Person-to-Person

On the eve of St. Patrick's Day, green is everybody's favorite color. Fortunately the shamrocks which grow here are not averse to a little cool weather and make it possible for everyone to wear-the green.

When asked in the past—the date of the opening of the patio for dancing at Floore Country Store, the late John T. Floore used to say—just remember St. Patrick's Day. With Spring coming in on March 21, usually it was a sure bet unless there was a storm. But this year, the present owner, Joe Algueseva, says it's hard to say, as Spring is a little late this year.

Leon Valley Grange will host a Benefit Bunco Party tonight at the Grange Hall across from John Marshall High School to add to the National Grange Session Fund. Texas will host the National Session in 1983 and plans are underway already. The March 16 party begins at 6:30 p.m. with sandwiches, desserts and beverages available, and game time at 7:30 p.m. The entrance fee is a dollar and guests are welcome. Prizes are for men and women and they have good door prizes.

The Pre-Festival Fundraiser dance was a success despite an electrical storm which kept many from coming from a distance. The Cornyval spirit is growing and street booths and float entries are being planned.

Birthday Party Planned

A birthday party is being scheduled for Saturday, March 17, to honor Mrs. Flossie Allen of Shaenfield Road who lived there until her home burned about 9:30 March 2 when lightning struck a butane tank causing an explosion. She was away from home at the time, and by the time the Helotes Area Volunteer Fire Dept. and Grey Forest Volunteer Fire Dept. answered the call, the house was in full bloom. A little dog inside the home perished.

Mrs. Allen will be honored at the nearby home of her daughter and son-in-law Dr. and Mrs. B. E. Rigbsby where she is staying temporarily. She plans to move a mobile home onto her property. Friends are asking for cooking utensils and other necessary items to help her make a fresh start. All her clothing was destroyed. One daughter was away at college at the time and has some of her wardrobe.

Anyone wishing more information may call 688-3429.

Local Girl Wins Star Role In Movie

Sara Stimson, 6 years old, leaves for California Sunday to play a starring role in a classic motion picture which will begin production next Friday.

She is shown here as she was photographed at Helotes Elementary School recently.

It's a one-in-a-million chance, but Hollywood stars can be discovered.

A nationwide talent search for a child who could play a legendary part in a big motion picture may bring fame to a little local miss.

Sara Stimson, 6 year-old resident of Scenic Loop Road right here in Helotes is fast becoming a child star, shooting for a spot in the Hollywood firmament that has eluded little girls for years and years—a replacement for Shirley Temple.

Actual shooting will begin March 23—next Friday—at Universal Studios of a remake of "Little Miss Marker," the film that gave Shirley Temple her stardom. Sara will play the title role, adult stars will be Walter Matthau and Julie Andrews.

Sara was born at Southwest Texas Methodist Hospital on June 10, 1972. Her mother, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Oye, grew up in Helotes and is a graduate of John Marshall High School. She and Sara's two small brothers have been back in Helotes since before Sara started school. Sara's father now lives in the Philippines.

After hundreds of little girls were tested—some Shirley Temple look-alikes among them—the final weeks of testing and retesting gave Sara a chance to see some of the future she will face. Everyone in Helotes who knew her felt confident that she would get the part when it became apparent that she would be chosen for her own personality and not for any ability to copy Shirley Temple.

Liz Kiegly was the talent scout and director who found Sara in San Antonio area-wide search.

Modern TV movie fans see Shirley Temple as a child still, and some of her child fans think of her as "Little Miss Marker" just as they know Judy Garland in "The Wizard of Oz."

Sara will leave this week-end for Los Angeles with her Mother and Grandmother. Col. Oye and other members of the family will keep the two little brothers until a home can be set up in California.

In case, this seems too good to be true, Sara goes out to Hollywood with a seven-year contract with Universal. Sara Stimson is her real name, and Hollywood experts consider it will remain so when the lights go up to announce a new "Little Miss Marker," soon.

Eight File For Two Places

Northside Independent School District elections to be held Saturday, April 7 from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. will have two vacancies to fill with both incumbents running and drawing heavy competition.

