Mrs. Florine Hartman of Scenic Loop Road in Grey Forest has been appointed assistant editor of Texas Secretary, official publication of the Texas Educational Secretaries Association.

Florine has been a Northside School District educational secretary for 16 years and is past president of the Northside Educational Secretaries Association. She currently works in the district headquarters for Associate Superintendent Terry McGuire.

Ben and Phyllis Havens hosted a fifth birthday party for their daughter, Elizabeth, on Aug. 21. Twenty-two family members attended and shared ice cream and three birthday cakes.

A very special guest was Arlie Randall Boultinghouse, Jr., 18-day-old cousin of Elizabeth. Randy slept through the festivities but Elizabeth was so proud to have a little cousin there—along with her big cousins, Melanie, Jamie, Julie and Jackie Schick.

Marie Maddox, Vocational Supervisor for the Northside School District—and formerly Marshall High teacher—has been selected as the Outstanding Teacher of Vocational Office Education in Texas for 1979. The award is presented annually by the Texas Vocational Office Education Teachers Association.

Anne Golden and Alice Browning, sisters, will be hostesses for a joint celebration of the birthdays of their husbands, John Golden and Kenneth Browning, at a family birthday supper at the Brownings' river cabin near Rio Medina, on Saturday, Sept. 8. Also to be honored at the event, for a belated birthday, is their brother, Edward Kempf. Plenty of good food, fishing and swimming are expected to be enjoyed by the young and old.

On the Set with Sara Stimson

Shown, in a scene from the forthcoming "Little Miss Marker", are the stars, Walter Matthau, Julie Andrews and Helotes' own Sara Stimson, who plays the title role.

Last Wednesday, they appeared on Channel 12 and national TV on the new evening PM News Magazine, while on the set at Santa Rosa in California. Sara's Mother, Dana, was also interviewed and she reported that Sara appears happy in the role of a child actress, except that she misses her friends in Helotes. A couple of weeks ago, Sara was here and enjoyed a visit with her grandparents, Col. and Mrs. O. C. Oye, longtime residents of Helotes.

"Little Miss Marker" was practically rewritten and is directed by Walter Bernstein. It is being produced by Universal Studios. Sara now lives in Northridge, Calif. and is busy finishing up scenes. The picture is due to be released about March, 1980.

AACOG In Money Crunch, But Hopes For Survival

The Alamo Area Council of Governments is facing a temporary financial crises due to the three serious but unrelated fiscal occurrences over the past two years. Grey Forest is a member of the council.

AACOG is currently negotiating with the Environmental Protection Agency to recover $65,000 which was spent on the 208 planning program over and above the original contract amount. This cost coverage occurred because the program, originally budgeted for two years, has run over four years and just a month ago EPA finally announced its decision to redesignate this area. AACOG submitted its final 208 plan to the Texas Department of Water Resources and EPA on July 1, 1978, but has had to maintain staff to work with these two agencies as they undertook their extensive review and public hearings on the plan. The $65,000 deficit on the 208 program has been run up during this review period.

A second fiscal problem was created when it was discovered in August, 1977, that an AACOG employee had embezzled more than $140,000 from the agency during a four-year period. More than $60,000 of that loss has since been recovered from AACOG's bonding company and from the former employee, and the agency is attempting to obtain the remaining funds by filing a law suit against the band that served as AACOG's depository. AACOG's suit charges the bank with negligence. The former AACOG bookkeeper was convicted of embezzlement and is presently serving a federal prison term.

The most recent fiscal concern came to light in July when AACOG's independent auditors discovered that the agency had refunded $70,000 more than was due to the Metropolitan Planning Organization when the MPO assumed transportation planning responsibilities that had previously been assigned to AACOG. According to the auditors, these were legitimate AACOG expenses on transportation planning that should have been billed to the Urban Mass Transit Administration rather than the money going to the MPO. Since that time, however, the MPO has spent the $70,000 and AACOG is now asking UMTA to assist by reimbursing the funds.

