Person-to-Person

Mrs. Yolanda Davis, Scenic Loop Road, returned this week from a ten-day vacation in London, England.

Rev. Cliff Walker of the Holy Spirit Episcopal Church was named this week to be the diocesan ecumenical officer of the Episcopal Diocese of West Texas by the bishop, the Rt. Rev. Scott Field Bailey.

Michael Damian of the television series, "The Young and the Restless," will be honorary chairman of San Antonio's March of Dimes Walk America '82 on March 28. Damian will make special appearances at all four San Antonio area walks—in Boerne, New Braunfels, Kerrville and San Antonio.

Mrs. Linda Rodriguez of Bandera Road spent her birthday Wednesday in a hospital undergoing surgery.

The weather was spring-like at midweek, with the sunny daytime high on Wednesday almost 80 degrees. But for the week's end, cold weather again was being predicted.

Hank Cunningham moved his Helotes Bicycle shop this week into the historic home in Downtown Helotes, formerly owned by Marie Conley.

Mrs. Ella Dunford was glad to be off jury duty and back in her busy barber and beauty shop. The law suit she was chosen for ended in a hung jury.

New Northside Superintendent Jack Jordan sent his thanks this week to the Leon Valley Fire Department for their assistance in three recent emergencies at Leon Valley School. He thanked Chief Curtis Dunn and his men for their concern and gentle manner in which they handled the injured children. He also praised the Leon Valley firemen for their many visits to the school in the past to demonstrate fire-fighting equipment and help educate the students about their work and fire prevention.

Candidates Square Off For April Elections

Four Vie for Mayor of Helotes

Candidates for city offices in Helotes, Grey Forest and Leon Valley, for the Northside District school board, and for the Helotes Park Estates water board all had to file this week. The elections will be held Saturday, April 3.

In Helotes, the mayor and entire city council, in office only since Nov. 15, will have to run again to retain their incumbency. After this election, the council members elected will draw lots to see who is to have a two-year term and who a one-year term.

Incumbent Mayor Tom Beatty will have three opponents in the April 3 Helotes city election. They are Charles (Chuck) Lee, Bennie H. Lyon and Frank Thompson. Lee ran for city council in November. Lyon ran against Beatty and Pete Cantu for mayor and finished second. Thompson, a building contractor living in Helotes Park Estates, is a newcomer to the mayor's race.

All five incumbent Helotes city council persons filed for re-election. They are Guy Burnett, Leonard Hill, Reudy Loeffler, Verna Thompson and Pat Wootton. Two additional candidates for city council who filed this week are Pete Cantu and Mike Krisak.

Incumbent City Marshal Earl Smith filed for re-election and has no opponent.

In Grey Forest, Mayor Manuel Vara filed for re-election, as did Councilman Matt Vyvermen. Janet Shelton filed for the other vacancy on the Grey Forest council. She has not run before, and seeks Harry Drought's place. Drought did not file for re-election after two terms on the council.

In Leon Valley, the mayor, Kenneth Alley, and two incumbent council members whose terms are expiring filed for re-election. The council members are Bob Scarborough and Charlotte Asch. Mrs. Asch drew no opponent, but running also for Scarborough's place will be Jim Brown and James O. Perry.

For the two expiring terms on the Northside District school board, the two incumbents, Nellie Reddix and Harry G. Cunningham, filed for re-election. Mrs. Reddix

Two small automobiles were in collision Wednesday afternoon, March 3, at the busiest intersection in Helotes, where blinker lights sometimes prove ineffectual, the corner of Scenic Loop Road and Bandera Road, (Highway 16). After impact both cars traveled from one lane across another, where a second impact took place. Not seriously injured were both drivers. Taken to a hospital for observation were Suzanne Pizzini, 20, traveling on Highway 16, and John Schelling of Low Road, who was on Scenic Loop. Since the accident took place before 4 p.m., Highway 16 traffic was scattered, thus preventing a more serious series of accidents. (Staff Photo)

Chalk up 4 Inches

March came in like a gray lamb, but a decided improvement over cold February here. Two inches of rain fell in February, matching precipitation in January almost exactly for a total of four inches for 1982. There were 19 days in January of 40 degrees or lower with an average mean temperature of 42.6 degrees according to records kept by Henry Brauchle, local weather observer. If the predicted March 6 weather materializes, remember the Alamo. For it was in just such a dreary temperature that the Alamo fell on March 6, 1836 when the rescuing Texas volunteers didn't make it because—among other things—of the hazardous weather unfit for man or beast. The latest freeze date expected here—according to records—should be March 15—the week before Spring arrives.