For Place 1, Mrs. Nellie Reddix, incumbent has two opponents. Mrs. Reddix, associated with Learning Assessment Center, resides at 3114 Climbing Road. Opposing her are Dr. David I. Tasker, 5100 Interstate 410, ophthalmologist, and also L. C. Kelly, 243 Meadow Bend, retired Air Force.

Carl F. Raba, Jr., Place 2 incumbent, has heavy competition. He is a consulting engineer and resides at 7742 Redbird Lane. Opposing him are Walter C. "Kelly" Lange, 2311 Alladin Lane, law student and former Northside teacher; David Brown, 110 Windmill Road, pre-med student; Rita L. Weston, 7503 Forelock St., housewife; and Peggy Gray, 5748 Berryhill St., associated with UTSA.

Edwards District Maintains Tax Rate

SAN ANTONIO—Directors of the Edwards Underground Water District meeting here Tuesday, March 13, set a 1979 tax rate of 2 cents per $100 county valuation and elected officers but deferred hiring a new general manager for the five-county district.

Three applications for the post now held by Col. McDonald D. Weinert were before the board. One applicant, Lt. Col. LeRoy R. Hayden, chief of Engineering Division, Fifth Army, Ft. San Houston, withdrew, leaving Leroy Goodson, Jr. of New Braunfels, director of planning and development, Guadalupe-Blanco River Authority, and Thomas P. Fox of San Antonio, senior research engineer, Southwest Research Institute, to be interviewed.

The directors did not reach a decision to employ either applicant at this time. Col. Weinert will continue as general manager until his successor is named.

The 2-cent tax rate adopted Tuesday is the same levied since the EUWD was created in 1950.

Elected chairman of the board was Burce T. Foster of Medina County, former vice chairman of the board. Also elected were Oliver O. Haas of Comal County, vice chairman; Charles W. Rothe of Medina, secretary; and Leslie Pepper of Uvalde, treasurer.

New directors seated were L. A. Cortes of San Antonio, William H. Brown of New Braunfels and F. M. Mauldin of San Marcos. Cortes succeeded William H. Spice, Jr. of San Antonio who was presented a plaque in recognition of his 20 years service as a director and his tenure as board chairman from 1971 to 1979.

County chairmen elected were James J. Falbo, Bexar; Haas, Comal; Robert Knispel, Hays; Foster, Medina; and Pepper, Uvalde.

Campus Tours Set For April

South Texans can learn about The University of Texas at San Antonio during two special seminars in April.

The seminars, which are open to the public without charge, will be April 5 from 2 to 3:30 p.m. and April 17 from 7 to 9 p.m. They will meet in room 2.01.12 of the Science-Education Building.

Faculty members will discuss the university-wide general education requirements as well as the degree programs offered by UTSA's five colleges. The colleges are the College of Business, the College of Fine and Applied Arts, the College of Humanities and Social Science, the College of Multidisciplinary Studies and the College of Sciences and Mathematics.

Representatives of the Dean of Students Office will discuss student services ranging from the counseling and testing centers to financial aid and career planning and placement.

A tour of the university will be conducted after each program.

The UTSA Office of Community and Student Affairs is sponsoring the seminars. For more information, phone the office at 691-4151.

Two of the featured displays in the Southwest Gem and Mineral Society's 19th annual show this weekend at Villita Assembly Hall will be exhibited by Helotes area residents. An 85-pound specimen of malachite will be shown by Joe and Rose Murphy, and a display of large specimens of Brazilian stones will be shown by Fred and Helen Matthe.

India Night At Marshall

The John Marshall High School Student Chapter of American Field Services and Pakistani Night on Friday, March 16, beginning at 7 p.m. The program will be provided by members of the India and Asia Association and Indian and Pakistani communities. Individual and group dances, songs and a slide show depicting Indian architecture and culture will be presented as well as samples of several Indian and Pakistani foods.

A highlight of the evening will be a classical Indian snake dance performed by Ruba Koneru, 5th grade student. In this dance, Ruba describes the graceful movements of cobras by various dancing steps and gymnastic talents.

Other participants to perform include Gitu Mehta, Mathu Mehta, Prakash Desai, Harsha Desai, Sharmim Shaikh, Naresh Desai, Rubina Soomru, Emran Khan, Duriya Dhillu and Asian Soomru. They will perform the Gareva Dance, Dania Ras, Pakistani Folk Dance and Indian songs.

