HELOTES, BEXAR COUNTY, TEXAS — JUNE 19, 1981

20¢ PER COPY

Person-to-Person

Congratulations to Bill Barker and Connie Braun on being installed as president of the Helotes Lions Club and Helotes Lionesses, respectively.

Anita Denise Burks again has been named to the Dean's List honor roll at Harding University, Searcy, Arkansas, where she is a junior. Anita is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Wesley Burks of Helotes.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Nelson have returned from a vacation in Chicago, where they attended the fiftieth anniversary reunion of his high school graduating class, and visited Sherwood's sister.

The Helotes Garden Club met Thursday morning at the home of Stella Allen in Helotes Park Estates and heard a talk by Horticulturist James Ollie.

Mrs. Mary Jane Blanco and her sons, Ricky and Logan, are back from Saudi Arabia for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Logan, and her grandmother, Mrs. Mary Madla Logan, while her husband, Ricardo, is in Seattle on business.

Dr. Richardo H. Asch of the UT Health Science Center has been named the first Blumberg Professor in Obstetrics and Gynecology. A graduate of the University of Buenos Aires School of Medicine in Argentina, he has been at the medical school since 1976. The professorship was established earlier this year with a gift of $125,000 from Dr. and Mrs. Roland Blumberg.

Raymond Johnson of San Geronimo has a Father's Day dinner invitation for the men of the Helotes area. It is from the children of St. Peter's-St. Joseph's Children's Home on Mission Road in San Antonio. For most of them Father's Day will be just another day to spend without their fathers. Ray said for area men to call him at 695-8468 and accept the children's invitation to a noon meal with them on June 21. "It will be the best Father's Day you ever had," he said. "Christ and the children will have a present for you." The children will be at the home all summer.

Lutherans To Convene

American Lutheran Church Women will hold their Seventh Triennial Convention in San Antonio's Convention Center Complex, July 19 through 23. Women representing 4,849 American Lutheran Churches throughout the U.S. will make it one of the largest conventions to be held in San Antonio. The theme of the Convention is "People of God for a New Day."

Speakers will include Kathryn Koob, former director of the American Iranian Culture Center, a captive of the Iranian militants for 444 days. She will be featured on the Monday evening program July 20.

Methodists get Pastor

The new pastor of Helotes Hills United Methodist Church is Rev. Jerrie Jones, who succeeded Rev. Bill Henderson on June 10.

Rev. Jones came to Helotes from the First United Methodist Church in Smithville. He holds a bachelor of science degree in Psychology from Missouri State University, as master's degree in theology from the St. Paul's School of Theology in Kansas City, and has had additional training in counseling.

He is married and he and his wife, Joyce, have three children, Jeff 15, Sandra 12, and Philip 6. The community welcomes them.

Heavy Rains Hit Area

This is the first Helotes Creek crossing on Scenic Loop Road north of Bandera Road after weekend rains had put all area streams in overflow stage. Although cars were not able to ford this crossing, two Helotes Ranch Acres residents made it across on foot with their dogs.

Med School Gets Grant

Research that should lead to new avenues in understanding and treating kidney disease will be possible under a grant renewed to The University of Texas Health Science Center at San Antonio.

The National Institute of Arthritis, Metabolism & Digestive Diseases has awarded $3.6 million for an additional five years of research in the physiology and pathophysiology of kidney function. Jay Stein, M.D., chairman of the department of medicine and head of the renal diseases division, is principal investigator.

After successfully reaching the other side of the overflowing creek these two waders decided it was time to get back home, and luckily they crossed safely through rapidly rising waters accompanied by their faithful dogs.

First Vote To Be Held August 8

With the election on the incorporation of Helotes pushed back to August 8, residents of the proposed new city have some time to examine what is going to be involved in being a citizen of a new city.

For many one question is, what are the boundaries of the new city?

In general, the boundaries are the boundaries of the Helotes Ranch Acres and Helotes Park Estates. Between the older section of Helotes Ranch Acres and the newer unites of the same subdivision, the city limits are only 500 feet apart along Galm Road.

Bandera Road cuts across the middle of the widest portion of the new city. The city limits on Bandera Road on the east are just beyond Toepferwein's Place and the site for Helotes Bank. On the west the city limits are just beyond El Chaparral Restaurant. On Scenic Loop Road the limits go to Cross XD Trail and then curve up behind the houses on Rafter S Trail.