Helotes Bank Opens

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brauchle, seated, were the first depositors in the Helotes State Bank when it opened Monday morning, March 1. Accepting their deposit is Mary Wynn. Looking on are Dale Parker, president of the bank, Dr. Norman L. Wulfsohn, chairman of the board of directors, and Bennie Lyon, vice chairman. (Photo by Bill Akerson. Additional photo Page 12)

OPTIMISTS PLAN RUN

Edwards Board OK's Dam

Directors of the Edwards Underground Water District will discuss water resources issues in regard to pending revisions of the Texas Water Plan at the regular bi-monthly board meeting at 10 a.m. Tuesday, March 9, in San Antonio, Tom Fox, general manager of the EUWD, has announced.

To be considered by the 15-member board for comments and suggestions is "An Overview of Texas Water Resource Problems and Water Resource Issues," prepared by the Texas Department of Water Resources.

The executive committee of the board of directors of the Edwards Underground Water District Thursday morning awarded the H. B. Zachry Co. of San Antonio the contract to construct the district's Seco Creek Recharge Dam project in Medina County.

The Zachry Co. was the low bidder out of seven submitted with a bid of $276,114.40.

Second low bidder was J.

R. Ramon and Sons, with a bid of $296,196.55. Highest bid was $457,041.50 from Jalco, Inc.

The Seco Creek dam and diversion channel, located on the upper reaches of Seco Creek 14 miles north of D'Hanis, is the fourth recharge project initiated and financed entirely by the EUWD, said Tom Fox, EUWD General manager.

The structure, which also will provide for flood control above D'Hanis, will be 15 feet high and 350 feet long. The diversion channel to a nearby cave will be 1600 feet long and 16 feet deep. Average annual recharge to the Edwards Aquifer will be 1185 acre feet.

The first recharge project undertaken by the EUWD was the Parker Creek Dam, which was completed in 1973. The district has also participated with other agencies and counties in a number of recharge and flood control projects in the five-county area.

Michelle Monaco is "Miss Smile"

and was held at the University of Texas Health Science Center.

The smile, poise and personality of the contestants played a big part in the judging but before the evening presentation, each contestant was required to submit a 450 word essay on "How Dental Health Affects Me."

Michelle was presented a silver "Miss Smile" charm and a $100 savings bond. She will also ride the Dental Association fiesta float in the River Parade.

Michelle is the granddaughter of Mrs. Mariana Applewhite of Helotes, and resides in Boerne with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Charles Monaco.

"A smile can say more than a spoken word"....this is a proverb that was aptly applied as one of the Boerne High School Students was recently crowned "Miss Kendall County Fair Association," Michelle Monaco was crowned "Miss Smile, 1982."

The "Miss Smile" contest is an event sponsored by the San Antonio District Dental Society Women's Auxiliary.

Announces candidacy for

Mayor of Helotes

Introducing myself, Frank N. Thompson, as candidate for Mayor of Helotes. I am an established General Contractor in the San Antonio and Helotes area. My wife, Freda, and myself operate our business in Helotes. We are residents at 13802 Flying W. Trail. We have four grown children residing in San Antonio.

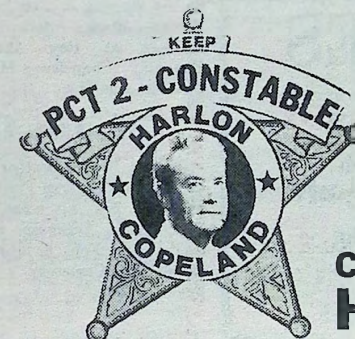

Having lived in a small city for 35 years (Poteet, Texas), I am aware of and concerned about the needs of a small city. I feel I can assist and deal with these needs and make our city better for all.

I served four years in the Coast Guard. I have been in the construction field for 22 years, self-employed for the past 8 years.

We moved to Helotes in 1979 for the same reason other people did, to enjoy the small town atmosphere. We are property owners of both residential and business property, and I am willing to work for the needs of all people.

Reports from Washington

Economic Report To Congress

Almost everyone is aware of the State of the Union message which the President delivers in person to Congress and the nation. In recent years, however, a second report has become perhaps more important for those of us making public policy. This year, The Economic Report to Congress has been high on everyone's reading list.

The 357-page document, put together by the Council of Economic Advisers and signed by the President, contains few surprises. It is somewhat cautious about projecting the future, but steadfastly maintains that continued monetary restraint and further reduction in the rate of government spending are necessary to reduce inflation, bring down interest rates, and to provide the basis for sustained economic growth.

During 1981, we saw general economic conditions reflecting the transition in federal economic policies. The major elements of the program for economic recovery are designed to increase long-term economic growth and to reduce inflation. Short term recovery miracles are not expected.