The public is invited and encouraged to attend the presentation in the school cafeteria.

Ruba Koneru, 5th grade student, will be featured during the observance of India and Pakistani Night at Marshall High School tonight. The program will be held in the cafeteria beginning at 7 p.m., and admission is free.

Mrs. Keseling Dies In Louisiana

Mrs. Theresa Keseling, a longtime resident of this area who had been living in Baton Rouge, La. for the past few years, died unexpectedly in Baton Rouge on Tuesday, March 13, according to word received here. She had recently marked her 75th birthday.

Mrs. Keseling was a member of the Women's Club, and the Leon Valley Grange and was well-known here. Her husband, C. William Keseling who preceded her in death several years ago, was a well-known plumbing contractor and owner of Keseling Lead Products Co. They resided on Bandera Road between Helotes and Leon Valley. Later she moved to Grissom Road.

She is survived by a niece and nephew; and a sister-in-law in Louisiana. Many of her friends here planned to attend her funeral this week. She will be remembered here for her kind ways.

Schools Stress Safety

Nineteen Northside schools have been enrolled in the National Safety Council's National School Safety Honor Roll for the past school year. Receiving achievement awards were Leon Valley, Thunderbird Hills, Shenandoah, Passmore, Oak Hills Terrace, Meadow Village, Locke-Hill, Forest Hills, Cable, Helotes, John Glenn, Esparza and Boone Elementary. Coke Stevenson, Sul Ross, Rayburn and Anson Jones Middle Schools; and John Marshall and Oliver W. Holmes High Schools.

Schools upgraded their safety programs averaging one fire drill per month, conducting regular safety inspections and reviewing school crossing needs.

Outgoing Edwards Chief Asks Support For District

William H. Spice, Jr., for the past eight years chairman of the board of directors of the Edwards Underground Water District and Bexar County member of the board since its inception in 1959, has called for public understanding of the facts about the five-county EUWD.

He was defeated for reelection Jan. 20 by L. A. "Tony" Cortes of San Antonio. "I feel the record of accomplishment by the EUWD over the past two decades is plain to see," Spice said. "We have followed the statute which created the district to preserve, protect and increase the recharge and to prevent pollution of the underground reservoir that currently is the sole source of water for more than one million persons in Hays, Comal, Bexar, Medina and Uvalde Counties."

The district has been particularly successful as the prime mover in the enactment of the original anti-pollution order by the Texas Water Quality Board, now a part of the Texas Department of Water Resources, and over the years has constructed recharge dams and participated with others in all five counties in paying for dams that produce incidental recharge while they reduce erosion and flooding, he said.

Spice also pointed out that the EUWD "has cooperated with the authorities of the three river basins (Guadalupe-Blanco, San Antonio and Nueces) which are interconnected by the Edwards reservoir."

Due to the efforts of the EUWD, the three authorities, the City Water Board of San Antonio and the district have just received from the Bureau of Reclamation a detailed analysis of the water needs, availability and cost of water throughout the region from Victoria to Wimberley and west to the Nueces River basin.

The EUWD has introduced four bills in the current legislature in an effort to improve its ability to carry out the provisions of the statute creating it. Three bills have been introduced in the Senate by Senator John Traeger of Sequin as Senate Bills 40, 41 and 50 and one has been introduced in the House as House Bill 745.

SB 40 (HB 664) would give the district clearer authority to preserve the water in the Edwards aquifer by giving the counties in the EUWD an opportunity to vote on whether or not they wish to participate in providing an initial supplemental supply of surface water. The bill expressly provides that no one would pay for this water that did not vote to do so through an increase in the district's 2-cent tax levy, and that if only one of the five counties voted to increase the tax rate, this would have no effect on the other four.

SB 41 (HB 746) makes the district responsible for seeing that when water wells are drilled into the Edwards aquifer the provisions of the Texas Well Drillers Act are complied with in order to insure prevention of pollution and incidentally to see that the owner gets his money's worth.