Most of the city limits are on the edge of undeveloped country.

The area to be incorporated contains approximately 2.8 square miles or 1,745 acres, and has a population of more than 2,000.

The committee to incorporate Helotes, now headed by Tom Beatty, has worked out a franchise agreement with San Antonio's City Public Service for City Public Service to pay the new city a rental charge of 2 percent of its gross receipts each month from the sale of electric energy within the city once it is established. This rental charge is for use of the streets, alleys and public ways in the new city.

Similar franchise agreements will have to be worked out with the City Water Board of San Antonio and with Grey Forest Utilities, natural gas supplier for the area to be incorporated. If and when Helotes will get city water and sewers has not been determined. The operators of Water Conservation and Improvement District No. 17, now supplying water to [Continued On Page 3]

14th Annual Berges Fest

The 14th annual Berges Fest gets into high gear this weekend with the crowning of Miss Berges Fest at the Kendall County Fair Grounds. The annual fun fest looks to be bigger and better than ever before as the Berges Fest Committee has scheduled a great lineup of entertainment and dances. The dancing gets underway immediately after the queens contest with the great Joe Stampely providing the music in the new dance hall and Ginnie Lawrence holding forth at the old dance hall. The Saturday lineup of free entertainment will be highlighted by the two appearances of the Alamo City Jazz Band. This internationally known group has just returned from a successful appearance at the Sacramento Jazz Festival. Several other groups will appear on the stage Saturday and the program will close with the popular Cibola Six.

The Sunday lineup of entertainment will include the popular Boerne Village Band, the Alamo City Jazz Band and the evening will be topped off by an appearance of the very popular Doctors Band. This 20 piece dance band has become a tradition at Berges Fest and is sure to draw a full house. The Sunday evening entertainment will be followed by a free dance under the pavilion featuring Morning.

The fest will feature horse racing on both Saturday and Sunday and there will be an abundance of food booths available to the many visitors expected for Berges Fest. The midway will be open with many rides and games for children and adults.

This 14th annual Berges Fest is slated to be the biggest and best ever held. We invite everyone to join in the fun that has made Berges Fest the premier summer festival in Texas.

Helotes Loses Rains In State Redistricting

The recent Texas Legislature session redrew political boundary lines for state representative District 45, removing the Helotes area from District 45 and joining it to 57-H toward San Antonio.

The five counties which were taken out of District 45 (Kendall, Bandera, Frio, Medina and part of Bexar) were annexed into other legislative districts now represented by conservatives, said Rep. Don Rains, Democrat, San Marcos.

The new District 45 is composed of Hays, Blanco, and Caldwell counties, plus a small corridor into South Travis County.

From the old District 45, Kendall County was drawn into District 44, now represented by Bennie Bock, Democrat, New Braunfels.

Bandera County was drawn into District 43, now represented by Gerald Geistweidt, Republican, Mason; northwest Bexar County was drawn into District 57-H, now represented by Kae Patrick, Republican, San Antonio and Frio and Medina Counties are in District 42 with Jay Reynolds, Republican, Floresville.

The Legislature redraws political boundary lines after the U.S. census every ten years to accommodate population shifts in accordance with the federal doctrine of "one man, one vote".

Ideally, each new representative district would contain about 94,000 citizens, with a five percent margin, to meet U.S. Justice Department standards. In 1971, the ideal district size was about 76,000.

According to 1980 census figures, the new District 45 will contain about 98,000 persons, including 40,594 in Hays County, 4,681 in Blanco County, 23,637 in Caldwell County and about 30,000 in south Travis County. The Travis portion is located in a corridor along both sides of IH 35 from the Hays-Travis county line north to approximately Ben White Boulevard.

Official 1980 census growth figures for each county are:

County	'70 Census	'80 Census
Hays	27,642	40,594
Blanco	3,567	4,681
Caldwell	21,178	23,637
Kendall	6,964	10,635
Medina	20,249	23,164
Bandera	4,747	7,084
Frio	11,159	13,785
Bexar (part)	3,762	8,328

Touring England

Regina Clark, John Marshall student, will be touring the United Kingdom this summer as an American Field Service exchange student. Nominated by several of her teachers at John Marshall, Regina subsequently was screened by both the regional and national headquarters of American Field Service. Her interviews included not only a review of her scholastic ability but also an analysis of her attitudes and feelings with regard to family, friends, school, community and differing cultures. After nine months of screening she was notified late in the school year of her selection.