According to the report, the conflict between continued expectations of rising inflation, based on the history of the last 15 years and more recent monetary restraint, explains many current problems.

The outlook for 1983 and subsequent years is based on a continuation of the Administration's spending, tax, and regulatory policies, continued monetary restraint, and broader public recognition that the Administration is committed to each of these elements. Prospective budget deficits result from differences in the timing of spending and tax policy actions and the impact of continued monetary restraint on nominal gross national product growth.

Given our nation's economic situation, it is absolutely incumbent on Congress to remain committed to reducing the projected deficit now and in the years ahead. Financing huge federal budget deficits absorbs money that otherwise would be available to the private sector. And, the plain fact is that the federal government's demand for funds is insensitive to changes in interest rates. What that means is that the Treasury will raise the funds that it requires regardless of interest rates while the private sector suffers.

Economists say that during a recession a given deficit can be financed with less pressure on interest rates than during a period of growth, when business and consumer demands for credit are increasing. That is why it is imperative for the government to reduce the budget deficit in FY 1983 and beyond when a period of accelerated growth is expected.

The current recession is expected to end in 1982, followed by a resumption of growth. According to the report, the key areas of rebound in the economy this year are expected to be consumer goods, housing, autos, and defense. The principal areas that are anticipated to lead the expansion next year are business investment, inventories, and further acceleration in defense deliveries.

Reversing the trends of the past is not an easy task. The damage inflicted on our economy was done by imprudent and inappropriate policies over a period of many years. There is no quick fix, as I have said before, but during the past year we have made a substantial beginning. Much hard work lies ahead.

Mrs. Douglas Wayne Miller

The wedding of Miss Paula Jean Traugott and Douglas Wayne Miller was solemnized by the Rev. Gregory Lahay and Rev. Anthony Stuebben in an afternoon ceremony on Saturday, Jan. 30 in St. Gerard's Catholic Church. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick C. Traugott, of San Antonio, and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. William T. Miller, also of San Antonio.

When presented in marriage by her parents, the bride was lovely in a gown made by her mother of white satin and Chantilly lace enhanced with seed pearls; the fitted bodice styled with a scalloped neckline and long tapered sleeves, and the full skirt bordered with a satin and lace ruffle. A headband of flowers and seed pearls held the illusion veil, and she carried a spring bouquet of white flowers centered with two pink roses.

Mrs. Pamela Hester of Taft served as matron of honor for her sister. Bridesmaids were her sisters, Miss Sharon Traugott; and Mmes. Laura Gates, Jo Ann Nunnally and Patricia Hodge, all of this city. Mitzi Gaynor and Engelbert Humperdinck, two of Las Vegas' true superstars, are scheduled to be on stage at the Majestic Performing Arts Center in San Antonio.

They won't be appearing together, but each will be bringing a special brand of talent to the Majestic stage less than a week apart. Engelbert will be here for three shows, March 12 and 13. Mitzi, backed by a 16-piece orchestra and 10 dancers, will be here for five performances from March 18 to 21.

Artist Clinton Baermann to show in Boerne

This western and landscape artist is a native of Texas. One of a vanishing breed of artists that believes you need to live the life you paint. He has hunted the land, walked it for hundreds of miles, photographed it, recorded its history, dug in it for its secrets and painted it. Baermann brings the country alive in paintings bursting with veracity, imagination and strength.

Clinton Baermann's talent has been responsible for the cover of many western magazines. He was commissioned by the Texas Press to paint a series of large oil paintings to be used as illustrations for the book, "The Capitals of Texas." His authentic still-life and action western oils have been printed and sold throughout the United States, and has made him a favorite among collectors.

In San Antonio, he painted a 66 ft. x 8 ft. oil for Budro's Restaurant. He also recently completed a mural for the Texas Ranger Hall of Fame in Waco.

This is the first time in over a year and a half that Baermann has shown in the San Antonio area. It is an excellent opportunity for local residents to experience an exhibit of this quality.

The show will be held at The Guadalupe Store, 255 So. Main, Boerne, from noon until 6 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday, March 20-21. Don't miss it!

Symphony Art Contest

Elementary school students have until March 10 to submit illustrations of "The Sorcerer's Apprentice" to the San Antonio Symphony's Elementary Student Art Contest.

Entries must be in the Symphony's office, 109 Lexington Street, by 4 p.m. that day or in Central Park Mall's administrative offices by 5 p.m. For a list of rules, such as sizes and media, call the symphony office at 225-6161.

Winning pictures will be exhibited at Central Park Mall March 13 to 20, and winners will receive ribbons at student concerts in April.

Symphony office emphasized they are looking for originality, not reproductions of Mickey Mouse in his role as the sorcerer's apprentice in a Walt Disney cartoon based on the story and Dukas' music.