In 1959, when the district was created, the sole payment to directors for their services was $20 per day when attending meetings of the board, which at first were held twice a year but now are held six times a year. SB 50 (HB 665) would raise this per diem to $50, which the EUWD feels is not unreasonable in view of inflation.

HB 745 would authorize the district to collect a fee from water companies or agencies which provide water from the aquifer to users outside the district equal to the amount now paid by residents of the district, which is 2 cents on each $100 of assessed county valuation. These persons outside the district benefit primarily from the recharge structures built within the district and the measures the district has taken to prevent pollution.

About the recently-released Metcalf & Eddy report, Spice said this report is so lengthy that he can call attention only to such statements as "there is a complicated jurisdictional problem resulting from the fact that the (Edwards) water recharged in one jurisdiction is withdrawn by another jurisdiction. Or more specifically, the source of San Antonio's water is not recharged within its area of jurisdiction and therefore unilateral actions by the city may not be effective in protecting its water supply. (An) aquifer management plan must be designed to handle these issues."

The Metcalf & Eddy report not only applies to the present five-county district but also extends into Kendall, Kerr, Bandera, Edwards and Kinney Counties.

The report further recommends, in reference to an overall management plan or authority, that "the organization have the authority to implement development controls as necessary to maintain ground water quality... and quantity."

"The Environmental Protection Agency, the Texas Department of Water Resources and the Supreme Court of the United States say that the district and the three river authorities are controlling the quality now," Spice said.

Top Science Grads Sought

Applications are being accepted at UTSA for its third summer science program for high school students.

Fourteen area high school students who will graduate in spring, 1980, and who demonstrate outstanding achievements in science will be selected to participate in the 38-week program.

Candidates will be nominated by their high school science teachers and principals. Deadline for applications is April 2.

FACTS & FIGURES

GOLDEN OPPORTUNITIES

An old saying, "There's nothing as good as gold," is gaining new currency. Valued from time immemorial, gold is becoming more esteemed and more precious than ever.

For a long time, even if you had been lucky enough to find the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow, it would have been illegal for you to keep it. That's because the Gold Reserve Act of 1934 made it illegal for private persons or firms in this country to own gold, other than as jewelry.

America's the world's largest gold coin and futures market now that it's legal to own gold again.

But that changed—and so did a lot of other things—when, on December 31, 1974, Americans regained the right to full gold ownership. The change in government policy has stimulated considerable investment in gold. In addition, the United States is now the world's largest market both for bullion-type gold coins and gold futures trading.

Interestingly, the increased price of gold has not tarnished its popularity. Industry statistics show that women are wearing more—rather than less—real gold jewelry.

Another growing phenomenon is the number of "week-end 49ers": people out there poking around in the old diggings in hope of finding the occasional nugget which—considering the current price of gold—is no mean prospect!

Hunter To Star

Tab Hunter, well-known screen star, will open March 20 at the Fiesta Dinner Playhouse starring in "Here Lies Jeremy Troy." Hunter made his screen debut in 1940 and went on to star in more than 40 major motion pictures. His pictures include "Battle Cry," "The Track of the Cat," "They Came to Cordura," "The Pleasure of His Company," and "The Loved Ones." He will be starring in the new Fiesta Dinner Playhouse production for the next five weeks. Currently at the Playhouse on Loop 1604 is Joan Fontaine in "Dial M. for Murder."

Stars Can Be Viewed

Springtime's planetary and stellar sights will be the subject of the UTSA Astronomy Open House March 29.

Activities will begin at 7:30 p.m., rain or shine.

The viewing of Jupiter, Saturn, Orion Nebula and Pleiades is planned with the aid of telescopes on the fourth level patio of the university's Science-Education Building.

Astronomical film strips will be shown in the room 2.01.12 of the Science-Education Building in case of inclement weather. Topics might include UFOs and galaxies. A question-and-answer session will follow, conducted by Dr. Mike Synek, faculty member in the Division of Earth and Physical Sciences and open house coordinator.

The event is free and open to the public.

Bird Feeding Brings Winter Pleasure

Winter feeding can create a natural laboratory just outside your window, providing an opportunity to observe some of nature's most beautiful creatures.

Charles Ramsey, wildlife specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, suggests feeding birds especially during the winter months when ice storms or heavy snows seal up the food supply on the ground for days or even weeks.

