Person-to-Person

Jack Nottingham of Grey Forest has completed auctioneering school at Trinity University and soon will be a licensed Texas auctioneer.

New residents of Grey Forest are Mr. and Mrs. Steve Simpson, who bought the former Sherman place across from the Grey Moss Inn. Mr. Simpson is associated with the Datapoint Corporation.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Holden were on a skiing vacation at Ruidoso, N.M. this week. They own the former Ruth Harrison place in Helotes Ranch Acres.

The 1978 Parade of Homes for San Antonio will be held next July in Braun Station. The 1977 home show was held in San Antonio Ranch New Community and drew more than 40,000 visitors. So Helotes will be in the new home spotlight again this year with the show in Braun Station.

Artists from this area have gained much recognition in the art world. Artist Warren Hunter who resides in Grey Forest was shown at work recently, on the cover of "San Antonio", the monthly publication of the Greater San Antonio Chamber of Commerce. The accompanying article pointed out that "Warren Hunter has spent a lifetime coaxing images out of paint, becoming a legend in San Antonio to his students, other artists, and art gallery operators." His fame extends from the Hill Country, where he is most at home, to throughout the United States and beyond. He has received awards from the American Artists Professional League in New York, and others from Chicago. He has illustrated state history books for Texas, Georgia, Mississippi and Florida.

Artist Paul Kime recently returned from New Orleans, where he produced an art show featuring Western paintings. He was authorized to make selections for the high quality show during festivities there which drew much attention.

A Helotes Lioness Club, companion to the Helotes Lions Club, will be organized Tuesday night at the Helotes Methodist Church. All ladies interested are invited to meet at the church at 7:30 p.m. The Helotes Lions will meet at the same time at Chef John's Loft Restaurant.

CONTESTED RACES SPARK AREA ELECTIONS

Johnny Cash TV Movie Full Of Surprises, Laughs

"Thaddeus Rose and Eddie," the CBS movie starring Johnny Cash and filmed partly in Helotes, apparently disappointed many local viewers — not that it wasn't good, but the people had built up expectations of something a lot better.

The movie was shown on the CBS network Friday night, Feb. 24.

The opening segment of the movie was filmed at Floore Country Store on three cold nights in early December. This was the segment in which Thaddeus (Sledge) Rose, played by Johnny Cash, and his sidekick Eddie went out looking for some fun. They made the acquaintance of two girls who were waiting in line to get into the dance at Floore's.

Later Thaddeus and Eddie got in a fight inside Floore's and were thrown out. This brawl in Floore Country Store was quite unrealistic because very seldom does Joe Alguereva, proprietor of the store, have any fighting there.

Helotes reappeared in the movie in the scenes in which Cash, his sidekick, and three other men were throwing tomatoes out of a jeep at buildings and cars on what was supposed to be Halloween night. This sequence started in Floresville around the court house square. But the part where a justice of the peace pursued them and they ran his car off the road was filmed in front of the Helotes Inn. The skid marks stayed on the street there for weeks.

Cut into this sequence were other scenes shot in Floresville of a couple who came out of their house to investigate the noise of the cars, and a tomato shot out of the exhaust pipe of the justice of the peace's car and hit the woman.

Most of the rest of the movie was shot in and around Floresville and in the Harlingen area. One segment seemed to have been made in Marble Falls at the bus station there. But that's the way, apparently, that movies are stitched together.

Cash and his sidekick played a pair of happy-go-lucky existential types who lived for the day—and night—until Cash decided he had to "get serious" about something (citrus fruit at first and later his patient standby girl friend played by June Carter Cash) and Eddie fell in love with an itinerant blonde, who warned him that she was "a goer, not a stayer."

The picaresque type plot had to be, of course, loosely strung together, but the overheavy slapstick inserted was a real mistake. Interesting was the

Voters To Go To Polls April 1

With the filing for mayor of Grey Forest late Wednesday night by Virginia Springer a race developed for the April 1 election to succeed incumbent Mayor Ed Faust. Real estate man Harry Drought had filed for the mayor's post earlier. Mayor Faust is not running for re-election.