Texas was named after an Indian word meaning "friends."

THE TERRY FAMILY

Helotes Park Estates, have stated that they cannot expand their system to the rest of the new city because they do not have sufficient water supplies.

Following the election on Aug. 28, when residents of the area will say yes or no on whether they want to incorporate, a city election will have to be called to elect a mayor and city council. That group will determine the budget and tax rate for the new city. All roads and streets in the new city will have to be maintained by the city except the state and county roads which enter the city from the outside.

City police protection will have to be provided to augment that provided by the Bexar County sheriff's department. The Helotes Area Volunteer Fire Department is expected to continue to provide fire protection.

Hardie Warden, current president of the Silver Belles, leads the singing of "Happy Birthday" at a luncheon at Helotes General Store Restaurant last Thursday.

Members of the club whose birthdays fall within the last quarter were honored guests. They also heard a report from the nominating committee for next year's slate of officers.

ENERGY SAVING WAYS

With Automatic Washers

Using efficient laundering techniques can be one of the most effective ways to save energy in the laundry room, say home economists from Whirlpool Corporation.

Use your washer to capacity, they advise, but don't overload. Clothes must be able to move and flex freely during the washing period for best cleaning and least fabric damage.

Pre-treating clothes and sorting them by color, fabric and weight, as well as separating the "lint-givers" from the "lint-receivers" are important steps to ensure that clothes come clean the first time and don't need to be rewashed.

For small loads, be sure to select the correct water level so that you don't end up wasting extra water (and energy) that's really not needed.

UTSA Picks New Coach

Rebecca (Becky) Roberts has been named tennis coach at The University of Texas at San Antonio, effective Sept. 1.

"Becky has done an outstanding job teaching tennis in our physical education classes this year," said UTSA Athletics Director Rudy Davalos. "She has a strong tennis background in our area of the state, and she has worked with some of the top junior players. We look forward to Becky's building our men's and women's program."

Roberts played varsity tennis at The University of Texas at Austin and at Texas Tech University. She was the recipient of the Hutch Bass Memorial Scholarship from the UT Ex-Students Association. Roberts was graduated with honors from the university with a bachelor of science degree in physical education and health. While attending San Antonio's Roosevelt High School, Roberts held state ranking in singles and doubles. She was a district winner in 1971 and a regional finalist in 1972.

Stagecoach Tennis Meet Set

A mixed doubles tennis tournament will be held as part of this year's Stagecoach Days Celebration in Leon Valley. The tournament will take place on Friday and Saturday, June 26 and 27, of the three day celebration, at the John Marshall High School tennis courts. Leslie Wheeler, tennis coach at the high school, is also the director of this new feature of the Leon Valley Pageant's city-wide celebration.

The deadline for entering the tennis tournament is Friday, June 19. Persons wishing to enter should send a $1 per person ($2 per couple) fee to Kitty Hayes, Festival Director, 6435 Trotter, San Antonio, Texas (78240). Included should be the names of the entering couple, address and telephone. Awards for 1st and 2nd place will be awarded. Couples will furnish their own rackets and a can of balls, in addition to the entry fee.

For additional information, contact Mrs. Wheeler at 692-0020 or 681-3060.

Going to Wimbledon

Kim Fidone, John Marshall senior, will leave Sunday for London, where she will attend the tennis matches at Wimbledon before competing in a junior tourney in England. Kim 17, is a member of the John Newcombe International Junior Touring Tennis Team. She was selected in competition with more than a hundred young players from around the world. Kim is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George Fidone of Helotes Park Estates.

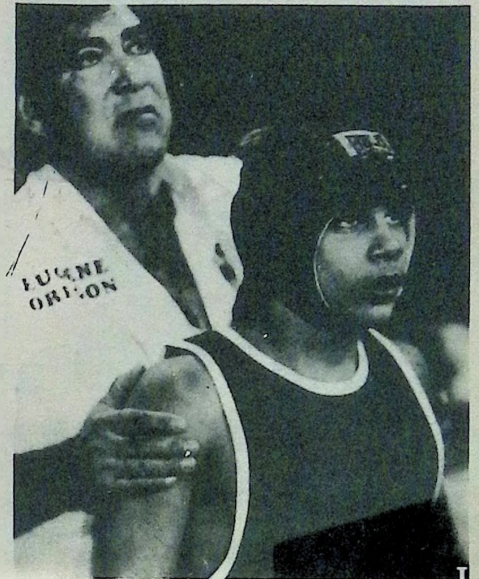

ence's leading rebounder in 1980. During the 1980-81 season she averaged 14 points per game and 12 rebounds per game. Fritz also was a member of Phi Theta Kappa scholastic honor society.