Birds can stand frigid sub-zero weather if they can eat enough food to keep up their body temperatures, points out the Texas A&M University specialist.

With the inquisitive chickadees usually the first to discover the whereabouts of generous handouts, birds readily accept any hospitality they can find during cold weather.

Once suet and seed are put out, Ramsey advises against discontinuing feeding later in the winter because the birds will come to depend on this regular supply of food.

Winter feeding is sometimes complicated by problem guests such as English sparrows, starlings and squirrels. English sparrows and starlings are introduced species that shoulder out their native competitors. They are not protected by law so they may be trapped and disposed of. There are several live-traps available commercially that are suitable, points out Ramsey.

Since trapping may not be feasible, the specialist suggests scattering scraps of bread on the ground in the open for sparrows and starlings while feeding grain to the more timid birds in a sheltered spot among trees or bushes.

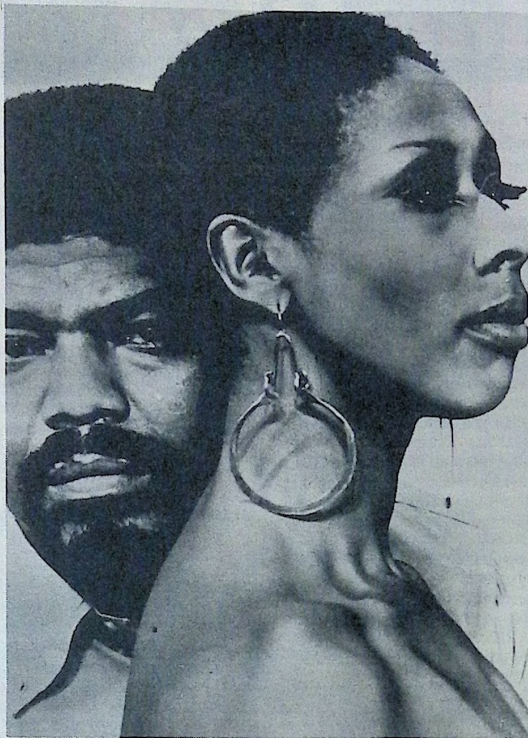

Squirrels are sometimes troublesome, but they are also interesting to observe. Bird feeders suspended by small wires several feet from anything which squirrels might climb usually solves the problem.

Although some people object to the bullying ways of jays, these birds are beautiful creatures, which, like squirrels, are part of the native wildlife population. Jays like the larger seeds such as sunflower and will scatter a seed mixture with smaller seeds. So, Ramsey suggests feeding large seed in a separate feeder for jays.

Birds that would ordinarily eat insects must be fed animal food entirely; in other words, suet, beef fat or chopped meat. Seed-eating birds will eat little except vegetable food. Some birds such as nuthatches and chickadees will eat both suet and seeds. A minimum variety of feed should include suet, sunflower seed, millet and cracked corn, suggests the specialist.

As far as feeding devices are concerned, many are available commercially. But a small shelf tacked to a tree to hold seeds and a small piece of hardware cloth to hold suet will be sufficient, adds Ramsey.

Dance Theater Performers

Alvin Ailey, left, is founder of the American Dance Theater group to perform in San Antonio at the Theater for the Performing Arts on Tuesday, March 20. With him above is Judith Jamison, one of 23 dancers in the company. They have been acclaimed by audiences throughout the U.S. and Europe including a State Department-sponsored trip to Russia. Tickets for the single performance in San Antonio are available at all Joske stores.

Kites Can Be Fatal

Spring-like weather comes early in San Antonio and it brings out the urge in thousands of youngsters to go out and fly a kite. On a good day, thousands of the colorful objects will dot the skies over the city.

But even this enjoyable pastime has its hazards if proper safety precautions are not observed, National Safety Council and City Public Service officials warn.

Kites can get entangled in overhead power lines and interrupt electric service. But, more important, the kite flyer can get a dangerous and even fatal shock if the wrong kind of a string is used.

To help prevent such accidents, the CPS and the National Safety Council advise kite flyers to follow the following precautions:

- Kites should only be flown in level, open spaces away from overhead electric lines, telephone poles, airports, trees or street traffic.

