A Lion Visits Ella's

An 8-month-old lion cub was an unusual visitor to Ella's Barber shop recently. He lives in Pipe Creek. His owner brought a son to Ella's for a hair cut, and the friendly and good-natured lion came along.

Leaving Ella's in his owner's pick-up truck, the young lion was glad to be back on the road again. (Staff photos)

Diseases Must Be Reported

Reporting communicable diseases will become every citizen's duty beginning Sept. 1, when the Texas Communicable Disease Control Act of 1983 goes into effect. One of the changes requires several non-physician groups to report known or suspected cases to the local health authorities. In the case of Helotes, the report should be made to Dr. Bob Demski, local health officer, at the City Hall. Where the officer is not known in other areas it is suggested that a City Hall report be made to the local Mayor.

Others who must make official reports will include every physician, dentist, and veterinarian. Local school authorities must report suspected cases.

Others have been told that they will have to report. These include registered nurses, medical laboratory directors, directors of child-care centers, nursing home administrators, and restaurant owners or managers. Parents or guardians are especially notified

Council Okays Radar

Purchase For City

A City Council meeting Thursday, July 21, which began routinely at 7 p.m. with Mayor Frank Thompson and three Councilmen present, developed into a simmering drama during the Citizens-to-be-heard item although the subject discussed had not been put on the agenda.

After one citizen complained about poor drainage and his inability to get action after four appearances at the City Council and was told that that is how it probably is in the Hill Country, a citizen accompanied by his attorney spoke out his grievance against Police Chief Don Falcon, and asked that the officer be immediately suspended and removed from his duties with the City of Helotes. The citizen making the request is Don Motz, 38, of Helotes Park Estates.

His attorney, Richard Wilson — who had a copy of a typewritten letter by Motz to Mayor Thompson on July 19, requesting that the Police Chief be immediately suspended — said that he had known Motz since 1956 and would represent him. He said that on July 12, 1983, the Chief of Police entered Motz' home without any excuse and began a course of intimidation against Motz which was, Wilson explained, both physical and mental. He pointed out that Motz was put under arrest when a disorderly conduct charge was filed.

The incident was precipitated when Motz' brother and wife attempted to divide property jointly held following a pending divorce and one of them called officers to settle a dispute which had developed between them. This was at the home of Don Motz, and he was not aware that officers had been called until they had arrived, Wilson said. An Assistant Police Chief was on the premises and when he called for assistance, Chief Don Falcon came.

Motz claims that a charge was made against him for speeding and evading an officer based on an incident, which he has no knowledge of, said to have taken place a couple of weeks earlier and involving his 1934 Ford. No warrant or citation was ever issued to him, he said.

Motz has been cited for disorderly conduct and will be tried by the Municipal Court of Helotes on Tuesday, August 9, 1983, with Judge Barbara Galland presiding. The prosecuting attorney, Mary Nell Maloney, however, has resigned and no new one has been appointed. In her absence, the City Attorney will be available to preside.

In an interview outside the meeting, Officer Falcon said that he is also intimidated by the citizen due to constant surveillance. Motz had also stated that the officer spends undue hours riding by his house. Officer Falcon said that this is necessary as Motz lives on a street with many houses and he has to pass it to patrol past other homes.

The City Council then went into executive session with Councilmen Reudy Loeffler, Pat Wootton, and Leonard Hill in attendance. They

Seven Join Police Force In July

Upon the recommendation of Police Chief Don Falcon and Councilman Pat Wootton, in charge of the police department, the Helotes City Council, which had authorized a reserve police force of 10 deputies, named seven new members to the force to serve with a nominal fee and without salary.

They are Martin Alvarado, Paul Bryostek, James Jenkins, Gabe Weaver, David Weaver, Camilo Hernandez and John Shanks. The approval took place at the July 8 regular meeting of the Council and by unanimous vote at the call of Mayor Frank Thompson. The previous limit had been five reserve officers. All reserve officers have met standards of training, according to Councilman Wootton.

Families Needed

Families are needed to provide temporary care for abused infants, preschoolers, young school aged children and teenagers. An information meeting will be held for interested families and individuals on Wednesday, August 10 at 7 p.m. at 700 Steves, San Antonio. Call the Texas Department of Human Resources at 533-3161 for more information.

She is survived by her husband, Thomas, two daughters, Martha and Susan, and her mother, Antonette Strok, of Chicago.

Besides being active in her church, Mrs. Brannon was associated with the accounting firm of Woodrow B. Elley.

Mr. Ledford Dies At 89

James D. Ledford of Grey Forest died Monday, July 18, in a San Antonio hospital. He had been in a nursing home for several months. He would have been 90 years old on Sept. 8.

Mr. Ledford will be cremated and his remains sent to Coleman, Texas, for burial at a private graveside service. No local service will be held.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Emma Lou Johnson of Lemon Grove, Calif., two grandchildren and two sisters. A brother preceded him in death.