A May, 1979 graduate of Harper High School, Fritz was captain of the basketball team and a varsity starter for three years. She also was named all-district and all-state.

At Harper she lettered in track for four years. She was a regional qualifier for four years and a state qualifier for five years.

YOUNG ATHLETES

Amateur boxer Guy Villegas sizes up the competition.

Looking at the competition, Guy Villegas, 15-year-old Junior Olympics boxer, breathed: "They've gotta be kidding!" But testing yourself is what the Olympics is all about.

At five-four, Guy isn't much taller than some of his trophies. With 243 wins and only 19 losses, he is a two-time AAU Junior Olympics National Champion.

He learned how to box in a unique athletic program, the Sears-Amateur Athletic Union Junior Olympics. Each year, millions of youngsters eight to 18 compete in boxing and 16 other sports in more than 2,000 local and state meets across the country. The best move up to 15 regional championships. Of all who enter, just 100 qualify for the national finals.

Developing amateur athletes the American way—as private citizens, in cities and rural areas across the land—is the objective of AAU and of Sears, Roebuck and Co., the sole national sponsor of the Junior Olympics.

Guy won his first medal at eight—and he's been bringing home honors ever since. His coach, Bob Lee, says, "Guy has always had the moves. Because amateur boxing stresses safety, it is a very technical sport. The goal is scoring points—not knocking your opponent down. And Guy is so fast he can score the maximum of 20 points in a two-minute round."

Coach Lee has some unusual moves himself. A former AAU amateur boxing champion, for years he was also a professional opera singer. He teaches his boys the timing and rhythm essential to amateur boxing by having them spar to music.

Bob Lee is one of more than 300,000 AAU volunteers who make the Junior Olympics possible.

In 1981, the 10,000 young athletes from all over America will gather at Wake Forest University in Winston-Salem, North Carolina, August 6th through 10th.

UTSA Lady Roadrunners sign three players

The UTSA Lady Roadrunner Basketball team has signed its first freshman player, Margaret Martinovich, a May graduate of Clear Lake High School in Houston.

"We are excited about Margaret's coming to UTSA on an athletic scholarship," said Ginny DeHaven, women's basketball coach at UTSA. "As a high school senior, she exhibited the qualities of discipline and dedication that are necessary to play Lady Roadrunner basketball. Her academic ability and playing ability will be great assets to the women's program. Margaret is a true competitor and athlete, plus a fine young lady."

A 6'1" post, Martinovich was named Clear Lake High School's most outstanding female athlete for 1981 and was named to the all-tournament team for the Pride of Texas Tournament. She also was named all-district during her junior year and to the all-Greater Houston team.

For three years she also lettered in golf. Martinovich served as captain of the golf team and was elected most valuable player. She has been a medalist in the district golf meet and in other golf tournaments. In addition, she was named to "America's Outstanding Names and Faces" and to "American High School Athletes."

Martinovich graduated cum laude. She was a member of the National Honor Society and had been named to the Honor Roll.

At UTSA she plans to major in accounting.

Jennifer Gregg, a May graduate of Temple Junior College, also has signed to play with the UTSA Lady Roadrunners basketball team.

A 5'7" point guard, Gregg was named Texas Junior College Athletic Conference All-Conference and to the Region 14 All-star Team for the 1980-81 season. At Temple she averaged 12 points per game and shot 46 percent from the field and 80 percent from the foul line.

The third player to sign is Denise Marie Fritz, 6'1" forward, from Blinn Junior College in Brenham. She was named All-Texas Junior College Athletic Conference for 1981 and as the confer-

The Bill of Rights

A Request

With the Fourth of July celebrations in full swing, every American has a solemn moment to look back on the significance of the occasion. No greater document than the Declaration of Independence was ever devised. . . Unless one considers the first amendments known as The Bill of Rights. For those with the time, we suggest a re-reading of the following:

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the government for a redress of grievances.

