono."

Once oral herpes has infected an individual it never leaves the body, even when no sores are present, according to the doctor.

"The organisms go to the dorsal root ganglion in the spinal cord and lie dormant," he explained.

While the virus is dormant, it seems not to be contagious. When an outbreak recurs, it tends to occur at the same site on the body as before, Harber noted.

"Prior to coming to the health science center, I was in private practice in Austin," he said. "I had many patients with chronic oral herpes and after trying various treatments and medications, I realized that there was nothing currently available to help these patients."

"Herpes to my way of thinking, is just as dangerous as other diseases such as hepatitis," he continued. "I believe that the regular use of some medication should be able to prevent it. Although some people seem to have a natural immunity, herpes is rampant in this country and is more and more being associated with valvular heart damage."

Herpes and other viruses are resistant to antibiotics, Harber noted. "Antibiotics work on bacteria that normally keep viruses in check, with the advent of antibiotics, herpes probably has had a much better chance to increase," he said.

In their work the researchers are concentrating on controlling chronic herpes, since preventing the initial onset has not so far proved feasible. Using guinea pigs, the doctors are working to gain control of the herpes virus and bring it out of latency in the animals by means of ultraviolet light.

"We know that ultraviolet light in the form of sunshine can bring on an oral herpes outbreak in humans," Harber said. "We are using light as the irritation in the animals, hoping that we will be able to bring about a lesion at will."

"Once this is accomplished, we will begin testing various drugs and will begin testing human subjects as well," he added.

Working with him on the project are Kendall Smith, Ph.D., a microbiologist, and Robert Dale, D.D.S., both health science center faculty members.

What should a sufferer do until a method of control is found?

"There are many 'home remedies' that certain patients claim help them get rid of a lesion," Harber said. "The only general advice I would offer is to reduce stress in one's life and increase general resistance. Stress plays a part in bringing on herpes outbreaks as do insufficient sleep and inadequate nutrition."

UTSA Asks For Gifted

March 1 is the deadline for applying for the Gifted and Talented Student Program at The University of Texas at San Antonio set for this summer.

More than 100 qualified area high schoolers will be able to participate in the program, now in its third year at UTSA. Students will be offered the chance to earn four college credits in courses ranging from biology and psychology to literature and art.

Students are chosen on the basis of grades, standardized test scores, recommendations, statements of purpose and, in some cases, interviews and submission of materials indicating potential for the program.

Applicants must have completed the 10th or 11th grades by May 31 to qualify. Students who will not have graduated by May 31 and who participated in the 1981 program may apply also.

Classes will meet daily May 31 through July 2. Regular tuition and fees, as described in the university's undergraduate catalogue, are approximately $70, with a limited amount of financial aid available.

For more information, phone (512) 691-4224 or write to Dr. Kenneth Weiher, faculty coordinator, Gifted and Talented Student Program, Office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs, The University of Texas at San Antonio, 78285.

A NEW DIETARY SUPPLEMENT! SELENIUM, THE NEXT MIRACLE MINERAL!

SELENIUM may be the newest miracle mineral when used as a dietary supplement, and many doctors feel as that it is one of the most exciting breakthroughs. They claim its value may drastically cut the risk of cancer, heart attacks and possible slow down of the aging process, increase sexual health and functions, build up the body's immunity to infectious diseases, aid in retaining youthful elasticity in tissues, alleviate hot flashes and menopausal distress and also help in the treatment and prevention of dandruff.

SELENIUM is found in tiny traces in the body and works by reacting with oxygen to create a protective covering of the cell membrane that may reduce the chance of infection or disease.

At one time many Americans were getting an adequate supply of SELENIUM in their diets naturally, but pollution, rain and some fertilizing techniques have robbed the soil of the valuable mineral in most regions. Foods rich in SELENIUM are brewers yeast, whole grain cereals, seafood, liver, onions, garlic, eggs, tuna fish, tomatoes and broccoli. It is recommended that the daily allowance be between 50-100 micrograms of SELENIUM a day and should not exceed that amount. It is also noted that it works well with Vitamin E to prevent or at least slow down aging, hardening of tissues through oxidation.

CITY COUNCIL HOLDS "OPEN HOUSE"

Mayor Tom Beatty's wife, Margery, was on hand to greet the guests.

Mayor Beatty listens as a constituent asks questions about the future of Helotes.