While this combination of unrelated financial problems is causing a serious cash flow problem at the agency, AACOG Executive Director Al Notzon has stated that he feels each is capable of being resolved.

Notzon says he is the first to admit that some mistakes have been made, but he points out that in each case the agency was operating in good faith or was under constraints beyond its control.

Frank Reaugh, shown here in a 1916 photograph, was one of the few West Texas artists to work in pastels. His are, which features studies of wild Longhorn steers, is on display through November 4 in the Lower Gallery at The Institute of Texas Cultures on HemisFair Plaza of downtown San Antonio.

Longhorn Cattle In West Texas 100 Years Ago Shown In Exhibit

More than a century ago artist Frank Reaugh began his career as the only notable West Texas artist to work with pastel chalks.

A collection of 71 of Reaugh's works is on display through November 4 in the Lower Gallery of The Institute of Texas Cultures in San Antonio.

The collection features many of Reaugh's best studies of the Longhorn in its native setting at the peak of its influence, including a seven-part series, "Twenty-Four Hours With the Herd," which he considered to be his artistic highpoint.

Grey Forest Chapel Will Show Two Free Movies

Two new movies portraying events foretold in the Bible as part of the Great Tribulation when Jesus Christ returns will be shown at the Grey Forest Chapel on Sunday, Sept. 9, and Sunday, Sept. 16, beginning at 7 p.m. Admission will be free.

The movie on Sept. 9 will be "A Thief in the Night." It centers around Patty, an average girl caught up in living for the present with little concern about the future. It includes a young man confronted by a deadly Asian cobra, a young girl's daring escape from jail, and a takeover by the Imperium, which regards all who are not properly identified as enemies of the system.

This picture realistically portrays the Biblical prediction that "There will be no place to hide."

The movie on Sept. 16 will be "A Distant Thunder," which takes up where "A Thief in the Night" ended. Patty now is among a large number of people held prisoner because they have not received the Mark of the Beast.

Both movies were produced by Mark IV Pictures of Des Moines, Iowa. "A Thief in the Night" was given the Best Film of the Year Award by the National Evangelical Film Foundation of Valley Forge, Pa. The lead actress, Patty Dunning, was given the Outstanding Female Actress award.

History Group Invites Public

Mayor Pro Tem Ron Lammert of Leon Valley will be the speaker at a meeting of the Historical Society of Leon Valley on Tuesday, Sept. 11, in the Leon Valley Grange Hall, beginning at 7:30 p.m. His topic will be "Who Are the Wendts?"

Lammert, a fourth generation descendant of the Wendish heritage, will tell why and how this ethnic group of 588 Slavic immigrants left their homes in Saxony and Prussia 125 years ago and came to Texas to establish a new colony.

Lammert recently returned from Europe, where he made movies and slides to accompany his presentation.

The public is invited to the meeting, said Ken Alley of the Leon Valley Historical Society.

Marshall Sets Open House

The John Marshall High School Parent-Teacher-Student Association will hold open house Tuesday, Sept. 25, in the Marshall auditorium beginning at 7:30 p.m.

John Marshall's PTSA officers for the 1979-80 school year include Harry Cogburn, president; Mrs. Arlene Miller, first vice president; Mrs. Katie Gross, second vice president; Mrs. Rena Runnels, recording secretary; Mr. Jim Perry, treasurer and legislative chairperson; Mrs. Barbara Galland, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Joyce McDonald, parliamentarian, and Mrs. Patty Coker, historian.

Chairpersons for 1979-80

include: Mrs. Clare Rugh, hospitality; Mrs. Elizabeth Madla, membership; Mrs. Kathryn Flinn, publications; and Mr. Arthur Johnson, publicity.