- Kite string should not contain any metallic fibers, tinsel or wire. These are conductors of electricity. Should the string touch a power line, it could transmit a severe, even fatal shock to the kite flyer.

- Wet string can also conduct electricity down to the flyer if it comes in contact with a power line or bolt of lightning.

- If your kite should become entangled in an overhead power line, leave it. Do not pull or tug on the string in trying to free the kite. It's better to lose a kite than to risk a life. Never, never attempt to climb a utility pole or tower to retrieve a kite.

The City Public Service provides free information on the safe operation of all types of equipment involving the use of gas and electricity.

NATURE'S WINTER WINNERS!

Did you know that cherry tomatoes are the tastiest of all tomatoes - and that they make excellent garnishes? Or that a slice of green pepper will perk up any fish, meat, poultry, or vegetable dish?

Garden-fresh vegetables are available all winter long from Sunny Mexico!

Mexican tomatoes are hand-picked as they ripen naturally, unlike tomatoes from other sources that are harvested in a hard green stage, handled by machinery, and ripened with gas to give them color.

For low-cost "Winter Dinner Winners," try baked tomatoes stuffed with sausage and green chopped peppers... or sliced, breaded and fried, then topped with sour cream! Or, place thick slices of tomatoes on bread, top with cheese and broil for a family lunch treat!

Never put tomatoes in the refrigerator until fully ripe. Buy pink ones to use later and store at room temperature.

Open Forum Marks Year Of The Child

In observance of 1979 as the International Year of the Child, a number of community groups are co-sponsoring a Legislative Forum, March 23 at the Chapman Graduate Center, Trinity University.

The all-day forum is slated to begin at 9 a.m. and last until 4 p.m. with community leaders participating.

The participants, including area legislators and other governmental officials, will form three groups, each discussing a separate aspect of children and youth.

Among the topics for discussion are Juvenile Justice, Protective Services for Children and Family Stability.

The forum will identify and analyze pending legislation dealing with youth.

Also part of the program will be to help educate citizens on effective methods of influencing legislation.

The public is invited to attend the session. Registration fee is $5.

Further information on the Legislative Forum may be obtained by calling Frances Teran at 220-2786.

The first wallpaper is believed to date from 1509. It was uncovered at Master's Lodgings, Christ's College, Cambridge University, in 1911.

Teens Mark Engineers Week

SAN ANTONIO. Area high school seniors took part in "National Engineers Week" recently by visiting the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation's local district office. The visit was co-sponsored by the department and the Bexar County Chapter of the Texas Society of Professional Engineers.

The student participants in the one day program toured the district complex, and looked at the workday world of professional transportation engineers and technicians. The group was welcomed by District Engineer Raymond Stotzer, winner of the 1979 Bexar County Chapter "Engineer of the Year" award. Then they visited various parts of the complex including Planning, Accounting, Bridge Design, Signal Repair; as well as the Laboratory, Mechanic Shop and the Warehouse.

Mr. Stotzer presented them with Certificates of Recognition reflecting their interest in engineering.

Farm Bureau Hits Labeling

Bexar County farmers are urged to write the Food and Drug Administration opposing a new "substitute labeling" proposal, according to Calvin Gerhart, chairman of the Bexar County Farm Bureau Dairy Committee.

Under the FDA plan, imitation products would be allowed to be labeled as substitutes of the products they imitate, he said. For example, soybean milk could become "milk substitute," and imitation cheddar cheese could bear a label as "cheddar cheese substitute."

Gerhart said that dairymen are not afraid of the competition from the new products, and ask only that they be marketed under their own product names, as substitute labeling could cause the consumer to identify the product with the original animal food product. The vegetable origin foods might be inferior, causing a dissatisfaction with all similar products, which could hurt dairy markets in many cases, he said.

What the Farm Bureau is asking is that the imitation products be allowed to enter the market under their own product names. Examples are already on the market. Margarine, Tang, and Egg Beaters are all substitutes, but marketed with a clearly recognized product name.

The Food and Drug Administration's address is: Hearing Clerk, Food & Drug Administration, Rm. 4-65, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, MD. 20857. The deadline for public comment is March 19.