Mr. Ledford had been a well driller in the El Paso area in earlier years.

reported that no action was taken. The other two Councilmen were not present.

In the treasurer's report given earlier by Ginger Echterhoff, the City showed a balance of $14,096.26 on July 1 and had $11,285.09 on hand as of July 19, 1983. Expenditures amounted to $6,390.79 with the larger amounts being $3,009.00 for insurance and $1,053.00 for legal/professional services. The revenues of $3,579.62 included over $2700 for sales tax and tax and franchise amounts of over $600.

The City Council authorized the Police Dept. to buy used Radar equipment for traffic control.

Mayor Thompson presented several certificates of merit to citizens, including one to Dr. Bob Demski and Doug Echterhoff for outstanding contributions of time and effort.

The next meeting will be held at 7 p.m. August 4, at the PARC Building, said Mayor Thompson.

Al and Nita Wanke of University Hills have returned from a vacation trip that took them first to Oklahoma City to visit with Al's brother, Ted Wanke, and on to South Dakota, where they saw the Mount Rushmore Monument, the Needles of the Dakota Badlands, and other points of interest. They returned home via the Teton and Yellowstone National Parks.

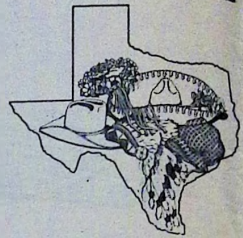

Mrs. Joe Summers of Helotes Park Estates and her sister vacationed in Seattle, Wash., and Vancouver and Victoria, British Columbia, Canada. They were very impressed with Mount Rainier and the beauty of Victoria.

Andrew Gillis of Boston, Mass. is spending the summer in McNeel Park with his father, John L. Gillis, and Mrs. Gillis. Mrs. Gillis has just returned from vacationing in Atlanta, Ga. with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hammond.

MANY HATS—The various traditions which make up Texas' rich heritage come to life at the annual Texas Folklife Festival sponsored by The University of Texas Institute of Texan Cultures at San Antonio. One symbol of the state's cultural diversity is the many different hats worn by Festival participants. Depicted here are the cowboy stetson, Mexican sombrero, pioneer bonnet, Indian headdress and Polish garland. Participants representing more than 30 ethnic and cultural groups will come together to share their customs with Festival visitors August 4-7.

Health authorities must keep a record of communicable diseases. Legal protection is provided where the reporting source has given this information through part of the new act.

A person may telephone the information and all of the statistics will be forwarded to the Texas Department of Health.

Aids in Texas is now being monitored by the Bureau of Epidemiology. Figures show there were 3 cases in 1981, 14 in 1982, and 20 so far in 1983.

IH-10 To Get Twelve New Ramps

Work has begun on improvements to IH-10 ramps from De Zavala Road to Leon Creek.

Twelve entrance and exit ramps will be built. Some existing ramps will be relocated while others will be re-aligned. The present two-way frontage roads will become one-way roads.

Work will begin at Leon creek, where two bridges will require widening. Crews will set concrete median barriers and prepare the existing bridge decks for widening.

Project completion is expected in late February, 1984. It will provide safer, easier, more direct ingress and egress to I-10.

The improvements are part of long range cooperative planning between the University of

After several weeks of danger on a local street where Cross XD and Bar D Trails meet, and consultation of all factors, the City Road Committee and City Council authorized emergency street repairs and contracted to have the work done at $450.

SAN ANGELO—Grazing management concurrent sessions are expected to be a key attraction when the International Ranchers Roundup (IRR) convenes August 1-5 at the San Angelo Convention Center.

'Best Ranch In Texas' Competition To Return

The Moorhouse Ranch at Benjamin will defend not one but two titles during the 1983 Texas Ranch Roundup in Wichita Falls August 19-20. The 40,000-acre ranch lays claim to both the 1982 Ranch Queen, Susan Stephens, and the 1982 Best Ranch in Texas title.

After edging out the Pitchfork Land and Cattle Company and the U Lazy S Ranch teams — both tied at second — by one point last year, the Moorhouse team plans to use the same strategy which has proved successful in the past.

The 12-person ranch team includes eight from the Moorhouse family. Since grandparents, brothers and children all work on the ranch, they are included in the roundup team.

The other ranches facing the Moorhouses at the Mounted Patrol Area in Wichita Falls will include R.A. Brown Ranch, Cowan & Son Circle Bar Ranch, Double U Hereford Ranch, Four Sixes Ranch, Lewis Ranches, Pitchfork Land & Cattle Co., Scharbauer Ranches, Randerbrook-Spade Ranch, Swen R. Swenson Cattle Co., Tongue River Ranch Corporation, U Lazy S Ranch, and the W.T. Waggoner Estate.

In addition to such roundup events as team branding, the ranches will also compete in a ranch cookin' contest and queen and talent contests.