The two city council posts open drew one candidate each. Roland J. Boysen, accountant, who filed for Place 2, and Jim Ed Riadon, aerial surveys editor, who filed for Place 4, have no opponents (unless a write-in campaign develops).

Boysen would succeed Margaret Martin, and Riadon would succeed E.E. Clark. Neither Mrs. Martin nor Clark opted for re-election.

Miss Springer is a former councilwoman, having served from 1974 to 1977. She was first appointed to the council to fill the unexpired term of a council member who resigned, and then was elected to a full two-year term. Miss Springer, a resident

Ron Lammert Enters Dist. 57-H Race For Legislature

Ron Lammert, Democratic candidate for District 57-H of the Texas House of Representatives, will officially open his campaign headquarters Thursday, March 9.

Opening activities are scheduled at 7:30 p.m. at the headquarters, 5319 Jackwood.

Food and refreshments will be served. Expected to attend the function are numerous Bexar County Democratic Party officials and elected office-holders, along with friends and supporters of the candidate.

Lammert, 31, owner of a San Antonio marketing and publishing firm, is expected to emphasize issues such as continued development for the University of Texas at San Antonio and monitored growth for the city over the Edwards Aquifer, with the protective measures based on standards consistent with balanced growth.

Lammert also has emphasized the need for relief of Bexar County taxpayers by transfer of financial responsibility for care of out-of-county indigent patients at the Bexar County Hospital to the state.

Lammert, currently a member of the Leon Valley City Council, is a former member of the Bexar County Democratic Executive Committee and holds

Rod Lammert, Candidate,
Texas House of Representatives,
District 57-H

a master's degree in communications from the University of Texas at Austin.

Married to the former Glenda Cook, Lammert is a two-year varsity football letterman at Trinity University, where he received his undergraduate degree in 1967.

Lammert, who is a member of Concordia Lutheran Church and a member of the church's Board of Elders, has been a Bexar County resident since 1966.

"I entered the race," he notes, "because I would like to become involved in our state governmental process. I would like to help the citizens of District 57-H."

Lammert has levelled criticism towards incumbent Don Cartwright by noting that Cartwright has done "a less-than-adequate" job and adds that "I don't think that the citizens of 57-H are willing to settle for second-best."

Lammert, a member of the North San Antonio Chamber of Commerce, and an elected delegate to four state Democratic conventions, emphasizes other major issues facing the district and the state.

He explains that he opposes "any new state taxes, such as personal or corporate income taxes" and does not favor the extension of the sales tax to food or drugs.

In regard to energy, Lammert has promised to work to remove the state sales tax on utility bills and to encourage the development of alternate energy sources.

Lammert, in discussing crime prevention, supports legislation that would keep repeat offenders convicted of violent crime off the streets and would push for tougher child pornography statutes.

Bank Plans New Facility

Dave Smiser, president of University National Bank, told the Echo Thursday that the bank expects construction to begin this summer on a new permanent building at the corner of Chase Hill and Loop 1604.

The bank presently is located at Babcock Road and 1604. It was opened on April 28, 1977, the first bank in the Helotes area.

The new building on the northeast corner of Chase Hill and 1604 will be a multi-story one with the University National Bank occupying the ground floor. Attached to the bank will be eight drive-in lanes.

The architects are Bartlett Cocke and Associates, and the design will tie-in with the buildings on the UTSA campus across 1604 from the site.

Real Estate Developer Charles Kuper is organizing the investment group that will own the multi-story building. The bank will have an option to buy the building later.

The board of directors of the bank has approved the development of a permanent facility, but it must also be cleared with the U.S. Comptroller.

The bank's present facility at Babcock and 1604 may become a branch of Gibraltar Savings and Loan, Smiser said.

Feb. Rains Total 2.1 Inches

February rains totaled 2.1 inches and more than one-half the month—or about 20 days—had freezing or below freezing weather. January had also a tally of 2.1 inches, making rainfall for 1978 4.2 inches, according to records of Henry Brauchle, local rancher and weather observer.