"74" Wonderful Years

Oscar and Edna Wood were honored with a 74th wedding anniversary party—just one year short of their diamond jubilee—on Sunday, Feb. 28, with grandchildren, great grandchildren, and great-great grandchildren as well as their children and sisters present. The setting was the Southern Manor Nursing Home, where they have resided in good health since they moved to San Antonio from Helotes a few years ago.

The Woods were married on Feb. 29, 1908, but had to celebrate a day early since this is not Leap Year. They were a bride of 17 and a bridegroom of 21 when they married here in a country wedding at her parents' home. Her bridesmaid, who is a mere 90 years old, also resides at Southern Manor. Oscar, 95, ranched and farmed all his life and was still branding cattle at 83. Edna liked to help on the farm and rose at 4 a.m. to milk cows alongside her husband.

They recall that a hind-quarter of beef sold for seven cents, and it was a real drive from here to San Antonio to sell eggs and butter which Edna churned.

In addition, Oscar worked for the roads department of Bexar County and used a wagon and team to haul and spread gravel. He helped lay the gravel foundation for Scenic Loop Road. Before that, when the creeks rose or the rains came, the low road wasn't very practical and there were several difficult high roads to negotiate.

Mr. and Mrs. Wood have three daughters, Ruby Mangold, Lucille Dugosh and Winifred Hoffman. They have seven grandchildren, 14 great-grandchildren and six great-great-grandchildren. Oscar has two sisters, Hattie Norman and Veta Lacey, who attended with the family and a few friends.

Congratulations to this happy couple who have been such and inspiration to their friends and family.

Unique START Gallery To Open March 7

The San Antonio Museum of Art announces its newest unique gallery, START, will open on March 7. START is an orientation gallery designed to encourage museum visitors of all ages to interact with the exhibits within the gallery.

The Junior League of San Antonio donated $250,000 over a five-year period for the new gallery. The completely bilingual participatory gallery is located on the first floor of the San Antonio Museum of Art's East Tower. It is composed of six exhibits, each designed to encourage the visitor to explore the basic elements of art—color, line, texture, shape and space.

A seven-foot-square Touch Wall will be the first area visitors will encounter. The design of the wall was chosen in a contest sponsored by the San Antonio Museum Association and the Junior League. Roland Rodriguez' winning design encompasses the idea of an interrelationship between art, architecture and music. The materials used in the wall range from stone and ceramics to a color wheel and revolving planetary forms.

Also in the START gallery is the Drawing Wall, a 21'x9' prepared surface of baked-on enamel to which most drawing and painting media will adhere. This wall will provide an area for artist's demonstrations, class projects and individual experimentation with art material provided.

Discovery Boxes are a major part of the gallery. These boxes will contain materials which focus on the elements of art, as well as worksheets that will include an introduction to the topic, a related glossary of terms and suggestions for projects which can be done at the museum with the box or at home with household objects.

Other features are the amphitheater in which visitors can sit and watch films, slide shows and demonstrations; computer terminals programmed to challenge the visitor with a wide selection of art topics and exercises in Spanish as well as English; and a gallery wall, a carpeted area for displaying mini exhibits and works of art from the museum's permanent collection.

Judy Gibbs, San Antonio Museum Association START coordinator, believed the timing of the March opening is very appropriate. "The National Art Educators Association has declared March as National Art Month. This ties in very nicely with the goals and objectives of the START gallery."

The San Antonio Museum of Art is located at 200 W. Jones Ave. It is open to the public Wednesday through Sunday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Admission is $2 for adults and $1 for children under 12. There is no admission charge Saturdays until noon.

PLAQUE POINTERS

Plaque is probably the biggest cause of tooth decay and eventual loss. What is it—how do we acquire it—and how do we control it?

Plaque is the sticky, practically colorless film that builds continuously on the teeth. The main inhabitants of plaque are bacteria—one milligram of plaque can contain a half-billion bacteria. Bacteria ferment sugars in the mouth (why not to eat sweets), changing them to acids which then eat away at tooth enamel. "Look, Ma—cavities."

As the plaque creeps below the gum line, it mineralizes and becomes razor-sharp deposits of tartar which is the catalyst of periodontal (or gum) disease—by far, the major cause of tooth loss in adults.

Plaque must be removed daily by "proper" brushing and the use of dental floss. Have your dentist or hygienist show you how to do it properly.

The best way, if not the only way, to remove tartar and long-established plaque is to have a professional cleaning. But, remember, it will start to reform the very next day. The only one who can remove plaque regularly is you.

If you have any questions or request further information please call or write 6336 Bandera Rd. Suite F, San Antonio, Texas 78238, 681-5320.