The event will begin Friday night at 7:30 p.m., followed by a country western dance at 9 p.m. Saturday afternoon events include the cooking, talent and queen contests, followed by the evening roundup performance at 7:30 p.m. and the 9 p.m. dance.

Bike-A-Thon Open To All

The Cystic Fibrosis Foundation will hold its Tenth Annual Bike-A-Thon Saturday, August 6, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon at the Koger Executive Center, 4606 Centerview Drive, Sabine Building parking lot.

Anyone able to ride a bicycle is eligible to enter the Bike-A-Thon. Participants will sign up sponsors who pledge to pay a certain amount of money for each mile the rider completes during the event.

All registered riders turning in pledges totaling $30 or more will receive official Bike-A-Thon T-shirts, and each participant turning in $75 or more will receive an LCD quartz digital watch. In addition, five prizes will be awarded to the riders turning in the greatest amount of collected pledges by August 20.

Prizes include an Atari 400 home computer, a Raleigh 10-speed bicycle, a Seiko quartz watch, an AM/FM stereo cassette player and an automatic camera.

Proceeds from the event will support Cystic Fibrosis research and treatment. The number one genetic killer of children in this country, CF affects the lungs and digestive system of its young victims. One in every 20 Americans is a symptomless carrier of the CF gene. There is no test to identify carriers of this always fatal disease.

Entry forms for the Tenth annual Bike-A-Thon are available through the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation office (732-1241), most bicycle shops and local YMCAs.

John Karger, the executive director of Last Chance Forever, Inc., a rehabilitation program for injured and orphaned birds of prey, will introduce youngsters first-hand to several live specimens of predatory birds living in the San Antonio area. Participants will learn how to identify various birds, learn where they live, some of their habits and why some birds are on the verge of becoming extinct.

All roads will lead to Castroville on Sunday, August 21, when the nearby community celebrates the 101st St. Louis Day, with a barbecue, dancing, and varied other entertainments — including visiting with friends and family members.

Castroville To Host 101st St. Louis Day

Castroville Alsations have loved good food and drink since the town was settled some 139 years ago.

Today, Castrovillians are still ardent feasters and hosts as proven by the famous St. Louis Day Celebration that townfolks put on each year to feed and entertain thousands of visitors from far and wide. The famed "granddaddy" of all one-day church festivals celebrates its one hundred and first birthday this year.

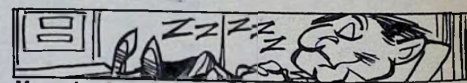

"The Little Alsace of Texas" expects to host from 12-15 thousand folks from all across the nation at this year's "Homecoming for the State of Texas," slated for Sunday, August 21.

Each year the townsfolk prepare a giant Alsatian-sausage and barbecue meal, complete with trimmings and desserts. This year's meal will be served from 11 a.m. till 3 p.m., followed by an afternoon dance from 3 to 7, in air-conditioned Koenig Park Hall, with music by The Abbey.

Plates-to-go are also available. Advance meal tickets can be purchased at the regular $3.75 ticket price. Send check or money order to St. Louis Day Celebration, Box 500, Castroville, TX 78009.

Alsatian family recipes will be featured at the country store, and country items and primitive antiques at the afternoon auction, beginning at 1 p.m. Craft and game booths, live entertainment, as well as numerous food and drink booths will be scattered throughout the tree-shaded park to entertain and satisfy visitors all afternoon long.

Pedestrian Hits Car

On July 13 at about 9:20 p.m., a family quarrel which developed into a vehicle-pedestrian accident tied up traffic on Scenic Loop Road near John Wagner for more than an hour.

Investigators reported that apparently a wife had jumped out of her husband's car near that location when an argument developed. She saw an oncoming car and apparently attempted to stop it. She reportedly stepped in front of the car and struck the hood from which she was thrown to the pavement when the driver came to an abrupt halt.

EMS was summoned and worked with her until she regained consciousness. According to witnesses, this was a period of intensive care for the Emergency Medical Technicians.

A resident of Grey Forest, the woman refused hospitalization. The driver of the vehicle is a resident of Scenic Loop Road and his car was not reported damaged. His quick thinking, however, probably saved a life. Fortunately, the superstitious would say, it was Wednesday and not Friday, the 13th.

Sheep Scrapie

USDA reported on June 30, 1983 that their veterinarians are now tracing bloodlines to locate and destroy sheep that have been exposed to scrapie, a slow-acting but highly fatal disease of sheep and goats. In the past, USDA has been destroying entire flocks when an infected animal was found. It is hoped that bloodlines of infected animals can be traced, and only those sheep associated with that bloodline destroyed. (MAJOR NEWS RELEASES AND SPEECHES, June 24-July 1, 1983, p. 24)

NEWS Of Education

The good news for the non-college-bound student is the advancement opportunities available in consumer electronics.

What courses will best contribute to success in this growing field?

Specifically, one should sign up for math, basic electricity and basic electronics, as well as courses in the language and use of calculators and computers. Technical courses are also valuable in that they develop both manual dexterity and machine tool know-how, point out the electronics experts at the Electronic Industries Association.