A well-regulated militia being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed.

No soldier shall, in time of peace, be quartered in any house without the consent of the owner; nor in time of war but in a manner to be prescribed by law.

The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated, and no warrants shall issue but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched, and the persons or things to be seized.

No person shall be held to answer for a capital or otherwise infamous crime, unless on a presentment or indictment of a grand jury, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the militia, when in actual service in time of war or public danger; nor shall any person be subject for the same offense to be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb; nor shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself, nor be deprived of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor shall private property be taken for public use, without just compensation.

In all criminal prosecutions the accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial, by an impartial jury of the State and district wherein the crime shall have been committed, which district shall have been previously ascertained by law, and to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation; to be confronted with the witnesses against him; to have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor, and to have the assistance of counsel for his defense.

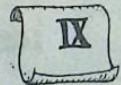

In suits at common law, where the value in controversy shall exceed twenty dollars, the right of trial by jury shall be preserved, and no fact tried by a jury shall be otherwise re-examined in any court of the United States than according to the rules of the common law.

Excessive bail shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel and unusual punishments inflicted.

The enumeration in the Constitution of certain rights shall not be construed to deny or disparage others retained by the people.

The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people.

It's a Fact!

A young woman turned six shallot bulbs into a thriving business and a $1,000 college scholarship. The young woman, Gretchen Harty, planted those bulbs and they produced 500 pounds of shallots. Her yield steadily increased to 1,500 pounds a year, and in 1980 made her one of the eight youngsters to receive a National 4-H Gardening Program scholarship. Meanwhile, the demand for her shallots by six Portland, Oregon firms is quickly turning Ms. Harty into a young business tycoon. She plans to double the size of her crop to keep pace with the growing demand.

Each year, 400,000 young gardeners from across the country take part in the program, sponsored by the Ortho Consumer Products Division of the Chevron Chemical Co. This year, the awards—$1,000 college scholarships and other prizes—will be presented at the National 4-H Congress, Nov. 29 through Dec. 3 in Chicago.

Inflation-Fighting FOOD IDEAS Tips To Help You

Nice, Easy and Economical Family Barbecue

Here's a chance for everyone to join in preparing this easy barbecue. It can be for just the family or guests too. Dad's the Rib King, so put him in charge of barbecuing the ribs with a super, zippy economical sauce made with spicy brown mustard as a base. The "Cannelloni Casserole" takes minutes to prepare using a canned Cannelloni plus vegetables. Sis can fix the vegetables for grilling while Mom cools the iced-tea. Let everyone join in the fun in cooking and eating.

CANNELLONI CASSEROLE

- 1 cup chopped onion
- 1 cup diced celery
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 2 packages (10 oz. each) frozen chopped spinach, cooked and drained
- 2/3 cup fresh bread crumbs
- 1/2 cup shredded Cheddar cheese
- 2 tablespoons light cream
- 2 cans (15 oz. each) Chef Boy-ar-dee® Cannelloni (beef filled macaroni product in meat sauce)
- 1 tablespoon chopped green pepper for garnish

Sauté onion and celery in butter. Add cooked, drained spinach, bread crumbs and cheese; stir. Spread spinach mixture on bottom of baking dish. Add light cream to Cannelloni and arrange on top of spinach. Garnish with chopped green pepper. Bake in 350°F. oven for 25 minutes. Serves 4-6.

SPARERIBS IN SNAPPY BARBECUE SAUCE

- 2 quarts water
- 4 lbs. spareribs
- 5 whole cloves
- 1 medium onion
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon dried oregano

- 1/2 cup Gulden's® Spicy Brown Mustard
- 1/2 cup catsup
- 1 cup pineapple juice
- 1 tablespoon Worcestershire Sauce
- 1/2 teaspoon garlic powder

Bring water to boil, add spareribs, cloves, onion, salt and oregano. Reduce heat, cover, simmer for one hour or until spareribs are tender. Remove; drain. Combine remaining ingredients. Adjust grill six inches from coals. Baste ribs with sauce; cook 10 to 15 minutes on each side, basting frequently. To cook indoors, broil on rack in broiler, 4 inches from heat, 10 to 15 minutes on each side basting frequently with sauce. Makes 4 servings.