Three saucy know-it-all maids in Noel Coward's "Fallen Angels," opening tonight at the Church House Dinner Theater, are (top to bottom) Maggie Hardy, Mary Byall and Marsha Guthrie. For dinner and show reservations for future performances, phone 224-4085. The Church House Theater is located at 1150 S. Alamo St. in the King William area.

Edwards Will Dedicate Dam

Recent legislation affecting the Edwards Underground Water District will be reviewed at the regular bi-monthly meeting of the directors at 10 a.m. Tuesday, Sept. 11, in the Meeting Room of the Tower Life Building.

The board will be briefed concerning new tax laws and their long-term effect on the EUWD, Thomas P. Fox, general manager, said.

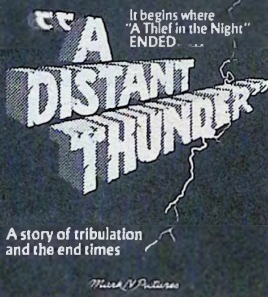

The 15-member board also will receive a progress report on a long-range plan for the district and select a date for the dedication of the San Geronimo flood water retarding structure which should be completed in October.

Congratulations to the new officers of the Catholic Youth Organization unit at Our Lady of Guadalupe Church—Paul Priddy, president; Chris Roberts, vice president; Michele Field, secretary; Maggie Hernandez, treasurer; and Donna Dougherty, historian. They will be installed in office at the 6 p.m. mass on Saturday, Sept. 15.

Festival Assn.

Has New Officers

Jim Benke was unanimously elected to head the Cornyval for 1980 at a regular meeting of the Festival Assn. Sept. 3 at Floore Country Store.

The Helotes Spring Festival chose him to serve as president of the non-profit organization which sponsors the big event during the first week of May here. Executive vice president will be Don Belto. Both were active in last year's successful event.

First vice president will be Guy Williams, outgoing 1979 president who is hosting a party Saturday to thank all those who worked to make his the greatest Cornyval in the series.

Second vice president will be Margaret Stephens, who was this year's parade chairman, third vice-president will be Crystal Skolaut, who also has worked with the organization for several years.

Those wishing to join the organization are invited to do so, and meetings are held once a month to plan the next Cornyval. Membership dues are $2 per person.

All the workers in the 1979 Helotes Spring Festival are invited to the festival association's annual Appreciation Barbecue, Saturday, Sept. 8, beginning at 3 p.m. It will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Williams in Helotes Ranch Acres. Guy is the current president of the association.

Fall Revival

The First Baptist Church of Helotes is having a month-long emphasis for its fall revival. The next four Sundays in September will involve guest ministers speaking around the general theme of "A Search for Renewal," According to Rev. Jerry Reeves.

The ministry of the laity, dealing with personal depletion, enriching the marriage relationship, and resources for renewal will be the specific topics for the four consecutive services.

Chaplains Danny Niedeecken from Bexar County Hospital, Bill Simpson from Northeast Baptist Hospital, and Simm Hassler and Gene Huffstutler from Baptist Memorial Hospital will lead worship and study. Services are 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. each Sunday.

Heap Big Birthday Marked

"Chief Natchua," in ceremonial regalia wearing the headdress of his Indian Chief Cherokee ancestors is better known as Ray Garrison. Usually it is only during the Festival that Ray forgets his Irish ancestry, but for his 61st birthday recently he was honored with a barbecue—an Indian invention. And he was surprised by his portrait—in icing—painted on a birthday cake by Robin Williams. The cake was pronounced excellent—an addition to a real barbecue that any Texan can appreciate. Mr. and Mrs. Ray (Della) Garrison live on Wagner-Menchaca Road, and are active in community organizations. Robin and David Williams of Scenic Loop Road were among the guests. They belong to the young married crowd who are assuming leadership in the community.

Farm Bureau To Meet Oct. 6

It's policy development time in Farm Bureau—the period when members are encouraged to help formulate the organization's policies for the coming year.