At this time last year rainfall for February 1977 was 1.2. Last year March had 11 inches of rain, but so far March has been like a lion—cold, windy, misty but with little rainfall. With an early Easter, it is predictable that March will be milder than average. At 8 a.m. Friday, 43 degree F. weather was about typical for March 3.

Three Nominated For Piper Awards

Dr. Dewey Davis

Dr. M. Neal Guentzel

Dr. Carolyn Kessler

Three UTSA faculty members have been nominated by the University for the Piper Professor of 1978 award, to be announced in April.

Nominated are Dr. Dewey Davis, professor of higher education and science education; Dr. M. Neal Guentzel, associate professor of microbiology; and Dr. Carolyn Kessler, associate professor of linguistics and English as a second language, who is a member of the Sisters of Providence of St. Mary-of-the-Woods, Indiana.

The Minnie Stevens Piper Foundation will name 10 Piper Professors for 1978.

Dr. Beverly J. Gibbs, UTSA vice president for academic affairs, noted that Dr. Davis, Dr. Guentzel and Dr. Kessler are excellent teachers. The three nominees were selected by a UTSA faculty committee.

ELECTIONS SET FOR APRIL 1 (from page 1)

of Grey Forest since 1966, is employed by Eastern Air Lines in their San Antonio administration offices.

Two incumbent city council members, Ruth Morris and Marion Heisler, have one more year to serve on their two-year terms and so do not have to stand for re-election this year.

The work of the Grey Forest city council is much more responsible than might be expected for a community the size of Grey Forest inasmuch as the council is the governing body for Grey Forest Utilities, a $2 million natural gas distribution system serving 1,600 homes and businesses in Northwest Bexar County.

Mayor Faust said Thursday he feels the Grey Forest Utilities system is now in good shape. During his two terms the system moved into the black for the first time both in its operation cash flow and in payments on the bonded indebtedness to the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, which loaned the money to build the system. Grey Forest Utilities also moved into new offices and shops on Highway 16 in downtown Helotes during his incumbency.

Pipe for 44 additional installations in more new homes in San Antonio Ranch New Community is now being laid, he said, with the prospect that 100 more will be needed in the near future.

LEON VALLEY RACES

In Leon Valley, a race for the mayor's position has developed between Bob Williams, now a Leon Valley city councilman, and Michael R. Martin. They are seeking to succeed Mayor Marcus Semmelmann, who is not running for a new term.

Two other Leon Valley races are for city council Place 2 and Place 4 positions. Filing for Place 2 were Irene S. Baldridge and Bob Scarborough. Filing for Place 4 were Kenneth P. O'Gorman and Philip H. Francis.

NORTHSIDE CONTESTS

In the Northside Independent School District board of trustees election, also on April 1, all three incumbents have filed for the places to be open, and all have drawn opposition. Those filing are:

Place 5 - Wayne Nance (incumbent), Dr. Robert B. James, and Walter C. (Kelly) Lange.

Place 6 - Raul B. Fernandez (incumbent), Willis G. Womack, and Dr. Robert J. Reyes.

Place 7 - Olan Phillips (incumbent) and Eugene G. Reynolds. Reynolds is a former board member who was defeated for re-election three years ago and now is eligible to run again.

Absentee voting in the school district races will be conducted March 13-28 at the district's central office, 5900 Evers Rd., during office hours.

Voting on April 1 will be conducted for residents of the Helotes area at the Helotes School. Precincts to vote at the Helotes School are Bexar County Precincts 244, 245 and 246, Medina County Precinct 5, and Bandera County Precinct 2.

Voters should have their new current gold registration certificates, as the old blue certificates have expired.

Some people think burdock leaves will cure fevers.

Mr. And Mrs. Edward Hartmann Honored On 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hartmann are shown cutting the cake at their surprise wedding reception and open house.