GOLDEN ZUCCHINI

- 4 to 6 small zucchini
 - French dressing
 - skewers
- Cut zucchini in 3/4" slices. Blanch in boiling water for

3 to 5 minutes. Dry on absorbent toweling. Marinate in French dressing for 15 minutes. Place on skewers. Grill over medium heat.

CORNED TOMATOES

- 6 ripe medium-sized tomatoes
- 1/2 cup chopped onions
- 1/2 cup chopped green peppers
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1/4 teaspoon dried basil
- dash oregano
- 1/4 teaspoon garlic salt
- 1 cup cornbread crumbs

Cut tops from tomatoes; hollow out about 2 tablespoons of the pulp. Save for a salad. Sauté onions and green peppers in butter; add basil, oregano and salt; stir. Toss onion mixture with cornbread crumbs. Fill tomatoes with cornbread stuffing. Place on top of grill where fire is not too hot or broil in oven. Serves 4-6.

Loeffler seeks reform of estate, gift taxes

Special to the Helotes Echo

Congressman Tom Loeffler has introduced legislation providing for extensive reform of estate and gift tax statutes.

"The devastation caused by the estate and gift tax has been well documented and debated here in the past," Loeffler said in introducing the bill. "But while the Congress debates this issue families are having to sell their farms and ranches to pay the taxes."

Co-sponsoring the measure with Loeffler is Rep. L.A. (Skip) Bafalis. (R-Fla.).

"Our bill includes the Administration's recent estate and gift tax reform proposals, which I support," Loeffler said. "It also addresses more directly the special problems of family-owned farms, ranches and small businesses."

"In particular, it proposes a number of changes in the "special use" valuation provision, the tax treatment available to family farmers and ranchers."

Loeffler said the proposed revisions would, for the first time, provide families with the level of protection that was intended when special use valuation was first enacted.

"The estate tax is one of the most blatant disincentives to work, save and invest in the tax code. It denies us the incentive to build up anything of value to pass along to our children; it prevents us from passing on a legacy to our heirs," Loeffler said.

The bipartisan tax reduction plan of President Reagan calls for an increase in the credit against the unified estate and gift tax to $192,000 which will be phased in by 1985, exempting 99.7 percent of all estates from the estate tax. This corresponds to an exclusion of $600,000.

It also provides an unlimited marital deduction and an increase in the annual gift tax exclusion from $3,000 to $10,000 effective Jan. 1, 1982. "The estate and gift tax has virtually destroyed family enterprises in every area of the country," said Loeffler. "We hope to use this bill to halt the damage—before it is too late."

Fifty years ago, a lady of great adventure and romance, fell in love with a charming rock house shaded by tall oaks in the peace of a country village. There she christened the Grey Moss Inn and began to serve her famous steaks, pies and hearty dinners. Her tradition thrives. Come share her adventure.

Which Hausman Road? That Is The Question

Some confusion has developed over where the new Helotes Bank is to be located when it is built. It will be across Bandera Road from Toepperwein's Place. This is usually described as the corner of Bandera and Hausman Roads.

Another Hausman enters Bandera Road about a mile east of Loop 1604 at the location of the former Flower Barn Nursery. This Hausman runs back to Loop 1604 and ends there about halfway between Bandera Road and another Hausman Road—the one that comes from IH 10.

The Hausman Road that comes from IH 10 continues across Loop 1604 and enters Bandera Road at the Toepperwein corner. This continuation now often is called FM 1560. On the official map of the new City of Helotes, this road is called Hausman Road.

Across from the Hausman-Bandera Road intersection alongside Toepperwein's is a road which would appear to be a continuation of this Hausman. But the road alongside Toepperwein's is Leslie Road.

And if all this is not confusing enough there is still another Hausman Road, short and unpaved, which runs from Loop 1604 near the intersection of the Hausman from IH 10 to the Hausman that goes from Loop 1604 to Bandera Road and enters Bandera Road near the old Flower Barn Nursery.