Annual meetings will be held in September and October in nearly 3,000 counties across the nation. The annual convention for Bexar County Farm Bureau is set for Oct. 6 at Comanche Park #2 in San Antonio.

Despite better cattle and grain prices of late, many problems are to be solved in agriculture. Most farm program provisions of the Food and Agriculture Act of 1977 are scheduled to expire at the end of the 1981 crop year. Major decisions on whether to extend the current program with minor modifications, or make major changes in the program will be made by members of the House and Senate Agriculture Committees in 1980.

Other national issues include government regulations, inflation, energy, land use planning, agriculture drugs and chemicals, water, transportation, farm labor, to name a few.

Although the land-tax relief enabling legislation approved by the 66th Legislature solved a big problem for most farmers and ranchers, there are still a number of important issues affecting agriculture on the state level. These include interstate compacts, the proposal for the initiative and referendum, reapportionment, farm labor and water among others.

ning agency that is a voluntary association of local governments in a 12-county area. The agency was created in 1968 and currently has 91 governmental units as members. AACOG's funding comes from a combination of member dues, a general state appropriation, and a variety of state and federal grants for specific planning programs. The local dues charged cities and counties are $.03 per capita, the lowest of any COG in Texas and the same amount assessed when the agency was organized 11 years ago.

Nortzon expressed the hope the agency's current fiscal problems will not be used by persons opposed to the concept of regional planning to destroy AACOG's effectiveness. He points out that AACOG has had a long history of successful operation that has resulted in considerable financial savings for its members as well as a clear, comprehensive approach to solving regional problems. He cites EMS, 911, senior citizen nutrition programs, areawide law enforcement training and new equipment, increased park lands and the Edwards Task Force as examples of programs AACOG was directly responsible for.

Cyd Charisse is starring at the Fiesta Dinner Playhouse on Loop 1604 in "Once More With Feeling." A native Texas from Amarillo, Miss Charisse has studied ballet since the age of 8 years and began her career as a ballerina with the famous Ballet Russe. After touring the United States and Europe, she came to California and her first film, "The Ziegfeld Follies." However, it was the show-stopping numbers she danced with Gene Kelly in "Singin' In The Rain" which gave her the co-starring role with Fred Astaire in "The Band Wagon" and again with Kelly in "Brigadoon."

Hidalgos Named

Five members of UTSA's Center for Archaeological Research (CAR) were honored

recently as "Hidalgos de San Antonio de Bejar" by the Bexar County Historical Commission.

Dr. Thomas Hester, director of CAR; Jack Eaton, assistant director; Anne Fox, research associate; and technical staff assistants Jake Ivey and Fred Valdez were given the Spanish nobleman title for their contribution to the preservation of the history of Bexar County, according to Gen. William Harris, chairman of the commission.

Chuck Laenger Gets 'Researcher Of Year' Award

Charles J. (Chuck) Laenger, Sr., of Helotes Ranch Acres, Assistant Director and Senior Rehabilitation Engineer in the Department of Bioengineering of the Southwest Research Institute, has been awarded the designation of "Researcher of the Year" by the Texas Rehabilitation Association.

The award was for a program entitled "Vocational Rehabilitation Engineering Program for Severely Handicapped Individuals," which was conducted in collaboration with the Texas Rehabilitation Commission, Texas State Commission for the Blind and the Veterans Administration.

Twelve severely handicapped individuals were served by this program, and more than half of them were turned to productive and permanent employment. Disabilities of this group included those resulting from spinal cord injury (paraplegics and quadraplegics), neuromuscular disease, birth defects (including dwarfism, brittle bones and cerebral palsy), blindness and various traumatic accidents.

Several of the clients served by this program have been seen on local television programs.

Laenger and the Southwest Research Institute Rehabilitation Engineering group are currently performing engineering and research and development programs for the Veterans Administration Prosthetics Center, Rehabilitation Services Administration, and private insurance companies.