Also, drafting courses will develop an appreciation of spatial relationships, physical characteristics and logical procedures. It's also advisable that after class one participate in a school science or radio club.

There are numerous career opportunities in the field of consumer electronics.

A free brochure on a career in consumer electronics is available by writing to: Electronic Industries Association, Consumer Electronics Group, Dept. N, 2001 Eye Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20006.

Information about your changing telephone service from Jim Reed, Division Manager-Residence Services

Hello, may I introduce myself?

This is a time of significant changes for Southwestern Bell and for the entire telecommunications industry. We are restructuring our business because of industry changes, and the results will affect everyone — customers, shareowners and employees alike.

I'm your local Southwestern Bell community representative, and I will be using this column to help keep you informed of these changes and their impact on you and your telephone service. It will be my job to tell you of our plans and oversee the quality of telephone service in the area.

Naturally, you'll continue to call the Business Office with questions about your bill or our Repair Bureau to get your phone line fixed.

But if you have any comments or questions you want our company to be aware of, please feel free to drop me a note anytime. My address is listed at the end of the column.

Rate request filed June 24

By now you've probably read about the company's rate request for $1.7 billion.

How did we come up with that figure? Why is this request so much larger than previous rate filings? In this column, I hope to provide some answers for you.

Local rates subsidized by long distance

If somebody else were to pick up half your lunch check, what would you say? Probably, thank you. But what if they started paying half of all your meals? At some point it would be human nature to start taking them for granted. Our situation is similar.

You've been paying an average of $11 a month for something that costs about $29 a month: residence telephone service.

Long distance and other services have been picking up the difference. This came about because the company wanted to keep local service as cheap as possible. That way everyone could afford to have a phone. And as long as Southwestern Bell operated as one big system, this worked fine.

But with recent government rulings, things have changed.

Southwestern Bell can't continue to subsidize local rates with the money we make on optional services. As Paul Roth, vice president of revenues and public affairs, said in a recent press conference, "Local rates no longer can hide behind long distance, because we're just about out of the long distance business." For the most part, the long distance business is going to other carriers like AT&T and MCI. And, we're virtually out of the customer equipment business. As a consequence, local rates must go up...substantially.

Three main components make up rate request

Basically, the company's request for local rates can be divided into three parts:

- The company is requesting an increase of $502 million statewide to recover the costs of doing business, and to produce a fair return on Texas investment.
- We're asking for an increase of $450 million in depreciation expense and other capital recovery changes that is more consistent with today's technological changes.
- The company is seeking $249 million in access charges to partially replace the subsidy provided by intrastate long distance revenues to local rates. The filing also proposes additional charges of $504 million to intercity carriers such as AT&T and MCI.

Lower cost options due later this year

We are concerned about how these increases will affect our customers... particularly those on fixed incomes. That's why we're researching several lower priced offerings as alternatives to flat-rate unlimited service.

Under such offerings, customers would pay for each call made, but the monthly rate for most would be substantially less than unlimited service.

With local rates rising to meet costs, it doesn't make sense for all customers to pay the same flat rate no matter how much or little they use their line. People who use less should pay less. This is no different than rates charged for other utility services.

For further information and background about the rate filing, send for our free booklet, "Telecommunications Changes and the Cost of Telephone Service." Address requests to: Rate Request Booklet, Southwestern Bell, P.O. Box 225265, Dallas, Texas 75265.

INTS FOR HOMEOWNERS

SHINGLE WARRANTIES: THEY'RE NOT ALL THE SAME

Differences can be interesting...but when you're a homeowner buying fiber glass shingles for your roof, the difference in the warranties on those shingles really warrants your interest.

A recent survey of fiber glass shingle warranties conducted by Owens-Corning Fiberglas Corp. revealed some startling differences in the liabilities that six leading shingle manufacturers assume under a 20-year warranty.

"Even though the warranties are of equal duration," said Fred Franklin, marketing manager for Owens-Corning's Residential Roofing Operating Division, "various exceptions and stipulations in the warranty agreements limit the manufacturer's responsibility for replacing damaged shingles. And because warranties are dynamic agreements, with liability depending upon the age of the roof, it is extremely important for homeowners to check with the manufacturer, contractor or roofing supply dealer on the warranty's limitations before making a purchase."

The best warranty seems to be one that replaces shingles at current cost.

Pro-rating:

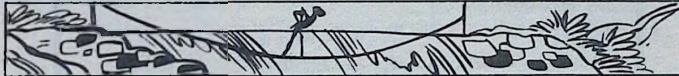

The Essential Ingredient

All manufacturers pro-rate their warranties, deducting part of the cost of shingles for each month the shingles are actually in service. However, the best warranty is the one that replaces shingles at current cost, and protects the homeowner against any future increase in the price of labor and materials. Owens-Corning, for example, offers a warranty which is pro-rated according to replacement costs, including both labor and materials. At the other extreme, some shingles manufacturers cover replacement based on original cost or at a predetermined flat rate that is reduced every month for the length of the warranty period.