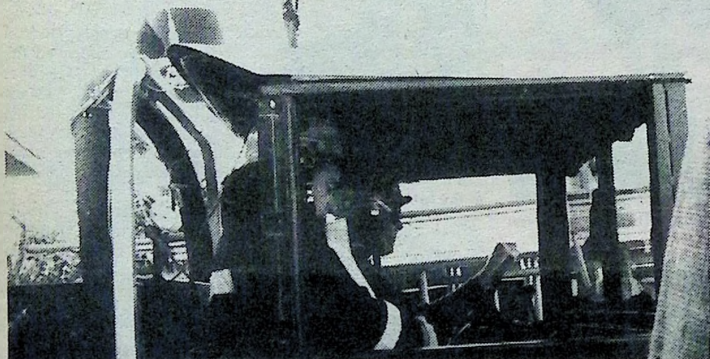

Councilman Verna Thompson, who was in charge of the open house, appears pleased at the turn-out.

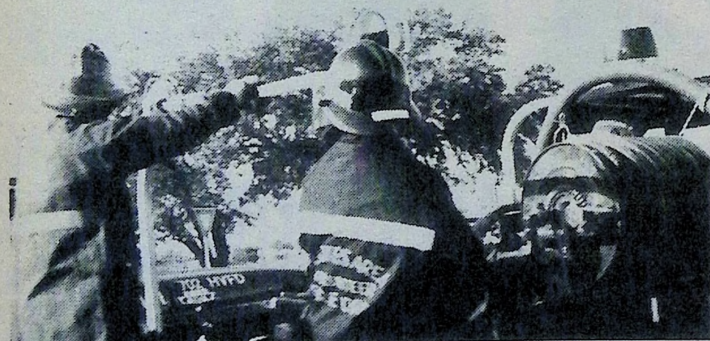

The citizens of Helotes and visitors from neighboring cities and towns toured the new temporary office of the Helotes City Hall, located in the Helotes Volunteer Fire Department Building Sunday, Feb. 7, and had a chance to meet the Mayor and City Council and Town Marshal.

For three hours the City Hall was a center of activity with refreshments also being served.

Some of the guests — also members of the Helotes Area Volunteer Department — had to leave in a hurry as a call came in for a brush fire which developed along the Bandera Road near 1604.

Here they pull-out ever on the alert for the safety of the community. An oak tree—leafless—proved the most in danger and the fire was readily quelled.

Wells Show Slight Drop

Following two months of relatively scant rainfall, all water levels and spring flow in the Edwards Underground Water District were down slightly at the end of January, the EUWD office has reported.

Comal Springs at New Braunfels dropped five cubic feet per second at the end of the month to a flow of 330 cfs, still above the long-term average of 299 cfs. San Marcos Springs declined 19 cfs to a flow of 141 cfs, which is below the average of 168 cfs.

Following are the water well levels shown in altitude above mean sea level with the alltime recorded highs in parentheses:

Uvalde: 881.3 feet, down 0.5 foot (886.3).

Sabinal: 806.2 feet, down 5.5 feet (835.4).

Castroville: 713.0 feet, down 3.7 feet (737.8).

Hondo: 745.8 feet, down 5.4 feet (773.8).

San Antonio: 676.4 feet, down 2.5 feet (696.5).

New Braunfels: 627.0 feet, down 0.3 foot (630.2).

Kyle: 580.9 feet, down 3.7 feet (593.8).

Teeth Talk

TOOTH FOOD

The first thing to teach your children about preventive tooth care is that good eating habits are important. Foods that keep the whole body healthy will also keep teeth, gums and jawbones in good condition. Milk, cheese, meat, eggs, vegetables, fruits, whole grain breads and cereals are excellent for healthy teeth and gums.

If your child eats between meals, remember that snacks should be LOW IN SUGAR. In-between-meal treats such as candy, cookies, ice cream, sugared chewing gum and sweet drinks may play havoc with a child's teeth. Bacteria which are normally present in the mouth combine with sugar to form acids — acids which attack tooth enamel. Eventually, it causes cavities.

When sweets are eaten between meals there is more apt to be a chance for cavities to develop, since the child will probably not brush right after — before acids have a chance to form.

Some toothworthy snacks for children are: apples, oranges, bananas, plums, peaches, fruit juices, milk and cheese. The greater distance between sweet junk foods and teeth, the better.

steak FACTS

It's said that each American consumes an average of 109 pounds of beef a year. In fact, one survey among teenagers listed steak as the favorite of 36 percent of them.

The world's most expensive piece of beef was a "beefalo." That's part cow, part buffalo and it brought $2,500,000 to a California man who sold it in 1974.

Although we all realize that steak is an expensive item, it's highly nutritious: a three-ounce serving boasts 20 grams of protein and is high in Vitamin A and other nutrients.

Trail Riders Move Out

In the saddle, left, Trail Boss Frank Anderwald of Bandera, Texas calls for all to "saddle up and ride out" on a frosty Wednesday morning in Helotes. Driving the chuckwagon is veteran trailrider Earl Reeves, well-known Helotes businessman. Three generations of his family rode on the trail. Lato Martinez of San Geronimo was assistant Trail Boss of the 13th annual Cowboy Capitol Trail Ride for this year's Rodeo.