Two hundred guests attended a surprise reception and open house Sunday, Feb. 25, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hartmann on the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary, with their son and daughter as hosts.

Richard Hartmann of Helotes and Mrs. James (Norma) Grenlund—who flew in from Capron, Illinois for the occasion—also honored their parents with a dinner on the eve of the couple's anniversary at the Golden Palace. The dinner was attended by family and close friends.

The reception was held at the home of the honorees on Wagner-Menchaca Road in Helotes. During preparations the honorees had been at their Medina Lake property and the secret was kept until the opening moment.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hartmann were married on Sunday, Feb. 26, 1928 in Edinburg, Texas. Mrs. Hartmann was the former Miss Nadine Sutton.

The honored couple moved to Helotes about 13 years ago. They have been active in community and social life there.

Mr. Hartmann has been manager of Dunderbak's in San Antonio until his recent retirement. They are members of the Forest Hills Presbyterian Church in Helotes.

Mrs. Hartmann is a founder of the Silver Belles social club here. She is a volunteer worker at Audie Murphy Veterans Hospital, and is active in the American Association of retired Persons.

Mr. and Mrs. Hartmann have travelled throughout the United States while Mr. Hartmann pursued a career in food management, and they have an extensive collection of photos of their travels. In addition, Mrs. Hartmann has painted many scenes and flowers in oils.

Mr. and Mrs. Hartmann have seven grandchildren, including five grandsons and two granddaughters.

The community extends its congratulations to the happy couple on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary.

The Downtown YWCA is starting a new series of four-week Saturday classes. The classes include guitar, twirling, cheerleading, spanish dance, ballet, gymnastics and swimming. For more information on times call 227-1441.

Public Invited To View Art

Four internationally-known artists will lecture and exhibit works at UTSA during March and April through the University's new visiting artists program, partially funded by a grant from the National Endowment for the Arts. All lectures and exhibits will be open to the public without charge.

Each lecture will be at 3 p.m. in room 2.01.10 of the Humanities-Business Building. Exhibits will be displayed in the second floor lobby of the Arts Building. Hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Sculptor Italo Scanga will speak on "Sculpture as an Event" March 13. Scanga is associate professor of sculpture at Tyler School of Art, Temple University, Philadelphia. His works are included in collections at the Smithsonian Institution; Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York; the Museum of Art, Rhode Island School of Design; and the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts, Philadelphia.

He has lectured and his works have been shown in one-man and group exhibits throughout the country.

"Contemporary Glasswork and Art" will be discussed March 23 by Dale Chihuly. His works will be exhibited at UTSA March 3-17.

The award-winning glass blower is director of the glass program at Rhode Island School of Design. His works have been exhibited in one-man shows most recently at the University of Minnesota and the Yuma Fine Arts Center. He has participated in group exhibits throughout Europe and the United States.

Chihuly will demonstrate glass blowing March 25 at the Southwest Crafts Center.

Austrian-born painter Paul Rotterdam will lecture March 27 on "Normal Reality and Aesthetic Reality" and his works will be displayed at UTSA March 20-30.

A former lecturer on visual studies at Harvard University, Rotterdam has had one-man exhibits and participated in group exhibits in Italy, Austria, Germany, Japan and France, as well as throughout the U.S.

"The Artist Changes His Mind" will be the topic of James Sullivan's discussion April 12. Works by Sullivan, a painter, are included in public collections at the Whitney Museum of American Art, New York City; The American Institute of Architects, Washington, D.C.; and the University of North Carolina Collection.

Sullivan has participated in exhibitions at the High Museum of Atlanta, Atlanta, Ga.; Worcester Museum, Worcester, Mass.; and the Fischbach Gallery, New York City. He is the recipient of a Fulbright Fellowship in painting to Paris and in 1973 won the American Academy of Arts and Letters Award in Painting.

Lions Offer Free Camp

Applications for a summer vacation full of fun for handicapped children in the Helotes area are now being accepted by members of the Helotes Lions Club.