Thus, if shingles were to fail fifteen years into the warranty, the manufacturer's liability would not cover the cost of replacement at current prices. A predetermined flat rate warranty or one based on original cost could leave the homeowner responsible for a much larger portion of the replacement cost. None of the manufacturer's warranties covers flashing or metalwork, damage from acts of God, application failure or shading differences.

This sort of warranty information can be as useful to the builder or contractor as it can to the homeowner himself. For the seller with the best warranty can show the prospective homebuyer or homeowner the advantages of that document in dollars and cents.

Mural Design Artist Needed For Hemisfair

The San Antonio Business Committee for the Arts is conducting a statewide search to identify a design for a mural to be placed on the outer wall of the HemisFair arena in downtown San Antonio. The competition is being unwritten by Target Stores, a division of the Dayton Hudson Corporation. A $7,500 award will be presented to the Texas artist whose work is selected by a panel of experts. The mural actually will be applied to the wall surface by a professional sign painter.

The portion of the Arena wall chosen as the site for the two-dimensional mural addresses HemisFair Plaza. The City of San Antonio currently is launching an extensive revitalization project designed to transform the plaza into a lively urban park. The completed mural, measuring up to 5,400 feet, will be one of the focal points of the park.

The jurors for the competition are: Annette DiMeo Carozzi, curator, Laguna Gloria Art Museum, Austin; Mel Casas, representative, Fine Arts Commission, City of San Antonio, and chairman, Art Department, San Antonio College; Daryl Engel, representative, Department of Planning, City of San Antonio; Tom Livesay, assistant director for administration, Dallas Museum of Art; Marti Mayo, curator, Contemporary Arts Museum, Houston; Nancy Pressly, curator San Antonio Museum of Art; and Fred Tidwell, chairman, Fine Arts Commission, City of San Antonio.

Deadline for entries in the competition is August 31. For information, contact the Business Committee for the Arts, 306 North Presa, San Antonio, Texas 78205, (512) 224-8031.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Mikel Mark 40th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Mikel in 1943

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Mikel in 1983

The children of H. A. "Mike" and Cleta Mikel will honor their parents on Sunday, August 7, 1983 with a party in the afternoon marking the couple's fortieth wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Mikel were married in San Antonio on August 10, 1943, during World War II.

His bride Cleta Pearl Beard, a native of Enid, Oklahoma, had moved to San Antonio as a small child and grew up there. Mike was born in Peru, Kansas, and reared in Arizona. He was stationed in San Antonio in the Army Air Corps when they met at a USO dance. After two years, they set the wedding date and he received orders to go to Florida 18 hours after the wedding ceremony. Two months later, he shipped out to the war zone in the South Pacific.

The Mikels have four children, Mike (Mickey) Mikel of Fremont, California; Bob Mikel of Pipe Creek, Texas; Denise Mikel Schulze, of Green River, Wyoming; and Melody Mikel McEntire, now residing in Grey Forest.

Mike and Cleta Mikel moved into the Scenic Loop Playground of Helotes 23 years ago when their sons and daughters were growing up. They took an active part in the community and Mike was active in the incorporation of the Playground into the City of Grey Forest in the 1960's. He served as road commissioner and was a Councilman for several terms. He was employed in civil service and is a building contractor and local property owner.

The Mikels have one granddaughter, their first grandchild, and seven grandsons, ranging in age from 14 years to one month.

The community joins in wishing this civic-minded couple congratulations on this happy occasion. The celebration is planned to take place in Grey Forest.

During the American Revolution, many brides did not wear white wedding gowns; they wore red as a symbol of rebellion.

Washington wants to know

By Burton H. Press, D.D.S.

Congress is now considering legislation proposed by the Administration that would, for the first time, impose a tax on a portion of the health care insurance coverage employees receive as fringe benefits from their employers.

If enacted, this legislation would have a detrimental effect on the nation's health and would not control the high cost of health care.

The American Dental Association strongly opposes any tax on the health of the American people.

In addition to this fundamental concern, the Association's objections to this particular plan focus on three more shortcomings of the proposal:

1. The tax will not have a significant effect on other elements of the health care sector which are most inflationary, such as hospital costs.

2. The tax will threaten the availability of preventive, cost-efficient benefits such as dental prepayment. 3. The tax will not raise projected revenues due to expected benefit shifting, with employees trading health benefits for non-taxed fringe benefits.

Under current law, employer contributions to employee health benefit plans are not taxed.

Under the Administration's plan, employees with families would be taxed on the amount of employer contributions for health benefits exceeding $175 per month in 1984; for individuals, the benefit ceiling or "cap" would be $70 per month in the first year. By treating employer contributions as taxable employee income, the amounts would also be subject to Social Security Tax payments.