This group has developed a number of devices for patients and disabled persons including: catheter instruments for measuring blood flow to the brain and other anatomical sites, cardiac assist control systems, paper money identifier and bottom margin alarm for the blind, and an electro-mechanical hand for communicating with individuals who are both deaf and blind.

Laenger holds a number of patents and has written for many publications on electronic warfare, medical instrument research, and rehabilitation engineering. He is a registered professional engineer in Texas and Louisiana, and presently is performing consulting rehabilitation engineering work in Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma.

A valuable assistant to him is his wife, Dottie. Dottie Laenger travels to many hospitals, rehabilitation facilities, state schools for retarded people, and professional meetings. She has training and experience as a nurse, and has helped Southwest Research Institute demonstrate new medical and rehabilitation devices in New York, Mexico City, and various sites in Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and New Mexico.

At home the Laengers raise orchids both as a hobby and commercially.

State Sales Up $6 Billion

State Comptroller Bob Bullock said gross sales in Texas for the first quarter of 1979 totaled $48.5 billion, a $6.1 billion increase over the same three-month period last year.

Bullock said a sales tax analysis for Texas during 1978 showed that gross sales in the state exceeded $186 billion.

In the first quarter of 1979, Harris County (Houston) recorded sales totaling $12.4 billion through 41,727 reporting outlets.

Sales reported in the state's other major urban areas include: Dallas County, $7.5 billion; Bexar County, $2.1 billion; and Tarrant County, $3.2 billion.

Dry August Had 1" Rain

The total rainfall during the month of August at the Poor Boy Ranch on Galm Road was exactly one inch, said Henry Brauchle, Helotes weather observer. This was the driest August in ten years, he said.

Highest temperature did not reach 100 degrees on any day, but most days ranged in the low to mid-90's, with mostly high humidity.

Last year, the area had 5.3 inches of rain in August.

The total for the first eight months of this year now is 28 inches, he said.

After a two-week stay in the hospital to let his broken arm mend, James Lancaster is home and attending Helotes Elementary. While he was undergoing surgery at Community Hospital, his grandfather, E. J. Dunford, Sr. was also at the same hospital for surgery. Both are fine. James' great-grand mother, Mrs. C. Sanchez, however, has had to stay a bit longer at Santa Rosa Hospital, where she is recovering from pneumonia. She is the mother of Ella Dunford and grand mother of Carol Lancaster, James' Mother.

At Boysville Auction

Boysville resident Hector Driscoll, 15, gets ready to curry and prepare a donated calf for the boys' once-a-year Charity Livestock Auction at Union Stock Yards, Saturday, Sept. 8, beginning at 8:30 a.m. Fund-raising event is made possible by donors in recognition of Boysville's 36 years of working in trying to raise homeless youngsters into responsible adults and good citizens.

Circus Vargas To Return

The thrill, excitement and magic of the world's largest big top circus will be experienced by thousands of families, when Circus Vargas brings its three-ring extravaganza to the San Antonio area, Sept. 13-17, at South Park Mall.

More than 150 spectacular performers and 100 animals, considered the best in the circus world, will be showcased in the circus 'city' when Circus Vargas raises its one-of-a-kind canvas with the help of their 8,000-pound pachyderms.

Headlining the dazzling all-new 1979 production, directed by impresario Clifford E. Vargas, is Harry Thomas, who thrills audiences, with his 15 majestic but ferocious and unpredictable Bengal tigers, which he has trained using the "affection method".

Other acts including the finest display of equine talent seen anywhere is expertly commanded by John Herriott and family, who fill the three rings with masterful performances by liberty and dressage horses.

And world-renowned elephant trainer Rex Williams, a 35 year veteran at his trade, impressively directs the awesome mammals in their dynamic routines.

Performing high above the awed audience, the foremost flying daredevil acts in the industry, the flying Padillas and the flying Lantonys, demonstrate iron-fisted control as they execute the renowned and extremely difficult triple somersault, strategically choreographed in their remarkable routine.