Texas Lions Camp for Crippled Children at Kerrville will open its first two-weeks session Sunday, June 4. Four sessions will be held this summer for youngsters from seven through sixteen years of age.

The camp is free to eligible blind, deaf, mute or crippled children.

For more detailed information about the Camp, you are urged to contact Jim Greenlees of the Helotes Lions Club.

In the past 25 years, Lions have sent almost 18,000 youngsters to the Texas Lions Camp for Crippled Children at Kerrville.

Fritz Nominated

Presidential Scholars, selected under the auspices of the U.S. Office of Education, are picked from 750 qualifying students in the Nation. John Jay High School has a candidate.

Mike J. Fritz, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Fritz, 7134 Meadow Breeze, has been notified by the Commission on Presidential Scholars of his candidacy.

The program annually honors America's most intellectually distinguished graduating high school seniors.

Fritz has accepted an appointment to the U.S. Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs.

Lampman Heads Hermann Sons

Serving as president this year of Helotes Lodge No. 76 of the Order of the Sons of Hermann in Texas is Clifton Lampman, who was recently installed along with other lodge officers.

Helotes Lodge, formed in 1893, now has 588 adult and junior members.

Other officers are Lawrence Schenk, vice president; Alvina Mosmann, recording and financial secretary and treasurer; William Braun, David Wilson, and Felix Braun, trustees; Henry Schaub, Ruth Lampman, and Clarence Galm, finance committee; Beatrice Jonas, guide; Burton Braun, inner guard; and Bernice Kempf, outer guard.

Lodge meetings are held at 2:30 p.m. the first Sunday of each month.

CAR BATTERIES NEED CAUTION

Nearly 8,000 injuries from car batteries occur each year, three-fourths of them involving the eye, reports the Texas Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

A car battery can become a highly explosive bomb, the society warns. The colder the weather, the more unresponsive batteries become. Reenergizing them can lead to serious injuries, especially when proper starting procedures are not followed.

Explosions can and do occur and when an open flame is used to check battery water level, and when emergency starting cables and rapid-charging devices are misused.

Filled with a mixture of sulfuric acid and water, car batteries generate hydrogen gas which is easily ignited. A spark or flame near this dangerous gas can produce a blast forceful enough to send battery acid and fragments flying. Chemical burns of the eyes account for almost half of the injuries. Flying debris also takes a heavy toll.

Protective eye wear is a must for anyone working with car batteries, as well as for those standing nearby, the society urges.

In an effort to minimize the risk of injury during battery jumping, the society recommends this proper step-by-step procedure.

Before attaching the cables:
+Extinguish all cigarettes and pocket all matches and lighters.

+Position the cars so the jumper cables will reach both batteries, but do not allow the vehicles to touch.

+Turn off the ignition and accessories in both cars, put the shift lever in the park or neutral position, and set the emergency brake.

+Remove caps from both batteries to vent dangerous gases, and check for ice in the battery water. DO NOT JUMP START A FROZEN BATTERY!

+Be sure the booster battery and the dead battery are the same voltage. (12-volt batteries generally have six filler ports, while six-volt batteries usually have only three ports. Tractors and other power farm vehicles and some imported cars may require special starting procedures; follow manufacturer's instructions.)

Then:

1. Connect one jumper cable clamp to the positive (+) pole of the dead battery, and the other end of the same cable to the positive (+) pole of the booster battery.

2. Connect the second cable to the negative (-) pole of the booster battery, clamping the other end to the engine block of the car with the dead battery, on the side away from the battery.

3. Start the car with the good battery; then the disabled car.

Goggles and gloves are musts when using jump cables to start a car with a dead battery. Texas Society for the Prevention of Blindness gives step-by-step method for starting a car this way in the accompanying article.

4. Remove the cable to the engine block and the other car's negative terminal, then disconnect the positive cable. Finally, replace all battery caps.

Two Certified For Emergency

The Helotes area's first two state-certified emergency treatment specialists, Mrs. Columbus Stutes and Billy Cornwall, both of Grey Forest, were graduated Friday night, Feb. 24, from the ENT training school conducted in Boerne by San Antonio College for the past 3½ months.

