Math (Nash)

We will be taking the ILEARN Checkpoint #3 on Thursday. Please make sure your child has a good night's sleep the night before and has a good breakfast! Also, the testing will be in the morning, so please make sure your child is here on time. The rest of the week we will continue our measurement chapter with converting between metric and customary units.

Science (Nash)

We will continue our chapter over genetics learning about recessive vs dominant genes, punnett squares, and pedigrees.

ELA (Baker)

Reading: On Tuesday, the students will have their last ILEARN Checkpoint test. If at all possible, please have them at school by 8:15 am this morning. During the rest of the week, the students will finish their novel A Wrinkle in Time. They will also complete a comparison page, comparing the book with the movie.

English: The students will review capitalization, sentence structure, and verbs this week.

Word Study: Test on Tuesday over #1-20

History (Newton)

Following our lesson on Harriet Tubman, the students will take a closer look at the Underground Railroad and be introduced to Abraham Lincoln as the anti-slavery candidate of 1860. We will also learn about the emergence of two political parties in Washington's administration and begin to study the city of Washington, DC. The students will be tested on the Preamble to the Constitution on Friday.

Bible (Baker)

Bible: We will continue our devotional about the I Ams of Jesus. This week, we will focus on Jesus being the Door, the only way to salvation.

Memory Verse: Study 1 Corinthians 13:3 for the test on Friday. The students should also brush up on verses 1 & 2 since they will also be on the test.