The plan would have a negative impact upon the nation's oral health. Years of progress in combating oral disease, progress directly linked to the growth of dental prepayment plans, may yield to years of deteriorating oral health.

The bill is known as H.R. 2574 in the House of Representatives and as S. 640 in the Senate. Many people are writing their legislators about it at the House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. 20515 and the U.S. Senate, Washington, D.C. 20510.

Dr. Press is the President of the 140,000 member American Dental Association.

Voting For Olympic Wear Requested

The Western And English Manufacturers Association (WAEMA) is urging Americans to cast their votes for the apparel to be worn by the U.S. team in opening ceremonies of the 1984 Summer Olympics in Los Angeles.

For the first time, fellow countrymen will select the official attire for the 700-member U.S. team. The winning outfit will be worn during the parade of nations which kicks off the Olympics on July 28, 1984.

Americans can vote for their favorite style—Western, Active or Classic—at participating retailers across the nation. Voting is being sponsored by Levi Strauss & Co., a member of WAEMA and official outfitter for the U. S. Olympic team and 1984 Olympics.

Balloting runs from July 1-September 30, 1983.

Colorful displays of the outfits and ballot boxes are at all participating retailers, including department stores, specialty shops and Western wear outlets.

The three competing outfits are all in American flag colors—red, white and blue. The Western outfit features denim jacket, Western hat by Resistol, western boots, red scarf, and striped knit shirt with white jeans for men and culottes for women athletes. In the Active category, the outfit includes a two-piece jogging suit, visor cap and sports shoes. The third outfit, Classic, offers red blazer, plaid shirt, white slacks and skirt, with loafer-style footwear.

When Americans pick their favorite, their ballots will also serve as entries in a sweepstakes drawing, with two grand prizes valued at $25,000 each, including an exclusive behind-the-scenes tour of the Summer Olympics and a complete wardrobe.

In addition, there are 20 first prizes of official Olympics wardrobes worth $2,000 each, and 100 second prizes of official Olympic Parade uniforms valued at $750 each.

"We are excited about WAEMA member participation in the Olympic games, and in outfitting the U.S. team as well as the thousands of officials and support personnel," said WAEMA's executive director Sylvia Kornelsen.

WAEMA is a national trade association of companies that manufacture or distribute Western and English apparel and tack.

HEAT STROKE AND HEAT EXHAUSTION

By Terry Vincent, M.D.

When the thermometer hovers around 100°, we'd best consider the effects of prolonged exposure to these high temperatures. Three totally different reactions can result from getting too hot for too long. Heat stroke is a serious emergency that can result in convulsions and death or permanent brain damage if not promptly treated. Heat exhaustion, also known as heat prostration, is sharply different from heat stroke. And then there are the painful but relatively harmless heat cramps. All three reactions to prolonged heat exposure have the same basic cause: dehydration. This usually takes place from excessive sweating, but vomiting or diarrhea may also cause profound fluid loss. Strenuous exertion is most commonly a factor, but a lot of oldsters keel over just sitting around a hot, poorly ventilated room when the humidity is high—particularly if they have a chronic illness.

Heat cramps are due to excessive loss of salt from the body by profuse sweating during strenuous activity on hot days (or in a hot working environment). The onset is abrupt with severe pain and spasm incapacitating the hands and feet. The muscles of the arms and legs, and even the abdomen, may then become involved. Heat cramps are easily prevented and also rapidly relieved by taking sodium chloride, ordinary salt, in either liquid or tablet form. So, if you can predict strenuous activity on a hot day that will produce a lot of sweating, take your salt tablets first.

Heat exhaustion, or prostration, gives adequate warning of its onset by increasing fatigue, weakness, an uneasy feeling, and drenching sweats. The skin becomes cold, pale, and clammy, and the body temperature is below normal. Next, the bottom drops out of the circulation with very low blood pressure, thready pulse, and mental confusion. The next stage is unconsciousness. The patient who gives a history of heat exposure and excessive fluid loss (or inadequate intake) should be placed flat or with the head lowered, and small amounts of cool, slightly salty fluids should be given orally every few minutes until the patient recovered. This will usually take care of it, but very severe cases may need intravenous fluid.

Heat stroke, by contrast, is a life-threatening emergency. The key signs are the absence of sweating, dry skin, and rapidly-climbing body temperature to 104° and above. The patient feels as if he is burning up. The pulse rate doubles, but the blood pressure is seldom affected. Mental confusion precedes unconsciousness or convulsions. Unless properly treated, a few hours of this can cause permanent brain damage and death. So, if the victim demonstrates a hot, dry, flushed skin, high body temperature, and rapid pulse, this represents a serious emergency, and heroic measures should be instituted immediately. If distant from a hospital, the victim should be wrapped in wet bedding, immersed in a lake or stream or even cooled with ice while awaiting transportation. But, here's a warning: The temperature should be taken every ten minutes and not allowed to fall below 101° F. Heat stroke can be converted to something called hypothermia, where the bottom drops out of the temperature-regulating mechanism and plunges the patient to dangerously low body temperature. Under any circumstances, hospitalization is mandatory where exact control measures can be instituted.