Mrs. Stutes and Cornwall will work with the Grey Forest Volunteer Fire Department. They will be dispatched out of the county-wide EMS center in San Antonio.

"Our living right in the area will make possible the delivery of emergency care in five minutes or so rather than the 20 to 30 minutes for help to come from San Antonio," Mrs. Stutes said.

She and Cornwall also took the national certification examination at the end of their training, but will not know the results for some time.

Their training was sponsored and paid for by the Grey Forest VFD. The fire department now is raising money for a pick-up truck to be used by the emergency specialists in answering calls. It will be equipped with a water tank so that it may also be used for responding to small fires as well as emergency calls for sick and injured persons.

Assisting Mrs. Stutes and Cornwall will be Mrs. Stutes' daughter and son, Kathleen and Columbus, Jr., who are certified Emergency Care Attendants.

YANKEE INGENUITY: The first patent granted an American invention was for a scythe-grinding machine in Massachusetts in 1645.

Card Of Thanks

Mr. James Greenlees, President
Helotes Lions Club

Dear President Greenlees:

"People caring for people" or "When the chips are down—there are Lions". When there is a job to do—most Lions jump in to be counted.

Hundreds of courageous blind men and women find the ability to be a part of the community because Lions treat them like humans. Lions want all people to be equal—to have an opportunity to compete in the fast moving world.

Lions make the Leader Dog program possible. Lions put blind folks ahead of themselves, sometimes forgetting their own problems. Lions make the world a better place for everyone because they work to "Give".

A lot of deserving people wear a smile of victory over blindness because of you. Thanks, Helotes Lions, for your gift of $160.00.

Sincerely yours,

LEADER DOGS FOR THE BLIND

University History Being Shown

A permanent photo exhibit—located in the visitors' area of the John Peace Library on campus—now portrays the first years of the University of Texas at San Antonio. Viewers can recapture the University's beginnings from its establishment in 1969 in temporary quarters to last January, when Dr. James W. Wagener became acting president and third chief administrator.

Produced by the UTSA Institute of Texan Cultures, the showing includes 70 dramatic photographs in black and white, mostly by noted photographer Gil Barrera.

The exhibit is open to the public from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays, and 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Fridays.

Holmes High Stage Band Named Best In Jazz Fest

Six of America's foremost jazz musicians simultaneously rose to their feet when Holmes High School Stage Band performed the ballad, "Hate To See You Go," this past weekend in Arlington.

The judges gave Most Outstanding Band trophy for the University of Texas at Arlington Jazz Festival to Holmes, after hearing performances of 41 Texas stage bands, representing Odessa, Richardson, Dallas and Houston high schools, among others.

Presenting the coveted trophy to Director Gary Rosenblatt, judges cited the Holmes High student musicians for their "sensitivity." According to the judges, "The Holmes Stage Band's got 'class'."

Considered the most prestigious jazz festival in the Southwest, the UT-Arlington Festival, was held Feb. 24 and 25. Nationally-acclaimed judges included Saxophonist Tony Campise and trombonist Phil Herring, both formerly with Stan Kenton's Orchestra; John Pearson, Austin ISD music director; Joel Leach, president, National Association of Jazz Educators; and Professional Drummer Jim Coffin.

Nine hundred student musicians performed. From the group, 20 students were named for the Festival's All-Star Band, including Holmes Band Trumpet Soloist, Len Hess.

Cited as Outstanding Individual Performers were Gary Ireland, Tenor Sax; Jesus Moreno, Alto and Soprano Sax; Isaac Garza, drums; all of Holmes.

Columbus Stutes' W. F. Marie Dies In Boerne Feb. 20

Mother Dies

Mrs. Margaret Neckar, mother of Grey Forest resident Columbus Stutes, died Feb. 28 at her home in Elkhart, near Tyler, and was buried Thursday, March 2, in the Fort Sam Houston National Cemetery beside her husband.