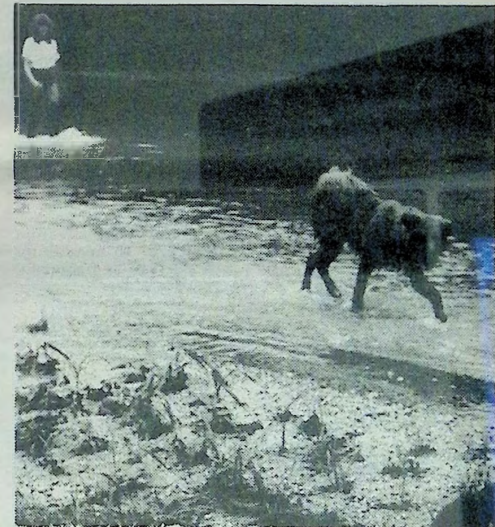

Meanwhile, the bank will open an organizational office Monday at Circle A Trail and Bandera Road.

Heavy rains in Helotes that put creeks over the roads revived memories of past years when closed roads here were at least an annual occurrence. Besides in Helotes, rains caused some flooding and road closings in Pipe Creek and Bandera. Heavy flooding caused much damage in San Marcos and Austin.

Firemen To Have Dance

The Bexar County Volunteer Fire Department, Company C, will have a benefit dance on Friday, Aug. 14, at Floore Country Store to raise money to buy new equipment. The public is invited. Roy West and the Willow Creek Band will play, and the Dodger Dollies cheerleaders will make an appearance.

ENCOURAGING SIGNS

The United States has the potential to produce as much oil and gas in the future as we have in our entire history. Advisors to the President of the U.S. have said so and an industry expert agrees. Here, William C. Douce, president and chief executive officer of Phillips Petroleum, offers an encouraging view of our new administration.

By William C. Douce

President Reagan's confidence in the ability of competitive enterprise to solve problems was expressed in his early decision to remove all controls on oil ahead of schedule. This action will benefit the American people by giving a further boost to U.S. exploration and production which has already reached record levels due to partial decontrol.

The administration is also addressing the important issue of multiple use of federal lands. Much of the energy and mineral potential of this country lies beneath land and water controlled by the federal government. Use of those areas is limited to recreation and scenic purposes. New policies are needed to allow the resources of these areas to be mobilized in America's quest for energy security and a healthy economy. This can be accomplished in ways fully compatible with protection of the environment.

The new administration will also be evaluating increased use of coal (the U.S. has been called the Saudi Arabia of coal) and nuclear power and the question of developing synthetic fuels in the years ahead.

The key to meeting the challenge of U.S. energy lies in developing our own supplies, not subject to foreign governments. President Reagan is aware of this need and has taken a positive first step. Our country can do what needs to be done.

Reports from Washington

Returning Government To The People

In Congress, state capitals and city halls around the country one of the most serious debates of the century is on the condition and course of American Federalism.

Much of the dialogue today is about which layer of government will get what out of the trimmed national budget. Ultimately, the discussions could bring about a major reordering of national priorities and an abrupt shift of government responsibilities to the states and local government.

I see this as one of the greatest challenges of the 1980s. The time is long overdue that we dust off the Federalist Papers and renew the debate begun by Hamilton, Madison and Jefferson.

The course of American Federalism — Washington's relations with the states and local governments — has been the subject of debate since the Constitution was adopted almost 200 years ago.

Central to the current debate is the intense scrutiny being given 500 Federal aid programs and thousands of Federal regulations that have spewed forth from this government in the past 20 years.

Today, a number of Congressional committees and public interest groups, as well as organizations of state and local government officials, have also begun looking into the matter.

It is my hope Congress will renew the distinction between the powers granted to the Federal government and those reserved to the states and the people. Washington needs to be reminded that the Federal government did not create the states; the states created the Federal government.

The term, "New Federalism" — borrowed from Theodore Roosevelt's "New Nationalism" 60 years ago — came into the political vocabulary in 1969. It is defined as a political philosophy that seeks to associate the need for national action with the desire for much greater local participation.

Fundamental to New Federalism is the belief that while decision making must be nationalized, administration should be decentralized. An unfortunate corollary, however, is found often in the delivery system which creates ineffective administration and an inflexible, impersonal bureaucracy.

Currently a vast majority of the public agrees on the need for a slowing down of the very Federal programs that spent $88 billion last year — as opposed to $7 billion in 1960.

As a result, the President has called for a 25 percent reduction in 85 of the government's 500 categorical grant programs, followed by consolidation of these 85 programs into six broad block grants covering health, education and other social needs. The reduction in funding will come primarily from administrative savings in reduced Washington bureaucracy. In addition, a task force headed by Vice President Bush is cutting away at Federal regulations.