Indian Guides Will Hold Reunion

A reunion on August 20, 21 will be held at the YMCA's Camp Flaming Arrow, for all Indian Guides, past, present and future, of the Northwest YMCA in San Antonio.

"Anyone who has previously been in the Indian Guide or Indian Princess program, who is now in the program, or who would like to be in the program is encouraged to make reservations," a spokesman said.

The campout begins at noon on Saturday, August 20 and extends to noon on Sunday, August 21.

The Indian Guide programs are parent/child programs for father-son, father-daughter, mother-son, or mother-daughter pairs. The program's purpose is the development of companionship between parent and child as the parent participate together with their children in meaningful activities such as campouts, tribal meetings, banquets, craft projects and more.

"This reunion campout is movement will be found in the exhibition, "American Abstract Expressionist Painting," on loan from the collection of the Sara Campbell Blaffer Foundation, Houston. The exhibition will be on view at the San Antonio Museum of Art through October 2.

At the beginning of World War II, the dominant painting style of the United States was social realism and regionalism. But with the arrival to America of many European artists leaving their war-torn countries, with Europe's energy sapped by the long war and with little new work coming from the previously dominant School of Paris, there was room for progressive American artists to assert themselves.

Taking inspiration from both the geometric orderliness of Cubism and the surrealists' fanciful expression of the unconscious, these practitioners of a new movement turned their energy inward, focusing forcefully and efficiently on personal experience. And, most importantly, they concentrated on the physical act of painting.

Jackson Pollock's 1943 one-man show in New York City became symbolic of the new wave of painting, prompting Willem de Kooning to acknowledge "Jackson broke the ice for us." By dripping and splattering paint on huge canvases spread on the floor, Pollock was the most controversial figure in a movement that was also termed "Action Painting" because of the physical involvement that is the trademark of these works. Pollock, and the other painters in this school, exploited the discovery that the bare materials of painting, as well as the act of painting itself, could become the subject matter and could be used to express emotion.

Along with Pollock and de Kooning, other leaders in the movement who are represented in this exhibition include Robert Motherwell, William Bazotes, Philip Guston, Hans Hoffmann, Franz Kline, Lee Krasner, Mark Rothko and Clyfford Still.

Younger artists who followed in the stylistic footsteps of the founders of abstract painting in America have been termed the "Second Generation" of Abstract Expressionism. Such painters on view in the Blaffer Collection include Sam Francis, Robert Goodnough, Helen Frankenthaler, Grace Hartigan and Joan Mitchell.

The San Antonio Museum of Art is located at 200 West Jones Avenue. Hours are 10 a.m. — 6 p.m., Tuesdays through Sundays. Admission is $2 for adults, $1 for children under 12 and free on weekends until noon.

GIVE YOUR HOME A SAFETY CHECK

Being aware of some simple and inexpensive ways to avoid the dangers of burglary and fire can mean safety. Use this summer safety quiz to help you. Put a check in the boxes for "yes." Circle the boxes for "no" and take appropriate action.

☐ Are you careless during summer about leaving doors and windows open, inviting unexpected and unwanted "visitors?"

☐ Has your house sprouted a new generation of youngsters who'll be handling potentially dangerous garden equipment?

☐ Your spring cleaning may have reduced some household risks but did you leave any rags, solvents or gasoline around, posing potential dangers?

☐ Have you checked the wiring on ceiling and attic fans for possible "shorts?" Trace the wiring for breaks, too.

☐ Have you cleaned your gas barbecue grill thoroughly after winter?

☐ Do you ever clean anything with gasoline...an absolute taboo for home safety?

☐ Are you conscientious about closing car windows, locking doors and removing keys—even when your car is parked in the driveway?

☐ Have shrubs and foundation plantings been trimmed back to prevent a burglar from hiding in them, waiting until you leave the house?

☐ Have you taken the time to replace light bulbs for all outdoor fixtures, eliminating poorly lit and shadowed areas of the yard?

Roadrunners To Begin Third NCAA Season

Entering its third year in NCAA intercollegiate competition, The University of Texas at San Antonio Roadrunner basketball team will look to break into the winning season column with eight lettermen and three starters returning next year.

UTSA compiled a 10-17 record in 1982-83 and was 8-19 in its first season in 1981-82. The Roadrunners, one of the NCAA's newest Division I programs, have set their goal above the .500 mark for the first time against a stiff schedule in 1983-84.

Leading the way for UTSA next season will be Derrick Gervin (6-8 SO F), who led the Birds in scoring and rebounding last year at 13.9 and 7.1 per game. Gervin, whose brother is George Gervin of the San Antonio Spurs, broke seven UTSA school records during his freshman season, including most points in a single game. He scored 28 points against Lamar University in his first game as a collegian last season. He also set records for most points and rebounds in a season and most rebounds in a single game (14).