In addition to Mr. Stutes, Mrs. Neckar is survived by three other children, 15 grandchildren and 3 great-grandchildren. One of her daughters, Mrs. Raymond Perry, lives in San Antonio.

Mrs. Neckar was born in Lafayette, La.

Sympathy is extended to Mr. Stutes and other members of the family.

Walter Felix Marie, a World I veteran of the American Expeditionary Forces and longtime resident of Helotes, died Feb. 20, 1978 in Boerne, Texas. Just three weeks earlier his wife, Mrs. Gertrude Marie, preceded him in death.

The couple, who would have been married 60 years on Nov. 11, were married on Armistice Day in 1918.

Mr. Marie was a native Texan, and was from Cuero. His wife was from England. They were residents of McNeel Park here since World War II's end. He had been retired for some years. A few years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Marie had moved to Town & Country Nursing Home in Boerne.

He is survived by numerous nieces and nephews, and friends.

Burial was in the family plot with services held in Cuero, Texas.

Many friends and neighbors remember the couple who were active in the growth of this area a few decades ago.

Ensemble Contest

Fifteen hundred middle school musicians, ages 11 to 14, will be competing March 4, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., in the Annual Northside Independent School District Solo and Ensemble Contest at Hobby Middle School.

Music Director and Contest coordinator is Bob Lewis.

Participating schools include Anson Jones, Sul Ross, Hobby, Pat Neff, E.M. Pease, Rayburn, and Coke Stevenson.

Johnny Thomas was written up in the February issue of TEXAS PROUD—a publication stressing C & W entertainment and published in Brazoria for statewide distribution—which reports that Johnny has a new release on Magdum Records coming out. It has "Teach Me To Forget", a Leon Payne song, backed with Johnny's own song, "Blow, Wind Blow." He plays in the San Antonio area with his band, The Texas Rangers, and has been doing well.

Southwest Texas Wins Sweepstakes In Forensics

The team of Karen Townsend and Donna Blevins from Southwest Texas State University won first place in varsity debate at UTSA's first annual Roadrunner Forensic Tournament Feb. 18.

Second place went to Scott Wyant and Bob White from Texas Lutheran College.

In junior varsity debate, the team of Mark Whitney and Sophie Betchley from UTSA won the first-place trophy. John Franz and Raul Garza from Pan American University won second place.

First place sweepstakes was won by Southwest Texas. UTSA won second place and Pan American won third place in sweepstakes.

Placing first, second and third in individual junior varsity debate were Mark Whitney, UTSA; Sophie Betchley, UTSA; and John Franz, Pan American.

The top award in prose interpretation went to Liz Mormino from McLennan Community College. Second place went to Kathryn Miller from McLennan, and third place went to Sophie Betchley from UTSA.

In poetry interpretation, Alma Chapa from Pan American placed first, Marco Adams from Pan American placed second and Mary Lyons from McLennan placed third.

Winning first, second and third places in persuasive speaking were Ann Reader, Texas Lutheran; and Donna Blevins and Linda Corona, both from Southwest Texas.

For impromptu speaking,

Doug Bruce of UTSA placed first, Ron Gilmore of Texas Southern University placed second and Debbie Gonzalez of Pan American placed third.

About 100 debaters and speakers, representing 10 Texas colleges and universities, competed.

UTSA's Division of English, Classics and Philosophy sponsored the tournament. Dr. Charles Kneupper, assistant professor of communication, was program coordinator.

UTSA Digging

UTSA archaeologists are excavating a prehistoric site located east of the university on Loop 1604.

The prehistoric site, discovered by UTSA archaeologists in 1975-76, shows evidence of human activity dating from early Archaic times (4,000-5,000 B.C.) to sometime after 1,000 A.D. The site has been nominated to the National Register of Historic Places.

Center field crews and volunteers from UTSA are conducting the excavation project, which will continue through April.

Dr. Thomas Hester said in addition to dating the prehistoric occupations found at the site, the archaeologists are studying environmental changes revealed by changes in plant populations.