While Congress, under strong pressure from program bureaucrats and lobbyists, is balking at transferring spending and administrative functions to states, the main focus of disagreement thus far has been between the states and cities.

Historically, cities had to come to Washington for help because states spurned their requests or turned their backs. Now, some cities worry that block grants will put them in the same position again.

The states admit this once was true but say that no longer is a problem because state governments are more sophisticated and closer to the people.

For the present, when it comes to reordering the priorities of the New Deal, Fair Deal, New Frontier and the Great Society, there is a clear recognition that something must be done to get government back to the people. And return it to the people we will!

The builders of Egypt's Great Pyramid of Cheops at Giza, living about 2900 B.C., existed largely on a diet of garlic and onions.

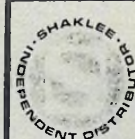

The phrase "the fourth estate," referring to journalists, was first used by Sir Edmund Burke during a speech made to the British Parliament, as he considered the various powers that be in the British government.

Rainfall Ups Area Wells

With the exception of Uvalde County, water well levels in the Edwards Underground Water District declined as much as 9.3 feet in May, the Edwards District office has announced.

But levels were moving up early in June following heavy rainfall at the end of May.

Official readings for the month were taken between May 25 and May 28, Tom Fox, district general manager, said, and do not reflect the recharge following the rains over much of the Edwards Aquifer recharge zone.

Uvalde's check well was up 2.5 feet on May 28 to a level of 874 feet, two-tenths of a foot above the level of May a year ago. San Antonio's check well was down 5.6 feet to a level of 664.8 feet, which was well below the 675.4 level a year ago at this same time.

But by June 9 the San Antonio well had risen to 673.7 feet, Fox said.

HIGH FLYER FOR EXCELLENCE

An airline was honored recently for its record of sustained excellence over the years. That airline was Lufthansa, the international airline from Germany.

In presenting its award, Air Transport World magazine declared:

"Lufthansa consistently is among the leaders of the industry in both innovation and efforts toward modernization, assuring safe and reliable transportation for its customers."

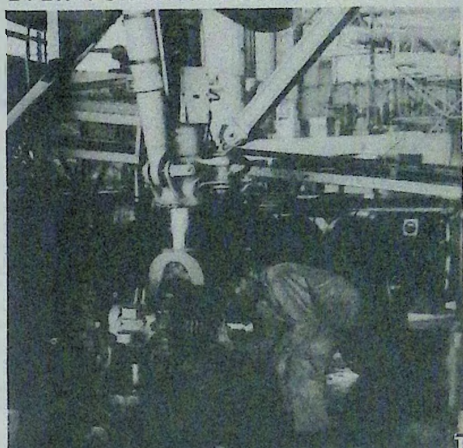

Lufthansa has been a pioneer in the introduction of the Boeing 737 and the 747 freighter to airline service. It also has made contributions in aircraft and engine maintenance and in cargo terminal design and development.

Perhaps of greatest importance to people who fly for business or pleasure has been Lufthansa's insistence on flying only the safest, most advanced airplanes.

In an article in Airline Executive magazine in January, 1981, it was pointed out that other carriers have sold aircraft before they've outlived their usefulness, but only on a limited basis.

None have done it on the scale of Lufthansa. The magazine noted: "The prosperous German carrier recently 'rolled over' its entire 747 fleet, most of its 727s, and is now in the process of selling a fleet of early model 737s. All three have been or will be replaced with the latest advance versions of the same type of Boeing aircraft."

The company prides itself in providing customers with top-notch aircraft with excellent interiors as well as exteriors. After a recent Boston-Frankfurt flight on a Lufthansa 707, Boeing president, E.H. "Tex" Boullioun, told Reinhardt Abraham, chief executive-technical, of Lufthansa, that the craft was in as good condition as the day it was delivered more than 15 years ago.

When an airline receives an award for sustaining excellence over the years, everyone who works for it can feel like a big wheel.

Observed Airline Executive: "As a result (of early 'roll overs'), Lufthansa has an average aircraft fleet age of about four years, which has got to rank the carrier at or near the top among major international airlines."

By rolling over its airplanes while they've still got a lot of flying time in them, Lufthansa also helps young, struggling airlines and third-world countries obtain quality aircraft at bargain prices.