Another big key for UTSA will be Rick Doyle (6-10 240 SR C). Doyle was second in scoring and rebounding for UTSA during his first year at 11.3 and 6.0 respectively. He will be counted on to provide the inside scoring and rebounding punch which he displayed at the end of last season. Doyle transferred to UTSA from Saddleback JC in Mission Viejo, Calif. a year ago.

Other returnees, include Ike Thornton (8.4 ppg), a 6-4 JR guard who has started the majority of UTSA's games during the first two seasons. Thornton is the Roadrunner's all-time leader in scoring and provides a lift from the outside with his soft left-handed jumper. Also, John Stiver (6-9 SO F), 5.8 ppg; Robert Wallace (6-0 JR G), 4.3 ppg; Scott McKoin (6-5 JR G), 3.6 ppg; Alden Wren (6-2 SR G), 2.5 ppg; and Tim Gabrish (6-10 SO C), 1.9 ppg will be back next year.

The Roadrunner's schedule for next year includes a 15 game home schedule combined with a grueling road slate. UTSA will begin Season No. 3 with road trips to Southwest Conference schools, Rice, TCU and Baylor. A two-game trip to California to play Southern California and California State-Fullerton and participation in only its second-ever holiday tournament, the All-College Tourney in Oklahoma City, will highlight UTSA's action in December.

UTSA Gets New Coach

Don Evans, who has been the girl's basketball coach at San Antonio Robert E. Lee High School the past five years, has been named assistant women's basketball coach at The University of Texas at San Antonio, it was announced by UTSA Director of Athletics Rudy Davalos.

Evans will join the UTSA staff effective Sept. 1.

A leader in girl's basketball in San Antonio and in the State of Texas, Evans led Lee High School to a 129-35 overall record the last five years. He took his team to the state class 5-A semi-finals in 1980-81 with a 30-4 record. His teams have won three consecutive district titles and two San Antonio city championships the last three seasons.

During his five years at Lee, Evans' players have won three All-State awards, two All-Region awards, seven All-City and 13 All-District honors. Rhonda Hoffman, an All-State point guard for Evans at Lee last season, will join him at UTSA next season.

Evans was named "Coach of the Year" by the San Antonio Express-News and the San Antonio Light in 1982-83. He has been selected for "Coach of the year" honors by several publications during the last three seasons.

After Two Big Years, Lady Roadrunners Better

The University of Texas at San Antonio's most successful athletic team in its brief two-year history has been the Lady Roadrunner basketball team. After producing winning seasons in both years, UTSA now will look toward trying to make the NCAA playoffs for the first time ever during the 1983-84 season.

Coming off a 17-10 record in 1982-83, the Lady Roadrunners have been one of the surprise teams in women's basketball in the State of Texas. Wins over top teams like SMU, Rice, North Texas State and UT Arlington led the team close to the NCAA playoffs. However, narrow losses to Houston, Texas Tech, Lamar and UT Austin prevented them from making the playoffs for the second time. UTSA was 16-11 in their first season in 1981-82.

UTSA's pathway into the NCAA playoffs could come from a possible automatic bid by winning the championship of the Oil Country Athletic Conference (OCAC) tournament next season. The OCAC is the NCAA's newest Division I women's athletic conference, and UTSA is one of the charter members, along with UT El Paso, Hardin-Simmons, West Texas State, Oklahoma City and Oral Roberts.

Margaret Martinovich, a 6-1 junior center, will again be the main stalwart leading the Lady Roadrunners in their third season of intercollegiate play. Martinovich joined the UTSA program prior to its first season in 1981-82. She has since become the school's all-time leading scorer and rebounder. She also holds 10 school single game and season records. Martinovich led UTSA in scoring (17.4) and rebounding (9.1) last season also.

UTSA returns only three players from last year's 17-10 squad. However, the trio of Martinovich, Valerie Wells and Kim Maxwell, were the team's top three scorers and rebounders. Wells, a 5-11 senior power forward from Amarillo, Texas, averaged 13.9 points and 6.9 rebounds per game. Maxwell, 5-10, who plays the off-guard spot, dropped in 12.1 points and grabbed 5.5 rebounds per game.

Key losses were point guard Shelley Seale, who had 296 assists in her two years; Denise Fritzt, a top rebounder and starting center; reserve guard Linda McReynolds, and back-up forward Marsha Holt.

Highlights of 1983-84 Lady Roadrunner schedule include games with all but three Southwest Conference teams and home-and-home contests against the five members of the Oil Country Athletic Conference.

UTSA will host Houston, Texas Tech, Texas A&M and Rice in the Convocation Center next year and will play UT Austin and Baylor on the road.

Also on the schedule are home contests with Southwest Missouri State, Sam Houston State, Southwest Texas State, Southwestern University and St. Mary's University of San Antonio.