"The site is large, and is important in Texas archaeology because it has various occupations that are horizontally as well as vertically separated. This gives us a better chance to explore behavioral activities at the site," Dr. Hester said.

The project is funded through an $82,000 grant from the National Park Service.

They Seek Pen Pals

Two teenagers from Australia who were with a group touring the Southwest have written their hosts, Helotes Lions Club President and Mrs. Jim Greenlees requesting pen pals for the 35 classmates who enjoyed seeing this part of Texas. Shown here with Mr. and Mrs. Greenlees are 15-year-old Catherine (Kathy) Brown, second from left, and Dianne Williams, both of Tasmania. Those who wish a pen pal from ages 13 through 19, may contact Mr. and Mrs. Greenlees or the Echo for addresses.

In regard to the issue of "big government," Lammert has voiced his support for "zero-based budgeting" and for further implementation of "sunset laws" throughout State government to provide more responsive and less wasteful service.

use in the plot of the old familiar subject of the vagaries of citrus farming in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. Texans have known about that problem for a long time, but it had not been used before in any nationally distributed dramatic production.

The only singing Johnny Cash did in the film was his voice over the credits at the tailend. Maybe his not being permitted to do more singing was a disappointment to many viewers. But his usual heavy, somber singing style would have been out-of-character for the role he was playing as Sledge.

The film was said to be a pilot of a new TV series about Sledge and Eddie, so they may turn up again in some future TV season. To visit with these lighthearted and lightheaded good ol' Texas boys once a week for 30 minutes would be pleasurable.

Comedy Stars Rose Marie

Rose Marie

Rose Marie, star of stage, screen, radio and television, portrays Marge Howland, a housewife running for public office, in the comedy "Up a Tree," which has its grand opening tonight at Fiesta Dinner Playhouse and runs through April 2. For reservations and group rate information, call 494-7793.

Among those recently hospitalized here were two McNeel Park residents. Both are being welcomed home by their families and respective friends. Mrs. Baxter Melgaard suffered from a virus. Phillip Pittman underwent tests successfully. Everyone wishes them a hasty and complete recovery.

Studio-Kilns On Campus Near Completion

UTSA's new sculpture and ceramics studio — Dr. James Wagener, UTSA acting president, said last week — is now 90 percent complete and should be in use for the second summer term which begins July 11.

In addition to the 7,550-square-foot studio, the project includes an adjacent foundry and kilns. The facilities are located on the west side of the campus.

Ron Binks, director of the UTSA Division of Art and Design, noted that the foundry will be the only one in the San Antonio area and one of the few in Texas. It will be used for bronze and other metal casting.

The kilns will be used for raku firing, salt glazing, stoneware reduction firing and low fire oxidation.

Housed in the studio will be extensive ceramics, welding and woodworking equipment and a crane for moving sculpture weighing up to several tons.

Binks said that courses will be taught at the studio this summer by Ron Cohen, assistant professor of sculpture, and Stephen Reynolds, visiting associate professor of ceramics.

Sculpture has been taught at UTSA since 1976. The ceramics classes will be the first offered by the University.

Dr. Wagener also announced that UTSA's photography laboratory is scheduled for completion in May. He said students will be using the new lab this summer, located in the Arts Building.

Photography has been taught in temporary labs since 1975.

UTSA offers bachelor of fine arts and master of fine arts degrees in ceramics, sculpture and photography as well as in painting, drawing and print-making.

Holdens Buy Business Site

Clearing of the six acres between Helotes School and the post office this week was being done by Scott Holden of Helotes Ranch Acres, who will move his heavy equipment business to that location. An office and shop are to be built at the site.

Scott is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arch Holden, who own the former Menger Ranch on Bandera Highway near Villarreal's. The Holdens have been subdividing the ranch and have sold out the 49 plots in Unit 1. Nine homes are completed or under construction in Unit 1. They are planning another 200 plots in Unit II.

Mr. Holden is a rancher, land developer and banker with interests throughout South Texas.
